Red Mortar Attacks Pound Saigon Airport

Two of His Buddies Carry a 1st Infantry Division rifleman who was wounded Monday near Bihn Gia, 40 miles east of Saigon, when the Americans were attacked by a Viet Cong battalion. The wounded man was hit in the leg, but could not be evacuated until Tuesday. An Army spokesman said the rifle company suffered heavy casualties during the savage assault. (AP Wirephoto)

Seven U. S. Servicemen Killed in Attack; B52 Bombing Called Success

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Air Force reported today that the allied air operations and one of first B52 raid on North Viet Nam set off huge landslides which sealed the strategic Mu Gia Pass through which the Communists funnel men and supplies to the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

The report of the B52 success came on the heels of a Viet Cong mortar attack early today on Saigon's huge military and civilian airport which killed seven U.S. servicemen and a Vietnamese civilian, wounded 108 American military men, one American civilian and 19 Vietnamese, destroyed four planes and set a 400,000-gallon fuel tank ablaze.

The airport attack demonstrated once more the power of the Viet Cong to strike at will in the Saigon area with harassing tactics. But operations at the huge installation were not disrupted.

Tuesday Bombing

The fleet of high-level B52s from Guam dropped nearly 1.4 million pounds of explosives Tuesday on the tortuous mountain pass on the Laotian border, 230 miles south of Hanoi, through which men and arms feed into the Ho Chi Minh Trail. It was probably the heaviest bomb load of the war.

An Air Force spokesman said aerial reconnaissance showed the pass was "definitely closed by huge landslides touched off by the thunderous explosions."

As the air war against the north continued today, a U.S. Navy Skyraider jet from the carrier Ticonderago was knocked down by an antiaircraft missile 33 miles south of Vinh. The pilot was listed as missing.

No missiles were sent up against the B52s Tuesday, the spokesman said.

The mortar attack failed to disrupt operations at Tan Son Nhut airport, nerve center of the allied air operations and one of the busiest airfields in the world.

The mortars destroyed two U.S. C123 transport planes and two Vietnamese C47 cargo planes and damaged several helicopters, an F100 Super Sabre Jet fighter and one of the two four-engine Constellations used as relay stations for the U.S.-Vietnamese television system.

Other planes were saved by newly built concrete barriers.

Armed U.S. helicopters took off within minutes after an estimated 25 to 30 Viet Cong began laying down their barrage with two to four mortars at 12:30 a.m.

Mortars Hit

The helicopter gunners thought they hit some of the mortar positions as flares virtually turned the darkness into day.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who also commands the Vietnamese air Force, went aloft in his own helicopter to join the aerial hunt for the raiders. He lives at the heavily guarded installation, and some of the mortar shells

May Have Strayed

Communist Chinese Claim U. S. Warplane Downed on Mainland

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China said today its air force shot down a U.S. warplane over the Red mainland. The U.S. Defense Department admitted a Navy tanker plane is missing, and Pentagon sources said it could have strayed over Chinese territory.

Peking radio claimed Chinese fighters downed an A3B heavy attack plane Tuesday on the Luichow Peninsula of Kwangtung Province, which faces North Viet Nam across the Gulf of Tonkin.

The Pentagon announcement said a Navy KA3B, tanker version of the A3B, was overdue on a ferry flight from the Philippines to the carrier Kitty Hawk stationed off Viet Nam. It made no mention of the Chinese claim.

Carries 3 Men

Peking Radio said nothing about the American plane crew. The KA3B normally carries three men.

The Chinese broadcast said the American plane was downed after it penetrated China's "territorial air space" and ignored repeated warnings from Red Chinese warplanes.

Peking claimed the plane came from southeast of China's Hainan Island and "flew in deep over Luichow Peninsula, engaging in military provocation."

"The sending of the heavy attack plane by U.S. imperialism deep into the air space over China's mainland was an open violation of China's sovereign rights," Peking radio said.

Informants at the Pentagon said the plane could have veered over Red China because of a faulty compass, navigation error or confusion. They said they did not know what happened to the twin-engine jet, which was out of radio contact since shortly after its takeoff from a naval air station in the Philippines late Monday.

The Kitty Hawk was reported cruising just outside the Gulf of Tonkin, within aircraft range of targets in North Viet Nam.

The normal flight course for the tanker plane should have carried it on a northwesterly line. To reach the area where the Chinese claim it was shot

Union Officials Label Miners 'Belligerent'

Disappointed at Not Having Contract, UMW Chief Says

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some striking coal miners were described by union officials today as angry and belligerent as about 58,000 miners continued a walkout in defiance of union orders.

"They're sort of belligerent. They're disappointed in the fact that they don't have a contract," said Joseph Yablonski, United Mineworkers director at Uniontown, Pa.

Harvey Yonker, UMW director at Johnstown, Pa., said: "We're telling the men that it is our very honest desire and urgent request that they return to work immediately."

Early Compliance

Yonker said some locals have given indication of early compliance with the back-to-work directive, "but others are angry and in no mood to work without a contract."

Contract negotiations between the union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association were scheduled to resume today in Washington.

One western Pennsylvania mine owner said he is not going to enter into negotiations as long as the strike continues. Another threatened court action.

"We still have a contract that's in force, and while the men are out on strike, that's negotiating under duress," said an operator who asked not to be identified.

Another said, "This is strictly

2 Cabinet Members Resign Positions in 6-Month-Old Rule

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Greece's six-month-old government was left badly shaken today following the resignations of two Cabinet members. But Premier Stephanos Stephanopoulos said he was confident it would survive.

Within 24 hours Stephanopoulos saw his foreign and social welfare ministers quit in a bitter dispute over the government's Cyprus policy, and his slim parliamentary majority swept away

After a conference with King Constantine Tuesday night the premier said he felt sure the government would win a confidence vote in Parliament if opposition forces asked for one.

3-Seat Edge

Parliament is scheduled to convene April 19 Stephanopoulos' three-party coalition held a majority of three seats in the 300-member House before the crisis erupted over who would control Cyprus' national guard.

Today the government held only 150 seats, but there were unconfirmed reports that at least three deputies from the opposition Center Union party would back Stephanopoulos in a showdown.

Maryland Prison Security Tight

BREATHEDSVILLE, Md. (AP) — A tight security lid was clamped on the Maryland Correctional Institution today as officials sought the cause of rioting in which three prisoners, four guards and two state troopers were injured.

Commissioner of Correction Vernon L Pepersack said work details and recreation breaks were curtailed in the medium security prison raked Tuesday by gunfire and violence.

Inmates, apparently still smoldering from two Monday night incidents in which guards were attacked, rioted in the dining hall during the breakfast period Tuesday.

Guards and state police — using tear gas, riot guns and sidearms — put down the disturbance in less than two hours.

They estimated about 100 or fewer of the 700 prisoners in the south wing of the Western Maryland prison were involved in the rioting.

Strike Continued by Roadway Workmen

CHICAGO (AP) — A strike of 4,500 heavy equipment operators moved through its third day Wednesday, a walkout which has halted $1 billion in road, bridge and sewer projects in 12 northeastern Illinois counties.

Negotiations were to resume between a contractors association and the Operating Engineers Union Talks broke off Friday.

Viet Nam Protest Erupts Into Melee With Berkeley Police

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A Viet Nam Day Committee demonstration against U S. policy in Southeast Asia erupted into a cursing, fist-and-club-swinging melee Tuesday night with police pitted against a tense, angry crowd.

Police Lt Bruce Baker said some demonstrators were hurt and at least one hospitalized He said six arrests were made on charges including assault on police, resisting arrest and interfering with police.

A riot threatened when police moved in on a Telegraph Avenue apartment near the University of California campus in downtown Berkeley and attempted to seize loudspeakers they said were used without a permit VDC headquarters moved there after the old one was mysteriously bombed last week

Crowd of 3,000

A crowd of about 3,000 persons gathered at the building in a rally to support demonstrations in South Viet Nam. Demonstrators hung an effigy of President Johnson.

VDC leaders strung a banner across an apartment building that read. "Withdraw U.S. troops."

Officers tried to enter the building from which an amplifier was used. Demonstrators started throwing punches at police elbowing through Police used riot sticks After about five minutes police got into the building and confiscated the equipment

After the Telegraph Avenue rhubarb demonstrators marched 10 blocks to the Berkeley City Hall for a rally.

Refused Chance

Some demonstrators tried to enter the building to attend a City Council meeting then in session About 30 Berkeley police barred their way and prevented all but officials and newsmen from going in Baker said the VDC had been offered the chance to send a committee in to the council but had refused.

Another police-demonstrator scuffle started after 10 p.m. when the rally, at which VDC leaders spoke from a sound truck, started breaking up.

A crowd of a few hundred moved next door to the lawn in front of the Berkeley - Albany municipal building. With some demonstrators screaming "fascist" and "police state tactics" at the officers, a squad of Alameda County sheriff's deputies moved in and shoved some of the crowd away.

Berkeley for some time has been a center for unrest against U.S. policy in South Viet Nam. The VDC, which has some fulltime personnel and often uses the 27,500-student University of California Berkeley campus as a forum, sponsored massive marches against U.S. policy last year, including unsuccessful tries at marching on the Oakland Army Base to air their views.

Waukesha Man Killed in Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Waukesha, Wis., Marine has been wounded fatally in action in Viet Nam, the Defense Department said Tuesday.

Pfc James P Harteau, 21, died last Wednesday only five days before he was scheduled to be transferred to Okinawa.

The private had served in Viet Nam for 11 months. He was wounded fatally in the battle of Phu Bai.

Harteau, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Harteau of Waukesha, was a Waukesha High School graduate and a former University of Wisconsin student.

Italian Luxury Liner

Three Persons Die as Huge Waves Hit Ship

NEW YORK (AP)—A mountainous wave that crashed over the Italian luxury liner Michelangelo in a violent storm Tuesday claimed three lives, including an American, a company spokesman said today. Eleven other persons were injured.

The ship is expected to arrive in New York Friday, one day late.

Five men also were lost in the same Atlantic storm from a British freighter 600 miles off Newfoundland.

A spokesman for the Italian Line, the government company which owns the Michelangelo, said at Genoa that the victims were an American and German passenger and a crewman. The dead passengers were John Steinbach, 58, a Chicago insurance executive; and Werner Berndt of Hamburg.

130-Foot Wave

Umberto Nordi, a line director, said the captain told him the wave was more than 130 feet high and caused considerable damage to deck areas and cabins when it washed over the liner. The report on the size of the wave arrived in a radio message from the ship

The master of the 44,000-ton queen of Italy's passenger fleet, Capt Giuseppe Saletti, said in a radiotelephone interview Tuesday night that the wave struck the liner about 10:20 a.m (8:20 a.m. EST) Tuesday as "a fierce wind of about 70 knots was blowing."

At that time Saletti was quoted as saying the wave was 33 feet high But Nordi said Saletti estimated to him the wave was four times higher than that.

Saletti said he was on the bridge when the wave hit.

Head Injuries

Saletti said Steinbach and Berndt were in their first-class cabins when the giant wave struck. Both men died of head injuries, the company said.

In Chicago, friends of Steinbach said he had been on a business trip in Europe and they had heard from him several days ago from Germany. A native of Chicago, he was a widower and had three children, they said.

The company said four passengers and seven crewmen suffered bruises but were not in serious condition. In addition to Mrs. Berndt, the injured passengers were identified as Joseph Badger, Silvia Borini and Fritz Glauner. Their nationalities were not given.

Humphrey Thanks Japan

Cherry Festival Keeps Capital Drought-Free

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Cherry Blossom Festival — which boasts of being the world's outstanding springtime celebration — opened in wind and rain with water dripping off Hubert H Humphrey's ears.

All agreed it was something of a mess.

Several hundred folding chairs were set up in puddles amid cherry trees near the Jefferson Memorial.

The trees are annual agony to festival officials who fear they may bloom too early or too late for the six days of festivities. This year the blossoms came early and hard-driving rain sent half of them to the ground.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall noted, with water dripping off his nose and his feet drenched, that the fallen petals created a nice "polka dot effect."

There was no tent for comfort and the rain never stopped.

The 50 cherry blossom princesses, representing the states, were clad in identical plastic raincoats Their mascara ran and hairdos collapsed.

Japan's cherry blossom queen, Hisako Nakahara of Tokyo, held a hurriedly purchased $3.98 drugstore umbrella. The wife of Japanese Ambassador Ryuji Takeuchi wrapped her kimono around her legs to keep warm.

The festival commemorates a 1912 gift of cherry trees to the city from Japan Since 1954, a Japanese stone lantern has been lit to open the ceremonies. There were speeches.

Drowned Out

William P Bundy, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, got up to talk and the microphone drowned out. Another was held in reserve in a plastic vegetable sack.

The saxophone player in the Air Force Band got water in his pipes and the band director stood in mud.

Humphrey, hatless and tiny rivulets of water running down his trenchcoat, noted that President Johnson was in Texas where "it's dry and sunny and he left his vice president in Washington where it's cold and wet."

Humphrey called upon the scattered few present to thank Japan for "relieving us of a drought. We're doubly blessed. "It rained last year too."

exploded within pistol range of his residence.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, said after an inspection of the damage that it was almost impossible to put an airtight defense around an installation of such size.

Ten thousand Americans are housed at the field, which handles U.S. and Vietnamese military squadrons as well as serving as Saigon's international airport. It is four miles from the heart of the capital.

Terrorist Attack

The last major Viet Cong hit-and-run attack in the Saigon area occurred 13 days ago when a terrorist squad killed three Americans and three Vietnamese and wounded 143, including 113 Americans, at the Victoria Hotel officers' billet in the city.

The Defense Department confirmed that a tanker version of the U.S. Navy's A3B twin-jet Skywarrior was missing on a flight from the Philippines to the carrier Kitty Hawk off Viet Nam.

The Pentagon announcement did not confirm that the missing plane was the aircraft Peking reported Red Chinese planes shot down Tuesday over China's Luichow Peninsula, across the Gulf of Tonkin from North Viet Nam.

A Peking broadcast accused four American planes of killing three Chinese fishermen and wounding 15 in attacks in the Gulf of Tonkin April 7.

Political Front

On the political front, South Viet Nam's military government awaited reaction from Buddhist leaders to its offer to hold elections for a civilian regime as quickly as possible. The Buddhists were expected to indicate their feelings with a massive new antigovernment demonstration in Saigon, possibly Thursday.

Several thousand students in Hue burned effigies of Ky and Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu after a torchlight parade last Tuesday night. Business in the northern city was closed down Tuesday by an antigovernment march of 10,000 persons and a general strike.

Red China Says U.S. Airplane Was Shot Down down, the plane would have had to veer considerably east of the Kitty Hawk and on a more northerly course.

Strong Force

The Red Chinese have stationed a strong force of MIGs and some medium bombers on Hainan Island, on the northeast side of the Gulf of Tonkin.

Last September the Chinese said they shot down a U.S. air force jet over Hainan and captured the pilot. The United States later confirmed the loss of an F'104 Starfighter over the Gulf of Tonkin.

A U.S. Navy F4B Phantom was reported missing over Hainan last April after a fight with MIG 17 jets. One MIG was reported shot down.

In another broadcast today Peking charged that four U.S. planes killed two Chinese fishermen and wounded 15 April 7 in the Gulf of Tonkin.

"The strongest possible protest has been made by the appropriate Chinese department against this cutthroat behavior of U.S. imperialism," the broadcast said.

a wildcat strike and we are going to go to court to get an injunction."

The walkout, which started early Monday and spread to eight states, is the most widespread and largest work stoppage in the soft coal fields in 15 years.

A handful of strikers returned to work Tuesday in Utah, Indiana, Virginia, West Virginia and Illinois. The majority remained away.

In refusing to work, the strikers claim they were left without a contract Friday when the union signed a new agreement with three independent producers. The agreement calls for paying top-rated miners $30 a day with another $1 raise April, 1, 1967.

The association has taken the position that the current contract is an open-end affair and still in effect.

Lynda's Beau Deferred For 5 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Actor George Hamilton, who has been a frequent escort of Lynda Bird Johnson, has held a draft deferment since 1961 on grounds his induction would result in hardship to one or more dependents.

A Selective Service System spokesman said Tuesday that national headquarters learned this from Col. Paul V. Akst, the New York City director, when it asked Hamilton's status after publication of reports he was deferred because he was the sole support of his mother.

Hamilton, now 26, was granted the 3A classification and given a dependency deferment Dec. 13, 1961, by Local Draft Board No. 8 in New York City, which retains jurisdiction over him even though he now lives in California. The classification has been renewed three times, the files show.

said Hamilton's fil is confi-

UFO Antigravity Theory Seen as Possibility

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Folks who dote on flying saucers — and believe the unidentified objects hurry around the sky using antigravity — may have something, in theory, says a scientist who doesn't believe in flying saucers.

"If there are flying saucers, which I doubt, and if they are manned by living beings, which I also doubt," said Dr. Robert L. Forward, "then the only force that could explain the movements of the saucers would be antigravity."

By antigravity, scientists mean that a flying body would have its own gravitational field and be immune to the earth's gravitational pull. Thus people, or anything else inside a flying saucer, could travel safely without being subject to enormous stress, inside the saucer's field.

"Without antigravity," Dr. Forward said, "the beings inside the saucers would be crushed — if the saucers accelerate and turn as reports indicate."

Dr. Forward, a member of the technical staff at the Hughes Aircraft Co. research division at nearby Malibu, said, however, that practical use of antigravity seems to be a long way off — perhaps centuries.

Racine Banker Leaves Estate To Colleges

RACINE (AP)— The will of the late Racine industrialist and banker, T. B. Myers, left the bulk of a $1 million estate Tuesday to three edcational institutions.

Myers, who died last month at 80, listed Marquette University, Dominican College at Racine, and his alma mater, Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., as principal beneficiaries, said Harold A. Konnak, attorney for the estate.

Marquette will receive $235,000, Trinity $200,000, and Dominican $100.000 plus the Myers residence and furnishings valued at $90,000. The three institutions will also share with various individuals the interest from $250,000 in trust funds.

Myers was former chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Racine and general manager of the Hamilton Beach Division of the Scovill Mfg. Co.

Lucey Calls for Housing Program

GREEN BAY (AP) — The state housing program for veterans should be extended to include "cold war veterans" as in the federal program, Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucy said Tuesday night.

Lucey, who is expected to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, called for action on the proposal during the May legislative session in a speech before the Brown County Home Builders Association.

He noted that the "cold war GI bill" recently passed by Congress broadens benefits, including housing loans, to make eligible veterans who served after Jan. 31, 1955.

"The State of Wisconsin has a little - known housing program offering veterans second mortgages at 2 per cent interest," Lucy said. "This program should now be brought up to date by including cold war veterans as the federal program does."

He said the need is "espcially appropriat" now because of the tightened mony markt and highr interest rates.

Wife of 32 Years Being Divorced By Joel McCrea

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — A 32-year marriage, regarded as one of the happiest in the Hollywood film community, has come to an end, says actor Joel McCrea.

McCrea, 60, filed suit in Ventura Superior Court Tuesday for divorce from his wife, former actress Frances Dee, 59. He charged cruelty.

In his suit, McCrea asked custody of his son, Peter, 11. The couple has two other sons, Joel D. (Jodie) McCrea, 31, an actor, and David T. McCrea, 30, a Montana rancher.

The McCreas were married in Rye, N.Y., on Oct. 20, 1933, and separated Monday, the suit stated.

McCrea completed a television series in 1960. He made his last two films in 1959.

Beseiged 'Little Alamo' Helps Control Air Strikes

By EDDIE ADAMS

DONG HA, South Viet Nam (AP) — The "Little Alamo" is closer to Hanoi than to Saigon, and it has 200,000 sandbags stacked around it to show it knows the geographic difference.

The "Little Alamo" helps to control air strikes in both North and South Viet Nam, and acts as an early warning system against enemy fighter planes from the North.

Like the historic real Alamo at San Antonio, Tex., this little outpost is under siege. And there is another parallel — every one of the Air Force technicians and U.S. Marine guards there is a volunteer.

The camp has been under mortar attack three times. The commander of the group, Maj. Lawrence Cumming, Baytown, Tex., says:

Ground Attack

"It's only a matter of time before the Communists attack us on the ground."

The outpost with its complex of trenches, bunkers and underground command system sits just five miles south of the demilitarized zone that marks the border between North and South Viet Nam.

It contains $7 million worth of radar and electronic equipment. The work that this equipment performs is highly classified, but it is known to monitor all air strikes in both Viet Nams.

The Air Force unit based there is the 620th Tactical Control Squadron, Detachment I.

The humid and dusty camp has been in existence four months.

No Transfers

"None of the men want to be transferred, even though we know that a North Vietnamese division, is sitting outside somewhere," Cummings said.

Airman 2.C. James H. Schneider of Sloatsburg, N.Y. recalls how he manned a .50 caliber machine gun during a mortar attack last month:

"I was frightened, but I feel like I am needed here. And it's a heck of a lot better than guarding planes."

Airman William Charles, an air policeman from Oakland, N.J. who recently volunteered for duty in "Little Alamo," said "I wouldn't have it any other way. I love this job, and defending this place."

Cummings has a project under way to combat the dust that pervades the whole camp and the mined barbed wire entanglements outside. Each man in the camp is writing home for two pounds of grass seed.

Help Town

"It will help dress up the place," Cummings said.

The camp members are also helping out the nearby hamlet of Dong Ha, sending food, clothing and medicine to the people.

To help clean up the camp, and to wash clothes and serve food, Cummings has recruited 18 Vietnamese children who have lost a mother or father in the war.

A touch of humor lightens the stark nature of the camp.

Attached to the entrance of one bunker is a sign: "Mario's Pizza Palace, no cover charge, no minimum, no pizza."

Another sign atop a concrete bunker reads: "Mortar Square, Shrapnel Apartments, air-conditioned by 81 mm mortars."

Last Member of Ringling Family Dies in Baraboo

BARABOO (AP)—Mrs. Henry Ringling, last member of the family which founded the original Ringling Bros. Circus died Tuesday. She was 97.

Mrs. Ringling, the former Ida Belle Palmer, was an aunt of John Ringling North and Henry Ringling North, present owners of Ringling Bros. & Barnum and Bailey Circus.

Her husband, who died in 1918, was not one of the circus founders. He and his brother, Gus, affiliated with the show about three years after it was organized by five other brothers at Baraboo. Henry achieved full partnership in the operation and continued as an executive until his death. His particular department was the main entrance or "front door" of the circus.

Mrs. Ringling spent her entire life in Baraboo and loved to reminisce about the days when she and her husband traveled with the circus in their private railroad car. Although she held no official title, she frequently helped with personnel matters.

Funeral services will be held in Baraboo Friday.

Ohio Town Greets Neil Armstrong

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP) — Gemini 8 astronaut Neil Armstrong's homecoming today brought friends and relatives from Wisconsin and across the nation to this small community which planned a reception fit for a President.

Normally, Wapakoneta (pronounced Wah-puh-kuh-net-uh) is a quiet Northwest Ohio community of 7,000, but Armstrong's hometown folk were in such a festive mood that one official said "you might expect a President."

Schaefer Park Shelter House Bids at $17,000

Delay Construction To Obtain Additional Money for Project

The Appleton Park Board, meeting Monday afternoon for one of the last times before the new Park and Recreation Commission takes over in May, approved bids totaling more than $17,000 for construction of a permanent park shelter at Schaefer park.

The board voted to accept the bid of Norbert Hennes & Sons Construction Co. of Kaukauna for general construction of the shelter at a cost of $14,325. Plumbing for the stone and concrete structure will be done by Thomas N. Hardy Plumbing Co., Appleton for $2,160. Electrical facilities will be installed by the Stephenson Electric Co., Appleton, at a cost of $880.

Construction of the shelter will not begin immediately, however, since the total figure of $17,365 exceeds the allotted budget by more than $2,000. The board announced that a request for the additional funds will be made at the earliest possible date.

A revised bid of less than $15,000 was turned down by the board. That bid included wood joists and deck in lieu of a concrete roof. The board favored the more permanent concrete roof saying it will be less subject to natural deterioration and vandalism.

Included in the architectural plans are two storage rooms, rest rooms, a pavilion and a fireplace. Sauter Seaborne Architects Ltd., drew up the shelter plans.

Officers, Directors and stockholders of Air Wisconsin gathered at the Outagamie County Airport Tuesday to inspect a prototype model of the DeHavilland "Twin Dove," the turbo-prop airplane which the Appleton commuter airline will put into service later this year. Air Wisconsin has ordered two of the aircraft, which will seat 17 passengers. Describing the plane, left, is David Fairbanks, director of flight operations for DeHavilland of Canada, Ltd. Listening, from left, are Allan Mulder, Preston Wilbourne and John Conway. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Publisher to Speak at Fete Of Lawrence Air Force Unit

James H. Straubel Formerly Reporter for Post-Crescent

James H. Straubel, executive director of the Air Force Association and publisher of the Air Force Magazine and Space Digest, will speak before the annual "dining-in" given by the Lawrence University AFROTC detachment at 6:30 p.m. April 26. The dinner will be at the Conway Hotel.

James H. Straubel

The name Straubel is well known in the Green Bay area, for its airport is named for Austin W. Straubel, a casualty of World Warr II, and brother of the speaker.

Feature Writer

James Straubel is a 1937 graduate of Lawrence, where he was captain of both the football and basketball teams.

He served as a reporter and feature writer on The Post-Crescent, the Green Bay Press-Gazette and the Milwaukee Journal. He was managing editor of American Aviation magazine, published in Washington D. C., when called into military service in 1941. Shortly thereafter, he was assigned the job of establishing Air Force Magazine as the official service journal of the Army Air Forces.

Straubel served as editor and publisher of the magazine throughout the war. It was distributed to all units of the Air Force, worldwide, and reached a circulation of 600,000 per month. In 1945 Straubel established a Far East edition of the magazine, which was published in the Philippines. He was awarded the Legion of Merit by General H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the USAAF.

After separation from military service as a colonel in 1946, Straubel spent more than a year as associate publisher of the Avon Publishing Co. in New York City.

Edited Official Journal

He joined the national headquarters staff of the Air Force Association in 1947, as editor of its official journal Air Force magazine, successor to the magazine he established during the war. He was appointed

Lucien Szymanski, Former Owner of Club Tavern, Dies

MENASHA — Lucien (Leo) Szymanski, 75, 766 Pleasant Lane, former owner of the Club Tavern, died at his home at 5:15 a.m. today.

He was born Feb. 2, 1891 in Poland and lived in Menasha since 1949, coming here from Racine. He was a member of St. John Holy Name Society and Polish National Alliance.

Survivors include five daughters, one step-daughter, two sons, one step-son, two brothers, 39 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Friday at the Laemmrich Funeral Home and 10 a.m. at St. John Catholic Church with burial in the parish cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p.m. Thursday. The Holy Name and general rosary will be prayed at 8 p.m.

Pastor Hurt In Fall From Horse

WAUPACA — Rev. A. S. Petersen, 58, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, suffered a skull fracture and concussion late Sunday afternoon when he fell from a horse near his rural Waupaca home.

Pastor Petersen was taken to the Riverside Memorial Hospital by ambulance where he is reported in fair condition.

The mishap occurred when the saddle cinch broke and Pastor Peterson was thrown to the ground, landing on his head. The pastor and his son were riding near their home when the mishap occurred.

Rubbish Truck Fire Delivered to Station

KAUKAUNA — A fire in a city rubbish truck was delivered to the fire station about 10:20 a.m. Wednesday and firemen hooked up a line and extinguished the blaze in a matter of minutes with no damage to the truck

Debris is believed to have been ignited by hot ashes which flared when the truck began moving.

Truckers Consulted

Nine Truck Loading Zones Recommended In Business District

Nine truck loading zones were recommended for Appleton's central business district Tuesday night.

The city council's public safety committee approved a report submitted by City Planner-traffic engineer Walter Rasmussen and Police Chief Earl O. Wolff.

They held several meetings with Gerald Arens of Central Delivery Service, representing the short and long haul truckers who have to make deliveries and pickups in the business district.

The truckers have expressed willingness to cooperate with the proposed loading zone plan which must be adopted by the council before becoming effective.

Curb Space

The report says curb space should be provided in the downtown area for loading zones between 10 a.m. and noon, Monday through Saturday.

It also specifies that trucks longer than 25 feet may use the street for loading and unloading purposes between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

However, those trucks over 25 feet long making pickups or deliveries in the central business district will be required to use off-street loading facilities between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily.

Moving vans will also be required to obtain special permission from the police department to occupy curb space for moving purposes from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Must Use Meters

With regard to the areas to be designated as loading zones, the prevailing meter rates will apply to the truckers using the space.

Tool Boxes Missing From Parked Vehicle

KAUKAUNA — Police are investigating the complaint of Robert Prideaux, Madison, who reported the theft of two tool chests containing hand tools from his station wagon sometime Monday night while the vehicle was parked on First Street.

Police did not have an estimate of the value of the tools. The vehicle was not locked at the time of the loss.

Appleton Unit Won't Give 'Blank Check' for School

Board of Public Works Plans Parley to Consider Regulating Cost for Highland Elementary

The board of public works served notice Tuesday that it has no intentions of giving the school board a so-called "blank check" for planning and constructing the new Highland Elementary School.

A council meeting will be held May 3 to consider setting a price range to regulate expenditures for the new school being planned for the city's far northwest side.

(Earlier in the week the board of education selected an architect to prepare plans for the new elementary school, which will have a special orthopedic wing. It will be situated on city-owned land in the Gillett Highlands subdivision.)

Don't Want Repeat

The majority of members on the board of public works said they did not want "a repeat of the Appleton High School East situation" and indicated now was the time to start regulating the cost of the new grade school — before construction plans and design are finalized.

The May 3 meeting at city hall will be attended by the architect, school board, representatives of towns attached to the Appleton School District and the council's school advisory committee.

Because aldermen had a barrage of questions concerning the procedures to be followed by the board of education, Mayor Clarence Mitchell suggested the joint meeting "to clear the air and expedite building of the school."

Urges Cooperation

Mayor-elect George Buckley, who attended the meeting as an observer, agreed and said Mitchell's suggestion was a good one. "The sooner we get everybody together, the better," Buckley said.

The board of public works made it clear it wanted to establish, through consultation with the school board:

— The estimated cost of the Highland Elementary School so a budget figure can be set and followed.

— Procedures to be followed in providing the final working plans.

— Whether any inquiry has been made to see if the proposed school will qualify for state or federal aids.

Time Schedule

— A time schedule for building and financing the project.

— When the school would be opened and an estimate of operational costs.

Earlier in the meeting, the board approvad a motion by Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th) that all preliminary plans for municipal buildings, and he included schools, be reviewed by the entire council before any action is taken.

Tews recalled when several aldermen questioned the new senior high school construction and financing several months ago, and had insisted that something be done to prevent a repeat of the situation that developed.

"There were a lot of statements made then," Tews said. "Now let's see what these people do when it comes to carrying them out."

Neenah Firm Partner Dies; 1st Cubmaster

MENASHA — Louis H. Hafemeister, 84, 409 Cleveland St., Menasha, a partner in the Hafemeister Machine Co., Neenah, since 1937 and the first cubmaster in the area, died Tuesday afternoon after a short illness.

He was born Aug. 18, 1881 and went into partnership with his son, Robert, in the Hafemeister Machine Shop in October, 1937.

He was the first cubmaster of Pack 1, which was sponsored by the American Legion of Menasha, and was awarded the silver beaver by the Boy Scouts of America.

Survivors include one son and five grandchildren. Two sons were killed in World War I. His wife died in 1963.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Friday at Trinity Lutheran Church with the Rev. Walter E. Lichtsinn officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Laemmrich Funeral Home from 3 p.m. Thursday until 11 a.m. Friday and then at the church until the hour of service.

750 Attend Parley

Changes in Education Topic At Governor's Conference

MADISON — More than 750 lay leaders, legislators and professional educators crowded into the tradition-clad old Red Gym on the University of Wisconsin campus today to hear of the need for change in education.

Participants in the Governor's Conference on Education in Wisconsin, the audience was made up of leading educators and interested citizens from all parts of the state and all branches of public and private educational systems.

Theme of the conference, first in 10 years to be held by the Citizens Joint Committee on Education in Wisconsin, was "Educational Change to meet the Demands of Rising School Enrollments and Increased Desires for Better Educational Opportunities for All."

The problem of increased school enrollment from kindergarten through graduate school has been recognized by state politicians as the greatest problem in government of the next decade.

Enrollment Projections

Recent enrollment projections of the State Coordinating Committee for Higher Education predict that by 1983, about 85 per cent of all the state's graduating seniors will pursue some form of formal post-high school educational training.

Immediate purpose of the conference is to determine the extent to which state and federal aid agencies are meeting the needs of the state's educational system.

In calling the conference, Gov. Warren P. Knowles said he expected that, from its deliberations, new ideas would evolve for increased state programs and revised services.

Conference Chairman W. M. Hanley, in opening the conference, called for change as suggested in the conference theme. But he warned that change for the sake of change, for appearance, or for the consolidation of special interests is not constructive change.

Much to Be Done

Knowles, while praising the 1965 Legislature for action on education bills entered with his urging, told the conference in his keynote address that much remains to be done in the field of education.

"I sincerely question whether we are doing enough for the 70 per cent of our young citizens who will not graduate from a four year university," the governor said.

He called for increased vocational, technical and adult education programs to meet the needs of those students who cannot or do not desire to enter colleges and universities, a recurrent theme since he took office a year and a half ago.

Field of Opportunity

"My own conviction is that the great field of opportunity for Wisconsin young people — today and in the future — lies in the development of our vocational and technical education programs," Knowles said.

The state vocational and technical system was the only element of higher education in Wisconsin that last year had to reject qualified applicants because of a lack of space, the governor pointed out.

Knowles also called for a program of training for high school students before graduation to make the offerings of vocational and technical schools more effective, meaningful and productive.

Parking Made Easy

Portable 'No Parking' Signs Appear on Harding Street

City officials suspect a Harding Street resident is taking the law into his own hands.

The Appleton city council's public safety committee said Tuesday night it has received complaints of "No Parking" signs popping up and down in the 100 block of East Harding.

Police Chief Earl O. Wolff said no signs had been authorized by his department.

However, Ald. Robert Ebben (9th) indicated previously he had reason to believe portable signs were being used. Sometimes there are signs — other times they disappear.

A subtle approach to the problem was agreement on Ebben's resolution that, "... A study of the parking habits in the 100 block of East Harding Street be made and further that the committee of jurisdiction (public safety) act on any recommendations forthcoming."

Settle Controversy On Sewer Bidding

P & B Firm Awarded $69,798 Job; McHugh-Coppens Higher

The controversy over whether a local contractor should be disqualified from bidding on a municipal sewer project when he has not finished work on four others resolved itself Tuesday.

Members of the board of public works, acting on the advice of the city's legal counsel, opened the bid of the disputed firm — McHugh and Coppens Co. — and it missed being low by some $20,000.

As a result, the board reaffirmed its recommendation that the council award the sewer project scheduled for the Bellaire Park area to P & B Excavating, Inc., Appleton, which submitted the low bid of $69,798 a week ago.

At the bid-opening the McHugh and Coppens firm was recommended for disqualification when Public Works Director Robert W. Bues said he felt the firm had enough work to do in finishing up the four other projects. He claimed inspectors had been after the firm and estimated it had about a month's work.

Tight Schedule

Bues said the Bellaire sewer project was in a tight time schedule and felt McHugh and Coppens would not be in a position to finish up on time should the firm be the low bidder.

The council referred all bids back to the board with the understanding the McHugh and Coppens bid would be opened, and then the council could decide whether it wanted to reject the firm's proposal even if it were low.

Bues told the board again Tuesday he had nothing against the work being done by McHugh and Coppens and said the firm was capable. However, he indicated it was behind on the other projects but had started to rectify the situation.

Critical of Handling

Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th) said he had been critical of the way the entire matter had been handled.

"If there was something wrong with the work or progress the contractor was making, then the board should have been told about it before the day of the bid-opening," Tews said.

Tews said then the board, if it so desired, could have informed the firm it would not be eligible to bid on city projects until it finished up the ones it had.

"All we did was to ask McHugh and Coppens to clean up the work they have now and then they would be eligible to bid on municipal projects again," commented Ald. Roy Pointer (14th), chairman of the street-sanitation committee.

Back Inspectors

"You have to back up the inspectors after they have asked and asked the contractor to have jobs cleaned up," Pointer said, "How are you going to penalize a contractor other than

Town of Menasha

Wisconsin Tissue Plans New Plant

MENASHA — The concrete footings are presently being poured for the largest single building expansion in the 51-year history of Wisconsin Tissue Mills.

Menasha's fourth largest employer will build a 80,000 square foot addition to its present 40,000 square foot building near County Trunk II in the Town of Menasha.

And future expansions can be expected, James E. Asmuth, treasurer and general manager for the company said. He announced another 90,000 square feet has been set aside near the new structure in the town for future buildings. The firm purchased a 12½ acre site in the town 12 years ago.

City Space Limited

The town site was selected for the expansion because of space limitations at the plant on Third Street in the City of Menasha, Asmuth said. He also stated the company wanted to place all its paper converting operations under one roof.

The present building in the town is used partially for paper converting, but about 75 per cent of it is occupied with storage. Asmuth said the addition would increase production and warehouse capacity "considerably" to provide "continued growth in the company."

Some 100 employes will be moved from the Third Street location to the new plant when it opens this July. But the expansion won't affect the present employes' jobs, he said.

20 Men Added

Asmuth said about 20 employes will be added this year when new high speed napkin making equipment is installed.

A permit was issued for the building this morning for a bare building cost estimated at $300,000.

The concrete block structure will have a metal roof and will be about 321 feet long and 234 feet wide. A double railroad track in the enclosed train shed will handle nine cars. A truck shed with a loading capacity of seven trucks will abut the building.

The building will be 20 feet high.

Menasha Woman Receives Divorce, Packer Tickets Too

OSHKOSH — The right to future Green Bay Packer football season tickets are part of the settlement in the divorce Monday of Kathryn Grab, 47, Menasha, from Leonard E. Grab, 52, Menasha.

Circuit Judge Arnold J. Cane granted the divorce to her on her charge of cruel and inhuman treatment.

The couple was married May 7, 1965, and separated Oct. 13, 1965. She was restored the use of her former name of Kathryn Anderson.

As part of the property settlement, he relinquished the right to the Green Bay Packer season football tickets formerly purchased by the parties and she has the right, title and interest to purchase any future Packer football tickets for the seats formerly held by them during the 1965 football season.

Earnings of Neenah Firm Up 62 Per Cent

Bergstrom Sales Up 10 Per Cent From Last Spring

NEENAH — Bergstrom Paper Co. earnings increased more than 62 per cent for the first quarter of 1966 compared to the same period in 1965 according to a report issued today.

Sales during the period were up approximately 10 per cent over first quarter sales last year, the report stated.

In the first quarter report to stockholders H. R. Moore, president, said "our first quarter earnings in 1966: 52 cents, exceed the first six-month earnings per share in 1965; 49 cents."

In the report, net earnings, after taxes, were listed at $282,945 compared to $174,585 for the first three months of 1965. This amounted to 52 cents per share in 1966 compared with 32 cents per share in 1965.

Net sales for the quarter were $4,887,851 compared with $4,429,644 for the same period in 1965.

The report also stated that the major rebuild of the mothballed No. four paper machine is underway and is scheduled for start-up during the second quarter of the year. Personnel to operate the machine have been in training since the beginning of the year.

Marion Girl State Delegate To National 4-H Conference

MARION — Dianne Kraeger, 18, Garfield Avenue, has been selected as one of four 4-H Club members to represent Wisconsin at the week-long National 4-H Club Conference in Washington, D.C., starting Saturday.

Miss Kraeger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kraeger, is attending Wisconsin State University-River Falls and majoring in elementary education.

She has been an active member of the Shawano County Tillieda 4-H Club for the past nine years. When she and her parents moved from the Tillieda area last year Miss Kraeger remained in the club.

Her major club projects have been clothing, home furnishings and conservation. During her 4-H club career she has been a delegate to 4-H Club Week at Madison; a member of the state 4-H chorus; earned her Wisconsin 4-H Key award, and was Shawano County 4-H Queen last year.

Don Schoedel, Shawano County 4-H Agent, said Miss Kraeger also directed the music program at the county 4-H summer camp last year.

She and the other state delegates were selected from 12 state honor achievement members who were recently interviewed at Madison.

The delegates, accompanied by a state 4-H club leader, will leave Madison Saturday to fly to Washington for the conference.

Oshkosh Scores 3-2 Baseball Victory Over Neenah Rockets

NEENAH — Overtime game ills, which plagued the Neenah High School basketball team last season, carried over to the baseball campaign Tuesday afternoon as Oshkosh posted a 3-2 victory in eight innings over Coach Joe Braun's Rockets.

The Indians tallied the winning run with two out in the top of the extra frame. Scott Schermetzler singled, advanced to second on a wild pitch and tallied on a triple by reserve outfielder Dick Achterberg.

Centerfielder Mike Milliken might have had a shot at a catch but slipped while the ball was in the air.

Neenah had a chance to tie the game in the last of the eighth when Gary Platt, the last of three Rocket hurlers, doubled and went to third on an infield out but was nipped at the plate while trying to score on a short passed ball.

The Rockets took a 2-0 lead in the second inning when Jim Bellin gained life on an error and Milliken put one of Tom Bartelt's slants over the right field fence for a homer.

OHS Ties Score

The hosts maintained that lead until the fifth when three errors, a hit, a walk, a squeeze bunt and a wild pitch produced two Oshkosh runs.

Neenah had several chances to decide the issue but stranded 10 baserunners, including two in the first, fourth, fifth and seventh innings.

Two More Resign Posts In Menasha

MENASHA — A fourth member of the park and recreation board and a long-time holder of other city appointive positions have submitted their resignations to Mayor John Klein.

The mayor today announced that Claude Melcher, a civic official since 1932, has given up his memberships on the planning commission, alternate membership on the board of appeals and a position on the Menasha-Neenah Relief Board.

Edward Waskiewicz, believed to be the member of longest tenure on the park and recreation board, submitted his resignation at the same time.

Waskiewicz's resignation leaves three members still serving on the park and recreation unit, following previous resignations of Linus Pfankuch, the chairman, Salvatore "Sam" Porto, board finance chairman, and Mrs. Hayward Biggers. Waskiewicz would have been a logical choice for the board chairmanship.

Kaukauna May Form Basketball League

School Board Authorizes Panel to Study Feasibility of Competition for Young Boys

KAUKAUNA — The Board of Education Tuesday authorized three members of the athletic department to investigate the possibility of forming a basketball league for boys from the fifth through the eighth grades from area schools.

Investigating the plan will be Guy Krumm, athletic director, Kenneth Vander Velden and Kenneth Roloff. They will check with area administrators to determine interest.

Hot Lunch Study

Julian Bichler, superintendent of schools, was authorized to investigate the cost of the hot lunch program and the possibility of raising the price for high school students and faculty members for the 1966-67 school year if it is found the program is operating at a deficit. Cutbacks in surplus food and the rising cost of meat products is resulting in meals sometimes being less desirable for youngsters, noted board members.

Kenneth Schmalz was authorized to prepare a plan for landscaping at Quinney School after which the board will review the plan and obtain estimates for the work from other area nursery or landscape firms. The superintendent was authorized to advertise for bids for playground and physical education equipment for Quinney School.

Transport Pupils

Approval was given to transport 40 kindergarten pupils from Park to Quinney School for the 1966-67 school year, thus making all kindergarten classes in the system fairly even in enrollment. Plans were made to move a kindergarten class from the basement of Bethany Lutheran Church to St. Mary Catholic School for the final eight weeks of school as construction work on a new Lutheran church interferes with the class. The move is being made at the request of the Lutheran congregation.

Board members approved the rental of a trailer unit for the 1966-67 school year to serve as an instructional area for special children in the district. The trailer has been used by the district for the past several months and is considered ideal for the type of classes held. Cost of the rental is $95 per month.

Richard Landreman was hired to audit school books and WIAA insurance was approved for the coming school year. Teacher resignations accepted include Kenneth Penniston, science teacher and track coach; Miss Jan Everson, high school business education instructor, and Mrs. Carol Peterson, second grade teacher.

New personnel hired are Miss Sharon Guiser, Spring Valley, a June graduate of Wisconsin State University-River Falls, as elementary librarian; Miss Edna Palacek, elementary supervisor for the Winneconne School system, elementary and junior high guidance; Miss Susan Hart, Waupaca, a June graduate of the University of Wisconsin, seventh and eighth grade science and mathematics; Mrs. Della Milbach, teacher at Shiocton, half day kindergarten teacher at Harrison School; Mrs. Carol Williams, teacher at Green Bay, first grade; David Specht, librarian at Hilbert, high school librarian and Miss Carolyn Kowalski, Milwaukee, intern teacher at Kaukauna, high school English.

Five City Hall Sites Suggested

NEENAH — A Neenah architect and a planning official presented site recommendations for the new city administration building to members of the plan commission Tuesday.

Roy Ginnow, of the architectural firm of Boettcher-Ginnow Inc., presented five possible locations and Eugene Franchett, director of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, recommended another after a study of three sites.

Day Sets Record; Zephyr Trackmen Defeat Springs

FOND DU LAC — Mike Day captured two firsts, one in record-breaking time, and anchored the winning half mile relay team to pace St. Mary to a 66-52 triumph over Springs Academy in its track opener here Monday.

In making a successful debut for Coach Clarence "Sonny" Lotzer, the Zephyrs were forced to offset a brilliant performance by Springs freshman Paul Walgenbach, who won the 100 yard dash in the good time of 10.7 seconds, the 220 and the broad jump.

Day set a school standard of 16.8 seconds in taking the high hurdles. The old mark of 17.1 was established by Ken Jahnke two years ago.

The Zephyr senior took the 440 yard run in 58.5 seconds and ran the final leg on the half mile relay quartet.

St. Mary scored a sweep in the high jump but was slammed in the shot put. It also showed a weakness in the long distance events, doing no better than third in the 880 and mile runs.

Tim Pack copped the high jump with Greg Gill second and Larry Johnson third. The winning height was 5 feet, 1 inches. It could have been higher but all the Ledgers were eliminated by that time.

Bob Heimerman and Tom Dachelet tied for first in the pole vault. The height was only 8 feet but all of the Springs vaulters failed to make the mark and the Zephyrs chose not to continue higher.

Gill tossed the discus 120 feet, 8 inches. John Fink gained a second at 111-6.

Little Chute Schedules Organizational Session For Boy Scout Troop

LITTLE-CHUTE — An organizational meeting to formulate a new Boy Scout Troop in the village will be conducted by John Wylie, Scout organizational chairman, at 8 p.m. Thursday at the village hall.

Parents of boys ages 11 to 14 are invited to attend.

The troop will be sponsored by the village post of the American Legion which sponsors the present troop of more than 80 boys.

A temporary organization committee comprised of Richard Grapentine, Harry Samuels and Bill Milbach has been appointed by Jack Metz, Legion commander.

Police Investigating Property Damage

KAUKAUNA — Police are investigating vandalism at the R. L. Coddington residence, 900 Taft St., which occurred sometime Monday night.

Damage, believed to have been caused by youngsters, included breaking off a concrete bird bath, branches broken from trees, broken fencing and damage to a stop sign near the property.

Democratic Aspirants to Tell Plans

Schreiber to Seek Lucey's Position; Zaborski, Treasurer

MADISON — Democratic aspirants for lieutenant governor and state treasurer will make their formal candidacy declarations before the first date for circulation of nomination petitions next month, authoritative quarters in the party organization reported today.

Among them will be State Senators Richard Zaborski and Martin Schreiber of Milwaukee, who will run for state treasurer and lieutenant governor, respectively, the sources said.

Zaborski ils now the floorleader of the Democratic minority in the State Senate, and had announced previously that he did not intend to run for another term in the State Senate. He has moved his residence to Madison. Schreiber, 27, youngest member of the Legislature's upper house, is the son of the president of the Milwaukee common council and is expected to draw upon his father's political influence in the state's largest city to counteract his youth and relative lack of statewide acquaintance.

May Have Opponents

Both men may have opponents for the September primary election nomination. Floyd Lucia of Milwaukee, a local leader in organized labor affairs, has indicated that he may seek the nomination for state treasurer. Eugene Lamb of Milwaukee, who held the office for a single term about a decade ago, has run several timese since that time and may do so again, according to his friends in the party organization.

As far as is known, there is yet no candidate who has shown an interest in the nomination for secretary of state on the Democratic ticket. The nomination is regarded as the least desirable among those available, because of the demonstrated vote-getting ability of Republican Incumbent Robert C. Zimmerman, in a succession of elections.

Faces Incumbent

Zaborski will seek election, it nominated, to the office now held by State Treasurer Dena Smith, a veteran Republican campaigner who is not likely to have a serious challenge for another nomination by the Republican party.

The lieutenant governor's nomination is open in the Democratic party because Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey is running for the gubernatorial nomination. He has not yet formally declared but is expected to do so next month when the time for legal circulation of nomination petitions arrives.

PSC Hearing Set On Gas Services For 8 Counties

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Possible natural gas service in Kewaunee, Brown, Sheboygan, Manitowoc, Marinette, Winnebago and Portage counties will be considered by the state Public Service Commission in a hearing on April 26.

The proposed $614,846 project of the Wisconsin Public Service Corp. would supply natural gas service and facilities in the villages and towns of Casco and Luxemburg, Kewaunee County; Wrightstown, Brown County; the Village of Glenbeulah and the Town of Greenbush, Sheboygan County; the Town of Schleswig, Mantiowoc County, the Town of Porterfield, Marinette County; the towns of Vinland and Winneconne, Winnebago County; and the Town of Linwood in Portage County.

The hearing will be held at the commission headquarters here and will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Outagamie YGOP Hits Third of Goal

The Outagamie County Young Republicans have reached a third of their membership goal of 100 in the drive which ends May 31. A progress report was given on it at Monday's meeting at the Conway Hotel.

Drive co-chairmen are Elton Check and Ralph West. Thus far, 35 new members have been added. Awards were made to the two drive workers. They are Miss Pat Sumnicht who brought in nine new members and Mrs. Leo Martin with eight.

Check said that if Outagamie attains its goal it will be the fifth largest YGOP group in the state. West presented a brochure for helping present members recruit new members into the YGOP. The group discussed the coming state convention April 29-30 at the Pioneer Marina in Oshkosh. A sizeable delegation is expected from Outagamie County.

Members joined the Women's Federation and the Outagamie County Republican Party in hearing addresses by Jack Olson, candidate for lieutenant governor, and John Olson, candidate for attorney general.

Green Bay Horse Show Benefits Set for Cerebral Palsy Fund

Oneida Golf and Riding Club, Green Bay, will again be host to the largest horse show of its kind in the middlewest on July 15, 16 and 17, according to Paul J. Costello, general chairman of this years event

Included in this years competition will be entrants from seven midwestern states with national champions in the majority of classes. More than one-half million dollars in horse flesh will be present in this Green Bay classic.

Proceeds of the horse show again will go for the benefit of United Cerebral Palsy, Northeastern Wisconsin, and all funds will remain in the local chapter of that organization.

Zion Lutheran Church Schedules Wartburg College Choir Concert

The Wartburg College Choir, Waverly, Iowa, will present a concert at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Zion Lutheran Church.

Soldier Square Ramp Plan Halted by Committee Action

Preliminary Sketches Blasted As Too Costly as Presented

A special meeting of the Appleton Council will be held April 20 to consider again already - approved preliminary plans for the Soldiers Square parking structure.

The board of public works decided on the meeting when it met Tuesday. The common council previously approved the plans by a 15-4 vote.

The board took its action after Ald. Paul Klemmer (11th) said he did not favor a four-level ramp or a "green strip" or mall area as recommended in the central business district plan adopted by the council.

Save Money

Klemmer told the board that by making the ramp three-level, and putting two rows of surface parking where the mall or green strip would be, the city would save money on construction costs and have a better ramp.

Klemmer, who was not aware that the council had authorized the parking ramp consultant to make a rough sketch of a mall area to complement the proposed ramp, asked that his plan should be given consideration.

Klemmer said he had voted against approving the preliminary plans at a previous council meeting because they had gone to the parking commission — not the board of public works — and then directly to the council.

Review Plans

He claimed aldermen did not have a chance to review the preliminary plans.

Klemmer said he would suggest elimination of any elevators in the multi-level structure and also what he claimed was a sharp incline within the ramp.

Ald. Roy Pointer (14th), street-sanitation committee chairman, said he originally voted against approving the preliminary plans, too, because he had some questions. However, Pointer said he conferred with City Planner Walter Rasmussen, had his questions answered, and now concurs.

Consider Mall

He told Klemmer the council indicated a mall or green strip should be considered to blend in with the design and aesthetics of the parking structure.

Klemmer said an estimate of $850,000 has been given for the ramp cost and questioned whether the parking commission should have been the only municipal body to review the preliminary plans, commenting, "After all, half the commission is comprised of merchants."

"I see no reason for holding up these plans any further," commented Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th), "The council, by a wide margin, approved them."

Irritated Over Delays

Irritated over the delays which the ramp planning has encountered, Tews said he felt the only way to avoid any further problems was to have preliminary plans for all municipal buildings, including schools, reviewed by the entire council before any action is taken.

He made his suggestion in the form of a motion and the board concurred.

The plans for the ramp are being prepared by Richard C. Rich and Associates, Detroit, nationally - known parking ramp consultants. The council had asked the firm to have final plans ready by May 1.

Revised Timetable

However, the latest delay will result in the timetable being revised again. City officials hope to get the ramp started this year and finished by next spring before College Avenue reconstruction gets started.

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues told the board the orders of the council had been followed in preparing the preliminary ramp plans. "We have prodeeded on the premise that the council has adopted a plan and wants to follow it," Bues said

Klemmer said the city should not necessarily follow the comprehensive plan for the city's business district.

Bues had intended to notify the Detroit firm today to proceed with final working plans for the proposed parking structure. However, he is keeping the preliminary plans here until May 20 to see what action the council will take the second time around.

Panel Seeks To Regulate School Cost

ed to know if the new school would qualify for a state or federal grant, especially for the orthopedic wing.

He was told by Ald. Arthur Mueller (19th) that William Spears, superintendent of schools was checking it out.

A question was also raised by Pointer as to whether the council would select the architect based on a policy it established when planning the Soldiers Square parking structure.

"If this is the policy the council wants to follow, then it would appear we start all over again," Mitchell said, "It's up to the council."

Hasn't Seen Cost

"I haven't seen a price tag on this new school," Tews declared. "Where is the figure?"

Pointer said he assumed the school board—or someone—would be able to give a rough estimate on what the proposed school would cost.

At that point some aldermen asked that Ald. Paul Klemmer (11th), who was in the mayor's office discussing another matter, be called into the room so he would not miss out on the deliberations.

Klemmer said he was familiar with the operation of the Oshkosh public School system and that when a new school was to be built there, a figure was set in advance and the architect and school board stayed within the cost range.

"They try to keep a thumb on the project right at the start," Klemmer said, "This is also done in other cities."

Klemmer said he found these things out when he served as a member of the evaluation team formed during the controversy over the plans and $5 6 million cost of the new high school here.

Ald. R. P. Groh (8th) said he presumed the school board would find out what federal aids, if any, would be available before it started laying out the plan for the new grade school

Obtain Warrant For Arrest on Conduct Charge

MENASHA — Police have obtained a warrant for the arrest of Harvey Knipfel, 1802 Lake St., Apleton, on a disorderly conduct charge arising from a free-for-all over a drinking dog.

Knipfel returned to Theda Clark Memorial hospital early Monday, police learned, apparently as a result of injuries received in the frav in the Drawbridge Bar, 10 Tayco St., early Sunday morning

Previously charged in the incident was Dale A. Gierke, who lives in an apartment above a tavern at 6 Tayco St. He allegedly allowed his dog to drink from customers' glasses, leading to the battle in which Knipfel's wife had her blouse torn and Knipfel was hit on the head with a bar stool, according to police reports.

Three Injured in Neenah Accident

NEENAH — Three persons complained of whiplash injuries following a two-car accident at S Commercial and Doty streets at 7:50 p.m. Tuesday.

Police advised Donald L. Ehrenberg, 23, 210 Bond St., his wife, 20, and Robert Ehrenberg, 10, 312 Lopas St., Menasha, to consult their physicians.

Authorities said Ehrenberg's car was stopped in traffic on Commercial waiting to make a left turn onto Doty when it was struck in the rear by a car driven by Robert C. Sokolowski, 38, 410 First St., Menasha.

Calumet Hunters Favor Any Sex Deer Season

Sportsmen Approved a State Proposed One-Week Teal Hunt in Early September

CHILTON — A two-day "any sex" deer season followed by a seven-day buck season was favored by the Calumet County sportsmen.

The recommendation to the state proposed nine-day season was made at the annual spring fish and game hearing Monday.

This proposal would apply only to the eastern agricultural zone of which Calumet County is a part.

Keith Reichenbach, state conservation warden, said most proposals of the state have been accepted favorably.

Season Favored

The deer season proposal was favored 17 to 13 without floor discussion. Last year the two day any sex season was rejected

Reichenbach said apparently the increasing number of deer seen in the county has convinced the sportsmen that the Calumet deer herd is plentiful and could not be harmed by two days of hunting bucks and does.

Also favored was the proposed experimental early teal season If passed by the Conservation Commission, hunters could hunt teal during the first week in September.

Some have expressed fears that local duck populations might be frightened away by the early shooting

However, the proposal received local approval by a 16-1 vote.

Delegates elected to attend the state conservation congress, May 20 and 21, in Madison are Ed Hillmann, chairman; Eben Phillips, vice-chairman, and James Hale Ray Ecker was named alternate.

Settle Rift Over Bids on Sewer Project

take the action which we did?" he asked.

Bues said altogether, there are four public works projects to be correlated with the Bellaire Park work.

"By delaying awarding of the sewer contract we have already put a two-week crimp into the schedule," Bues added.

Bid on Projects

Bues said once McHugh and Coppens have their present city projects completed, he would recommend they again be eligible to bid on municipal projects.

"There is no intent to permanently disqualify the firm or say that it is not capable of doing the work," Bues added.

Tews said in the future he would want to have contractors brought before the board when they fall behind on work schedules or do not respond to warnings from inspectors or the public works director.

Gasoline Price War Continues Downward Trend in Appleton

Gasoline prices today remain posted at reduced prices as the price war continues on its downward trend.

Independent stations are advertising regular gasoline at 23 9 cents per gallon with premium gasoline posted 2 and 3 cents higher.

Major oil companies are selling regular gasoline for 25 9 cents and premium fuel for 29 9 cents per gallon.

"As usual, the customer is the only one that benefits in a situation like this," commented one local dealer.

Safety Council To Tour Plant; Seek 'Hazards'

An unusual type of program will highlight the April meeting of the Greater Appleton Area Safety Council Thursday night.

Council members and guests will tour the Fox River Tractor Co., 3800 W. Wisconsin Ave., and will be told to keep watch for "planted" safety hazards.

A discussion period will follow the tour which starts at 7:30 p.m.

Capt. John Gosch of the Appleton Police Department, an official of the safety council, pointed out that this will be a first for the organization and "should prove helpful in promoting industrial safety."

Deadline on Feed Grain Is Friday

Farmers who wish to sign up for the 1966 feed grain program are reminded that Friday is the final day for filing applications at county offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Regular office hours are scheduled in Outagamie County, manager Joe Rickert said.

He explained that current talk about world food shortages has "nothing to do with feed grain acreage being shifted from production to conserving use.

"Feed grain stocks are still more than adequate so there is a continued need for full participation in the program. The shortage of soybeans, wheat and milk are not covered in the shift. Rather," he said, "we are encouraging farmers to plant soybeans instead of corn on corn permitted acres because of the national shortage in this commodity."

Northwestern Band to Play In Appleton

The Northwestern University Symphonic Band will present a public concert at 8:15 p.m. Friday at Appleton High School.

The 100-member organization, under the direction of John Paynter, is sponsored by the Appleton and Kaukauna Public Schools Music Parents Association. The band will appear here during a five-day tour of Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Prof. John Paynter

Paynter, who became director in 1953, began his career as a student at Northwestern in 1946. He was made acting director of bands in 1950. He was appointed director of marching band and instructor of music theory in 1951. He also holds the rank of associate professor of theory at the school of music.

Paynter has served as music judge, music clinic instructor and guest conductor in more than 35 states.

UW Center Sets Music Clinic For Area Youths

2-Week Ensemble Session Prepared for High School Students

Local high school musicians have been invited to attend a two-week ensemble clinic at the University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley Center beginning Monday, June 13. Students may register in one of four classifications: vocal, strings, woodwinds or brass.

The clinic will be aimed at individual and ensemble study with special emphasis placed on theory and sight-singing. Two hours of each six hour day will be spent studying and performing ensemble literature in the student's respective group.

Special staff and theory instructors will conduct daily classes for the musicians. The final hour of each day will be devoted to recitals by members of the faculty and students.

Franklin W. Doverspike, director of the clinic, has announced that the staff is being made up of area high school and college instructors. The clinic will offer commuting students a chance to receive instruction at a lower expense than that of a resident clinic.

Co-sponsoring the clinic is the University of Wisconsin extension division, Prof. Emmett R. Sarig, music chairman.

Little Chute Firemen Extingish Grass Fire

LITTLE CHUTE — Volunteer firemen were called to extinguish a grass fire in a wooded area near the end of Garfield Street about 12:20 p.m. Tuesday when wind blew the flames toward residential buildings in the area.

Firemen fought the blaze for about 20 minutes before bringing it under control. The fire is believed to have been started by children playing in the area.

Appleton Senior Gets Fellowship

Thomas W. St. John, 1342 W. Lawrence St., a senior at the University of Wisconsin-Madison is the first recipient of the A. W. Peterson Fellowship in accounting.

The award will be presented annually by Sigma Chapter of Beta Alpha Psi, national accounting honorary fraternity in the school of commerce.

St. John, who plans to take graduate study at the University, was awarded the $500 on the basis of academic achievement in accounting.

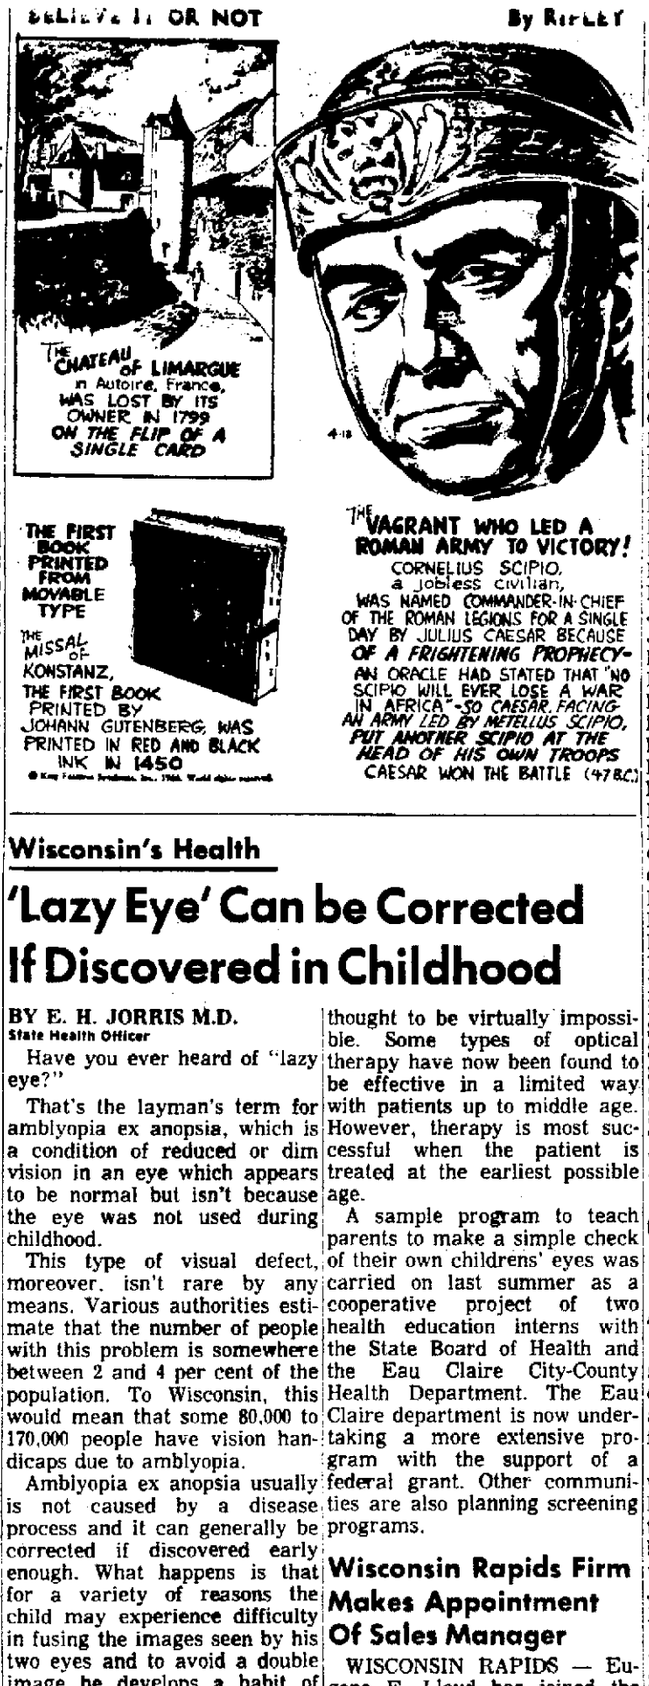
The new fellowship is dedicated to the memory of the late Alfred W. Peterson, vice president and trust officer and native of Waupaca, who died last October after more than 40 years of service to the university.

Couple Seeks Okay To Enlarge Waterway

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Chester C. and Ruth S. Ulrich of Fremont, Winnebago County, have applied to the State Public Service Commission (PSC) for permission to enlarge a waterway off Alder Creek in the Town of Wolf River for use as a boat channel.

Unless written objections are received by the PSC within 30 days, permissing to proceed with the project may be given without holding a public hearing.



Wisconsin's Health

'Lazy Eye' Can be Corrected If Discovered in Childhood

BY E. H. JORRIS M.D.
State Health Officer

Have you ever heard of "lazy eye?"

That's the layman's term for amblyopia ex anopsia, which is a condition of reduced or dim vision in an eye which appears to be normal but isn't because the eye was not used during childhood.

This type of visual defect, moreover, isn't rare by any means. Various authorities estimate that the number of people with this problem is somewhere between 2 and 4 per cent of the population. To Wisconsin, this would mean that some 80,000 to 170,000 people have vision handicaps due to amblyopia.

Amblyopia ex anopsia usually is not caused by a disease process and it can generally be corrected if discovered early enough. What happens is that for a variety of reasons the child may experience difficulty in fusing the images seen by his two eyes and to avoid a double image he develops a habit of seeing with one eye. The child isn't aware of what he is doing, nor are his parents. By the time he is ready to start school, where he will probably encounter his first vision test, his visual development is nearly complete. That is why at least a simple pre-school visual check should be made, prefereably between the ages of three and four.

Can amblyopia be corrected? Yes, especially if the treatment is begun before the age of six. In some cases "patching," which is covering the good eye to force the patient to use the weak eye, will succeed. Sometimes eyeglasses are prescribed and sometimes they are not needed. Only professionally qualified persons should prescribe treatment. In cases where eye alignment is involved, such as cross-eye or wall-eye, muscle surgery is required. A child will not outgrow crossed eyes.

Treatment of amblyopia after early childhood was once thought to be virtually impossible. Some types of optical therapy have now been found to be effective in a limited way with patients up to middle age. However, therapy is most successful when the patient is treated at the earliest possible age.

A sample program to teach parents to make a simple check of their own childrens' eyes was carried on last summer as a cooperative project of two health education interns with the State Board of Health and the Eau Claire City-County Health Department. The Eau Claire department is now undertaking a more extensive program with the support of a federal grant. Other communities are also planning screening programs.

Wisconsin Rapids Firm Makes Appointment Of Sales Manager

WISCONSIN RAPIDS — Eugene F. Lloyd has joined the paperboard products division of Consolidated Papers, Inc. as general sales manager.

Appointment to the position was announced today by John Z. Segal, general manager, who said Lloyd would direct the division's sales of corrugated containers, cartons, tubes, and laminates.

Lloyd has 12 years of production and sales experience in the converting field. He was recently employed as sales manager for Lawless Brothers Paper Mills, Inc., Rochester, N.Y.

He majored in engineering at Syracuse University and is a graduate of Temple University.

Auction Thursday for Top Herd of Ayrshires

NEW LONDON — One of Wisconsin's top registered Ayrshire dairy herds will be auctioned off beginning 9 a.m. Thursday.

The herd, owned by Mike Gradl, route 2, Hortonville, will draw bidders from throughout the Midwest for the auction. The 60-head herd includes 28 milk cows, one bull, 10 calves, the balance being heifers.

Gov. Knowles to Participate in AAL Dedication

Gov. Warren P. Knowles is scheduled to participate in the dedication program of the new addition to the Aid Association for Lutherans building April 21.

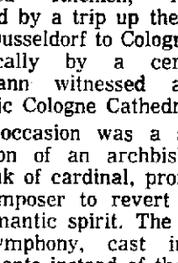
Accompanying the governor will be Insurance Commissioner Robert D. Haase and representatives of local governing bodies. The dedication address will be given by Dr. Oswald C. J. Hoffman, speaker on the International Lutheran Hour.

Dedication ceremonies will take place between 1:45 and 2:15 p.m.

Lawrence Concert Set For Sunday

Symphony to Play Music of Brahms, Riegger, Schumann

Music of Brahms, Wallingford Riegger and Schumann has been programmed by conductor Kenneth Byler for the Lawrence Symphony Orchestra's concert at 8 p.m. Sunday in Lawrence University Memorial Chapel.



Byler

The 65-piece ensemble of university and Fox Valley musicians will be playing the third of its four public appearances here this season. Earlier it gave a formal concert and assisted with the Lawrence Choral Society's annual "Messiah" performance. A traditional Commencement concert will follow in June.

Sunday's program is open to the public without charge.

Byler, an associate professor of music, has listed the following works: "Tragic Overture," Opus 81, by Brahms; "Music for Orchestra," Opus 50 (1950), and "Dance Rhythms," Opus 58 (1958), by Riegger; and Symphony No. 3 in E Flat Major, Opus 97, by Schumann.

'Rhenish' Symphony

Highlighting the program is the Schumann symphony, his last work in that medium. Subtitled "Rhenish," it was inspired by a trip up the Rhine from Dusseldorf to Cologne, and specifically by a ceremony Schumann witnessed at the majestic Cologne Cathedral.

The occasion was a solemn elevation of an archbishop to the rank of cardinal, prompting the composer to revert to his old romantic spirit. The resulting symphony, cast in five movements instead of the usual classic four, had a strong folkish flavor reminiscent of the Rhine Valley, and a particularly programmatic fourth movement marked "In the Character of an Accompaniment to a Solemn Ceremony."

This so-called "Cathedral Scene" was set to a slowmoving, chorale-like chant played by brasses and woodwinds, creating the effect of the ancient church ritual. Its unorthodox style was puzzling to Schumann's contemporaries, and it remains today one of the composer's more impressive symphonic movements.

Brahms' Overture

Brahms' "Tragic Overture" was one of his two orchestral works provided with extra-musical titles. Written the same year as the well known "Academic Festival Overture," the "Tragic" has seemed to suggest as sources of inspiration such dramatic characters as a Hamlet or Faust. But in reality Brahms is known to have intended the title to suggest a non-musical connotation. One noted music historian has called the overture the "greatest of his (Brahms') orchestral movements.

Riegger's "Dance Rhythms" has a special significance for Fox Valley concertgoers. The work was first performed by the Peninsula Festival Orchestra in Fish Creek in 1958 under the direction of Dr. Thor Johnson, to whom the score is dedicated.

"Music for Orchestra" sprang from Riegger's interest in the twelve-tone techniques of Schoenberg and others. Like "Dance Rhythms," it reflects the considerable freedom of style which is a hallmark of its versatile and prolific composer. Riegger, an American, died in 1961. He was especially well known for his extensive work in the theatre, particularly with dancers such as Martha Graham.

Reduced Electric, Gas Rates Filed by Utility With PSC

MADISON (AP) — The State Public Service Commission reported today that the Wisconsin Public Service Corp. has filed a schedule of reduced electric and gas rates amounting to $1,450,000 a year.

The new rates will go into effect May 16.

The commission said the reduction resulted from negotiations with the utility, which serves 180,000 electric customers and 91,000 gas users in northern and northeastern Wisconsin.

Principal cities supplied both gas and electric service include Green Bay, Oshkosh, Stevens Point, Marinette, Merrill and Rhinelander. Larger cities supplied with electric service only are Wausau and Antigo. The firm furnishes only gas in Sheboygan.

Decades, Billions Needed to Cleanse Dirty Great Lakes

Canadian Scientist Alarmed by Rapid Rate of Pollution Increase

OTTAWA (AP) — The Great Lakes, mankind's greatest reservoir of fresh water, are becoming so polluted that experts say it will take decades and billions of dollars to reverse the process.

"I hope we can stop the spread of pollution," says Dr. George B. Langford, head of Toronto University's Great Lakes Institute, "but it's getting worse at an alarming rate."

The joint U.S.-Canadian Committee on Trade and Economic Affairs, headed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Canadian Foreign Minister Paul Martin, called last month for urgent efforts to clean up the fouled waters.

The committee noted "with concern" a report by the U.S.-Canadian International Joint Commission calling for drastic action to curb the growth of algae and prevent factories and cities from dumping untreated waste into the lakes.

Oxygen Loss

Experts are especially worried about Lake Erie, where a self feeding chain reaction of wastes and algae is robbing the water of precious oxygen.

A September 1964 report said that about 800 square miles of Lake Erie were covered with a mat of green, slimy algae, giving the water the consistency of pea soup.

As more and more phosphate and nitrate wastes pour into Lake Erie, the algae feeding on them multiply and drain the water of more and more oxygen

"If it goes on," Dr. Langford warns, "there will be large areas where the water will be valueless for most purposes without going through an expensive purification like that needed to make sea water usable."

Hardest Hit

Pollution has hit Lake Erie harder than the other four great lakes, experts say, because it is the smallest and shallowest, yet an estimated 11 million persons live on its shore, in cities including Detroit, Cleveland and Buffalo.

Lake Ontario also suffers from pollution, although not as much as neighboring Lake Erie. Algae litter 43 miles of the northern shore.

Pollution is considered less serious in the other three Great Lakes. Lakes Superior and Huron are larger than Erie or Ontario, and their shores are less populated. Lake Michigan borders on Chicago, a potential source of pollution, but that city flushes its sewage down tributaries of the Mississippi River rather than into the Lake.

Astronauts Briefed on Capsule Life

DOWNEY, Calif. (AP) — Three astronauts get a glimpse into the future today.

Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom, Air Force Lt. Col. Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Roger B. Chaffee are to be briefed on how it feels to work and sleep for days on end in a 6x9-foot capsule — by three men who have already lived through the ordeal.

Grissom, White and Chaffee, assigned to fly the first Apollo spacecraft into earth orbit late this year, were on hand Tuesday when research engineers Richard Erman, John Moyles and Norman Abell ended a 14-day simulated trip to the moon.

The three engineers were bearded but healthy and happy that they had proved the life-support system designed for Apollo craft should keep astronauts safe and comfortable.

"It's a good system," said Abell, 37. "I think we could have stayed in there another two weeks if necessary — but none of us wanted to."

Their mockup Apollo capsule was suspended in a space-like vacuum in an altitude chamber at the Space Systems Division of North American Aviation

They spent parts of four days in cumbersome Apollo space suits — their only protection when air was sucked out of the capsule to simulate hits by marble-sized micrometeorites.

End Near on Hearing for Estes Retrial

EL PASO, Tex (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Leo Brewster weighed contradictory statements by Billie Sol Estes and a witness testifying against him on the bankrupt West Texas promoter's bid to get out of prison today.

More testimony was due from Hilbert Kreeger Jr., a Chicago loan company official engaged in the dispute with Estes.

Court observers expected the hearing on Estes' motion for a new trial, which started Monday, to end during the day. Since Judge Brewster has said he intended to reread all eight volumes of the record from Estes' 1963 fraud trial, it was uncertain whether the court would rule immediately.

Estes told the court that his 15-year term for mail fraud and conspiracy should be canceled for at least two reasons: that Kreeger had lied at the trial here three years ago, and that there was no fraud in his multimillion-dollar dealings in fertilizer tank mortgages because all those engaging in the transactions knew there was no security for most of the loans.

Just as he had testified at the 1963 trial Kreeger maintained Tuesday he had never seen or talked with Estes prior to that trial.

Estes, breaking four years of courtroom silence on the mortgaged deals because of criminal charges against him in several other cities, testified earlier he and Kreeger had worked out a business deal about May 24, 1961.

Soviet Leaders Keep Secret Expansion Plan

Increased Quality Quantity Promised At Party Congress

By FRED COLEMAN

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet people heard their leaders make broad promises at a party congress last week to increase the quality and quantity of food, clothing and other consumer goods.

They have yet to see the concrete plan for 1966-70 that will put these promises into effect and Premier Alexei N Kosygin said it will be another four or five months before they do. The plan sets production tasks for every Soviet factory and farm

Some specialists here see the delay on the plan as a sign of possible divisions among top Soviet leaders.

Divisions are believed certain over how Kosygin's economic reforms will take shape.

The reforms retain the traditional Soviet system of central planning of economic activity. But they give the individual factory manager more say in setting his own production plan, based on local demand for his goods.

All Dissatisfied

The factory manager has only a limited say, but the planners no longer have absolute power to set production goals. The result could be dissatisfaction of both sides.

Profits are the key word in the new system.

Success used to depend on whether the required amount of goods was produced, regardless of it being sold. Workers often got bonuses for meeting the quota even though it wasted millions in state funds.

Under the new system, workers will get bonuses if the factory makes more sales and profits. The profits in turn are based on price.

Soviet prices, often set arbitrarily in the past, are being revised into line with the value of goods.

New Prices

The new prices are not expected to go into effect before 1968, the third year of the plan.

Planners need to know how the new prices will be set so they can chart reasonable profits in drawing up the plan.

Kosygin had been expected to provide some guidance on new pricing formulas at the congress He did not.

This led some Westerners here to conclude that divisions on the pricing question may be partly responsible for the plan's delay.

The pricing system gets to the heart of the Communist economic system Should prices be set by supply and demand, by the dictates of central planners or by a mixture of both?

The Soviets have already reacted heatedly to assertions in the West and in Communist China that they are borrowing economic ideas from capitalism. They may be facing the same problem in deciding how far to go in letting market factors dictate prices.

Limited Plan

While waiting for the detailed plan to be published, the Soviets are working on a stop gap plan for 1966, with relatively limited goals.

Goals for the later years of the plan will have to be much higher in order to meet over-all goals

Some Westerners believe the Russians will either have to overfulfil the 1966 plan or eventually scale down the goals of the full plan

This, by itself, could scale down the supply of consumer goods promised by Soviet leaders

The difficulties of adjusting to a new planning system by 1968 are expected to provide further difficulties in meeting five-year goals.

Consumer Growth

The long-term goals of the plan place a new accent on consumer goods Growth rates in consumer or light industries and in heavy industries are nearly equal this time.

But the growth rates are only percentage figures. In the case of consumer goods, the percentage applies to a lower base of actual production This means the economy will still stress heavy industry.

Consumer goods, however, are clearly important in the economic competition with the West.

The Soviets are attempting to show the world that their planned economic system is the best one. Their new plan is supposed to overcome past defects in their system.

Jaunt to Mexico City

President Plans First Trip to Foreign Capital

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson will travel to a foreign capital Thursday for the first time since taking office. He will fly to Mexico City for an informal 24-hour visit.

The trip will feature a couple of ceremonies — notably the unveiling Friday of a statue of Abraham Lincoln — and a private meeting with Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz.

Johnson decided to make the trip as a goodwill gesture. He is no stranger to the country south of the Rio Grande, where he spent his honeymoon and enjoyed several holidays while serving in Congress. He has met often with Mexican leaders.

By making the jetspeed journey, Johnson will upstage wife Lady Bird and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Originally he had tagged them to head the American delegation at the unveiling of the $150,000 Lincoln statue — a gift from the United States.

Canadian Border

Mrs. Johnson and Rusk will fly here from Washington Thursday afternoon to pick up the President. Johnson will return Friday afternoon but they will stay in Mexico City for a round of scheduled activities Saturday.

Johnson, who flew to Texas last Thursday for an Easter holiday, is expected to return to his ranch and wait there for Lady Bird. They probably will fly to Washington together Sunday night. The ranch is near Johnson City, 65 miles north of here.

Although he has never visited a foreign capital as president, Johnson has twice stepped across the U.S.-Mexico border.

In September 1964 he met former Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos at El Paso, Tex., to commemorate the settling of a century-old border dispute He barely stepped across the boundary that day.

Return Friday

That same autumn Johnson flew to Vancouver, Canada, for a border ceremony marking ratification of a Columbia River development treaty.

Before the unveiling of the Lincoln statue, at which the President will speak, he will participate in another ceremony in Mexico City. Details were not immediately announced.

The Mexican Foreign Ministry also disclosed Johnson would meet privately with Diaz Ordaz during the morning. And, just before departure, Johnson will be among the guests of Diaz Ordaz at a luncheon.

The two men have met before. As president-elect, Diaz Ordaz visited the LBJ Ranch in November 1964.

U. S. Military Seeks Supply of European Meat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government plans to seek supplies of beef and pork in Europe to help feed Amrican military men there.

The Defense Department disclosed today that its procurment officials will work with the Agriculture Department in bartering American crop surpluses for supplies of European meat.

Such procurement would reduce military demands on American supplies of meat at a time when the administration is interested in bringing down food prices, particularly pork, in an effort to combat inflation.

The government also would utilize the foreign currencies this country has accumulated by selling food surpluses to needy countries under the Food for Peace program This would save defense dollars not only for the purchaser of meats but for their transportation overseas.

Defense Department officials said the amount of meat obtained in Europe would be small compared with total U.S. meat production.

Power Crutches Developed to Aid The Handicapped

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Three men working in a garage workshop say they have developed power crutches which enable a handicapped person to raise and lower himself by pressing a button.

The battery-operated device, which is to go into production this summer, is expected to cost about $500 a pair.

Smokers Won't Believe They Could be Victims of Illness

Psychologist Uncovers Social, Emotional Reasons for Habit

By JAMES V. LAMB

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Why do people continue to smoke even though they are convinced it may be harmful?

Dr. Bernard Mausner, after a four-year study financed by the U.S. Public Health Service, believes it is because they reject as intolerable the idea that their own health could be affected.

"Most people will agree with the proposition that smoking may be injurious to health," Mausner, a psychologist at Beaver College in suburban Jenkintown, said today.

But, he went on, "no smoker really can visualize himself as suffering from any of the major diseases associated with smoking."

Self View

"To think of one's self as a victim of lung cancer or coronary artery disease is inconceivable."

Thus, he believes, most people will keep puffing away.

In interviews and reports covering his studies, Mausner describes how subjects were shown the chain of reasoning that leads scientists to the conclusion that smoking is bad — and what the consequences are.

"Our hypothesis was that if they were shown this information they would quit smoking," he said.

However, at the end of the experiments, he found that although most smokers agreed smoking was harmful and somthing should be done about it, "nobody stopped smoking on the basis of the changed attitude — although a small proportion cut down."

Mausner believes there are three basic reasons why people smoke:

— "Enjoyment, tension relief, the general emotional rewards."

— "Social reasons: It's a kind of cement that ties people together."

— "The self-image. I think people are always proving who they are to themselves and to the outside world. And you can prove to yourself, by the gestures you make smoking, that you're sophisticated, or tough, or thoughtful, or nervous, or placid and calm."

Tax Collections Running Higher Than Expected

Treasury Claims Continued Trend Will Trim Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury officials reported today that tax collections ran higher than expected during the first three months of 1966. If the trend continues, some said, the budget deficit for the current fiscal year could be trimmed by a "noticeable amount."

Spokesmen were hesitant to talk about exact figures but the increased collections could lower the anticipated deficit possibly to $5 billion or lower if the administration succeeds in trimming federal expenditures. President Johnson has called for a cutback of $1.1 billion in the next three months.

Johnson originally projected a budget deficit of $5.3 billion during the fiscal year that ends June 30. Because of the Viet Nam war, he announced in January the anticipated deficit had been raised to $6 4 billion.

Cut Spending

Two weeks ago Johnson asked his Cabinet to cut $1.1 billion from federal spending as part of an anti-inflation drive. The White House said it is still uncertain whether that goal could be met.

Treasury officials were not unanimous in agreeing that increased tax collections could ease the deficit. One official commented that the Treasury always is conservative in its revenue estimates.

Budget deficits are nothing new to the nation. In only six years since 1931 has the federal budget shown a surplus. The largest post-World War II deficit was $12.4 billion during fiscal 1959.

Three peanut butter flavored drinks, two hot and one cold, are excellent for snacktime, party or brunch. Any of them makes a perfect partner for Peanut Butterscotch Squares.

Jelly fills the center of the crunchy peanut butter cookies, left. Jelly rings the top of the velvety-smooth peanut flavored pie and peanuts and marmalade mingle in the coffee cake topping.

People Pleaser . . .

that's the name for peanut butter

By Lillian Mackesy POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR

Almost everyone likes peanut butter. In sandwiches it's the greatest when teamed with jelly. . .it makes a delicious dip when thinned a bit with cream or cream cheese. It's been known as an excellent topping for desserts and certain soups. Certainly most youngsters jump for joy when the cookie jar holds crunchy peanut butter treats.

Peanut butter surely is a universal favorite and, to make it more pleasing, the National Peanut Council has come along with some unique suggestions . . one more delicious than the other.

There are recipes for peanut butter flavored beverages, two hot and two cold, unusual creations but in that oh-so-good category. Two of the drinks combine peanut butter and chocolate. . .along a popular combination. The hot version is enhanced with a topping of whipped cream sparked with crushed peanut brittle. The cold version is really a soda that's topped with a peanut-studded scoop of ice cream. The third combines peanut butter with brown sugar for a toffee-like flavor; a cinnamon stick stirrer gives this hot milk drink extra zip.

Just to round out the drink menu, a recipe is included that doesn't use peanut butter but mighty close to it with its peanut oil shortening and crushed salted peanuts for contrast.

The rest of the recipes do use peanut butter in a useful variety of ways. . .some every cook will wish she had thought up herself and much sooner. From Mexico comes the trick of enhancing vegetables with elegant sauces . . . . both of these today, are adaptations which turn "run of the mill" vegetables into an excitingly different accompaniment to a meat course.

The Jumbles represent the peanut butter cookie in delicious form. These are shown with both a coffee cake and smooth cheese pie that utilize the nutritious spread.

The last two recipes are apple desserts. . .one called Peanut Panapples and the other Spicy Baked Apples. Both come piping hot from the oven.

PEANUT BUTTERSCOTCH SQUARES

- ½ cup peanut oil
- 1 cup dark brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups sifted flour
- ¼ teaspoon baking powder
- 2 to 3 tablespoons milk
- ½ cup chopped salted peanuts
- Lemon Glaze

Measure peanut oil, brown sugar, egg and vanilla into mixing bowl. Stir until evenly blended. Sift flour with baking

When luscious apples team with crunchy peanut butter, flaked coconut and fruit juices and a spirit sprinkling of spices, they take high honors for a delicious duo of desserts. Either of these dishes is a delight — Peanut Panapples in the bowl or the individual Spicy Baked Apples.

Bridge Tourney on Weekend Agenda

The Conway Hotel will be the setting Friday, Saturday and Sunday for the annual Northeastern Wisconsin Sectional Bridge Tournament. Termed 'The Tournament of Hospitality', the event will open with mixed pair competition at 8 p.m. Friday. Players are expected from Wisconsin, Upper Michigan, Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Lloyd Doerfler will serve as general chairman of the tourney. Planning the opening session Friday are Mrs. Louis Vanevenhoven, Kaukauna, and Frederick Bills, co-chairmen of partnerships.

A two-session Open Pair game is scheduled at 1:30 and 8 p.m. Saturday. Mrs. G. G. Eastwood, Neenah, Mrs. Clarence Schultz, John Kamps and Dennis Kral, Kaukauna, have charge of partnership arrangements.

Sunday Games

The Team of Four game is scheduled at 1 p.m. Sunday, with James Burrows, Menasha, and Kenneth Denis having charge of partnerships. Also set for Sunday afternoon is the Fox Cities Special Pair Game. Mrs. Clarence Theis, Kaukauna, and Mrs. Harry Koller have charge of arranging partnerships.

Mrs. John Fourness is tournament director, assisted by Mr. Fourness, LaVern Laurvick, Superior, and Glenn Fischer, Madison.

A buffet dinner will be served Saturday evening for all players participating in the Open Pair Game.

The tourney is sponsored by the Wisconsin Upper Michigan Bridge Association and Fox Cities area bridge clubs. Mrs. H. J. Weller, executive secretary of the association, has charge of memberships.

Miss Bonnin Feted at Parties

HORTONVILLE — Miss Susan Bonnin, 301 W. Cedar St., was honored recently at two prebridal parties.

A miscellaneous shower was given March 27 at Keller's Dugout, route 1, Hortonville.

Mrs. Milton Fannin, 307 W. Cedar St., was hostess at a canned goods and coin shower March 28. She was assisted by Mrs. Robert Baehman.

Miss Bonnin will be married to Leon Fritch Saturday at Bethlehem Lutheran Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fritch, route 2, Fremont.

Marriage Announced

STOCKBRIDGE — Mr. and Mrs. Herman Joas, Stockbridge, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Rosemary Jacobs, to Orville Burdick, Oshkosh. The ceremony took place at 2 p.m. April 3 in Oshkosh.

The couple honeymooned in the west and live in Oshkosh. They are employed at Winnebago State Hospital.

Your Problems

Gentleman Friend Serenades Widow on Three-Party Line

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a widow in my middle 60's. A gentleman who lost his wife three years ago has been taking me out for six months. He is a fine person but something about him bothers me.

This gentleman telephones almost every evening and plays tunes on the harmonica Sometimes I stand by the phone for 15 minutes listening to several choruses of "My Wild Irish Rose." I'm on a three-party line and the other folks get mad when he ties up the phone with his musicals. He doesn't hear them holler, "Get the bum off,"

Landers

but I hear them and it's embarrassing

I hate to hurt the gentleman's feelings because I know he thinks he is pleasing me Kindly advise. — In a Quandry

Dear Q: Invite the gentleman to serenade you in person. I'll bet he'd prefer a live audience and I'm sure the folks on the party line would appreciate it if he'd free up the phone.

DEAR ANN LANDERS You might think it strange that a mother of 10 children is writing to you for advice, but I need it

My six older children are happily married — two are physicians, one is a nurse and three are social workers My old-fashioned methods worked fine with them, but my four teen-agers at home tell me that times have changed and I must change with them

I refuse to let my teen-agers go steady My 15-year-old son tells me that the parents of his special girl friend want him to be her steady fellow and they feel I'm too strict

My own sister has a son who has been going steady for eight months He is only 15 When I asked her why she permitted it she said, "What can a mother do when a teen-ager puts his foot down? What is the answer? — Old Time Mother

Dear Mother Put your foot down on top of the kid's foot and sing out, "This is the way it's going to be"

Time doesn't change a child's need for discipline, nor does it change his need for authority in the home.

When that authority gets to be the kids themselves — look out

You sound like a terrific dame to me and I hope you'll use on the four kids at home the same rules that worked so well with your six grown-up kids.

DEAR ANN Last night my wife and I attended a big banquet First on the program was a soprano who sang the national anthem The woman had a beautiful voice and she sang all four verses When she finished I applauded with a few others

I remarked to Olive that there was mighty little applause considering all the effort that the singer had put into it Olive said, "Look, stupid, nobody is supposed to applaud the national anthem"

I say when people sing the national anthem they shouldn't applaud themselves, but when a singer sings it, she should get applause because she is a performer Who is right? — The Spouse

Dear Spouse: If you want to let the singer know you appreciated her efforts, tell her after the banquet, but don't applaud the national anthem — ever.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Wardrobe Problem

Do you have a wardrobe problem, Miss Teen? Doesn't everybody? A new Easter outfit notwithstanding

What do you do about your problems? Cry havoc, or turn detective and find the solution? The clues are right under your nose — in the ads and fashion pages of your newspaper Just for instance

Is your hair a washout in the rain? No scarf gives enough cover? Then be alerted to double-faced, red-and-blue denim umbrellas and snappy visor caps of denim lined with calico

You never have enough blouses and tire of those you have? What you need are chameleon fabrics with "magic powder" attached. Then, when it's time for a change, all you do is pour the powder in hot water and dip your blouse Presto, the blouse comes out a brand new color and as good as new.

Are you foggy about what to wear over pants and shorts?

Imaginative Dash

For best flavor, brown ground beef in a little fat before using it in tomato sauce for spaghetti.

Some cooks like to add raisins to the meat-and-rice mixture used as a stuffing for cabbage rolls.

Ole! Ponchos are on the beam and will go over bathing suits later

Did you get a rip in your new plastic vinyl raincoat? Maddening, but easily mended Notion departments now carry self-stick vinyl mending tape. It's transparent and needs no sewing You just stick it on

It's time to store your boots, but where? Try a boot file This gadget hangs on a closet rod and holds six pairs in see-through pockets.

powder and stir into oil-sugar-egg mixture, adding enough milk to leave dough quite stiff, but slightly wet. Stir in peanuts. Pack dough into a greased 9-inch square baking pan. Bake in a 30-degree over, 25 to 30 minutes, or until lightly browned around edges. Remove from oven. While still hot pour Lemon Glaze over top, spreading evenly. Cool and cut into squares. Recipe makes three dozen cookies.

LEMON GLAZE

1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
2 tablespoons milk
¼ teaspoon lemon extract or
½ teaspoon lemon rind

Blend sugar with milk, adding as much as three tablespoons milk if necessary, the mixture should be quite thin. Flavor either with lemon extract or grated lemon rind.

PEANUTTY COCOA

¼ cup peanut butter
⅓ cup chocolate syrup
1 quart milk
topping

Measure peanut butter and chocolate syrup into saucepan Stir to blend. Add milk a little at a time, stirring until ingredients are evenly blended Heat until almost boiling Pour into mugs or cups and top with Whipped Cream Candy Topping Recipe makes six servings.

WHIPPED CREAM CANDY TOPPING

Whip half-cup heavy cream until soft peaks form Fold in one-fourth cup crushed peanut brittle

CHOCO-NUT COW

1 tablespoon peanut butter
2 tablespoons chocolate syrup
½ cup milk
½ cup sparkling water
1 scoop vanilla ice cream
2 tablespoons salted peanuts

Make each serving individually in tall glass or soda mug, as follows: Measure peanut butter and chocolate syrup into glass Add milk a little at a time, stirring until ingredients are evenly blended. Add sparkling water and stir. Drop scoop of ice cream into peanuts and roll to coat with nuts. Place on top of liquid in glass. Serve at once. Makes one serving.

PEANUT BUTTERED TOFFEE WARMER

¼ cup peanut butter
½ cup brown sugar
1 quart milk
6 cinnamon sticks

Measure peanut butter and brown sugar into saucepan Add milk a little at a time, stirring until ingredients are evenly blended. Heat until almost boiling, stirring occasionally until sugar is dissolved Place a cinnamon stick in each of six cups or mugs. Pour hot peanut butter-toffee milk into cups and stir once or twice with cinnamon stick Serve at once Recipe makes six servings

PANCHO SAUCE

1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1½ cups milk
½ cup smooth peanut butter
¼ pound processed American cheese, grated

Melt butter in saucepan; quickly blend in flour. Gradually stir in milk. Bring to boil, stirring constantly; boil one minute. Add peanut butter and cheese, stirring until melted and well blended. Serve over hot cooked cauliflower, as desired. Recipe makes two cups sauce.

PANAMANIAN SAUCE

2 tablespoons chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1½ cups milk
½ cup crunchy peanut butter

Saute celery and onion in butter until crisp-tender; quickly blend in flour. Gradually stir in milk. Bring to boil, stirring constantly; boil one minute. Add peanut butter, stirring until melted and well blended. Serve over hot cooked sweet potatoes, as desired. Recipe makes two cups sauce.

JAMBLES

½ cup peanut butter
½ cup butter
½ cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups unsifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups finely chopped salted peanuts
Jelly, jam or apple butter

Cream peanut butter, butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in egg and vanilla. Mix in flour and salt Shape into 1-inch balls. Roll in chopped peanuts. Put onto ungreased baking sheet Make a "well" in the center of each ball with the thumb. Bake at 375 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes Cool. Just before serving, fill with jam, jelly or apple butter. Recipe makes three dozen cookies.

DOUBLE PEANUT CHEESE PIE

1 cup graham cracker crumbs
½ cup chopped salted nuts
¼ cup melted butter
* * *
6-ounces softened cream cheese
½ cup smooth peanut butter
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
Dash of salt
2 eggs
1 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
Jam or jelly garnish

Mix crust ingredients in first part of recipe Press into bottom and sides of 9-inch pie pan

For filling Beat cheese and peanut butter until fluffy Beat in sugar, vanilla and salt Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each is added. Pour into crust. Bake at 325 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes, or until set

Mix sour cream, sugar and vanilla to topping; spread over pie. Bake 10 minutes more. Chill several hours before serving. Spoon a ring of jam or jelly around edge of crust. Recipe makes six to eight servings.

PEANUT MARMALADE COFFEE CAKE

2 cups biscuit mix
¾ cup sugar
¼ cup peanut butter
1 egg
¾ cup milk
½ cup peach or orange marmalde
½ cup chopped salted peanuts
* * *
¾ cup confectioners sugar
1 tablespoon milk or water
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine biscuit mix and sugar. Cut in peanut butter. Beat egg and milk together with a fork. Add to biscuit mix. Beat about half minute with spoon. Spread in oiled 9-inch round or 10 x 6 x 2-inch pan. Spread with marmalade. Sprinkle with peanuts. Bake at 400 degrees for 45 minutes. Mix ingredients for icing and drizzle over cake while warm. Serve warm or cold Recipe makes six to eight servings.

PEANUT PANAPPLES

½ cup sugar
½ cup orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 (3-inches each) cinnamon sticks, halved
4 whole cloves
3 cardamon pods, crushed
½ whole nutmeg, halved
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup water
4 large red cooking apples, unpeeled, cut in 6ths (about 2½ pounds)
½ cup crunchy peanut butter
⅓ cup light cream

Combine in Dutch oven sugar, orange juice, lemon juice, spices and salt Stir in water Heat to boiling, stirring until sugar dissolves; simmer 10 minutes Add apples, stirring gently to coat with syrup. Simmer, covered, 10 minutes longer or until apples are fork tender, stirring occasionally Using a slotted spoon, remove apples to serving dishes. Strain pan syrup Combine with peanut butter; place over medium heat, stirring until peanut butter is melted. Add cream, heat to serving temperature Serve warm apple wedges topped with sauce

SPICY BAKED APPLES

6 medium baking apples
¼ cup butter
1 cup firmly-packed light brown sugar
½ cup crunchy peanut butter
2 tablespoons orange juice
½ cup flaked coconut
Milk

Wash and core apples; remove one-third peel at stem end. Set aside. Cream butter and brown sugar; blend in peanut butter, orange juice and coconut. Fill center of each apple and top with mixture. Place in baking dish; add water. Bake in 375-degree oven 30 to 40 minutes or until tender. Sprinkle with additional coconut if desired; bake two to three minutes longer or until lightly browned. Remove to serving dishes. Blend one to two tablespoons milk into pan drippings to form a smooth sauce. Serve immediately or warm, topped with sauce.

Imaginative Dash

No, wooden mallet in the kitchen for pounding meat for Swiss steak? Use the edge of a heavy saucer.

You'll need about half a pound of shelled Brazil nuts, if you are grinding them, to make 1½ cups.

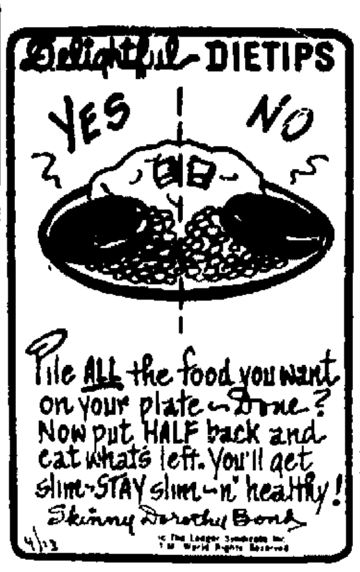
Heat canned pears in their syrup with a little lemon rind; serve hot with some strips of syrup-preserved ginger in each cavity.



Moisture Won't Hurt Some Wood

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: What type of wood will stand up best made into a planter? It will be subject to continuous moisture, due to watering plants in it.

A: Among the woods commonly available, cypress, locust or redwood will be the most resistant to moisture.

Q: How can I be certain the lumber for my new floor is thoroughly dry and seasoned? I know that if it's slightly green it will shrink. Then I'm apt to have a squeaky floor.

A: You have to take the lumber dealer's word for it That's why it pays to go to a dealer who enjoys a solid, square reputation. There's no device I know of for measuring the dryness of lumber.

Q: My mother-in-law has sharp eyes. How can I repair a worn place in the linoleum in front of the sink, so the whole kitchen will look better? Or isn't this kind of repair possible?

A: If you have a left-over piece of the linoleum and a sharp knife, here's what to do: Place the patch over the worn area, making sure all is covered. Line up all patterns exactly. Then, while someone stands on the patch to weight it down, you cut through both thicknesses of linoleum at once. With this trick, you automatically assure the patch being exactly the same size as the piece you'll cut out.

Q. Please tell me how to remove grease from my mahogany kitchen cupboards. I plan to paint, but I hear that kitchen cooking air is notoriously greasy and damp.

A. While there are many grease-removers on the market, I'm still a strong supporter of the following: Make a thick poultice of fullers earth or powdered whiting and cleaning fluid, and apply liberally. When dry, brush off and renew. Eventually the grease will be drawn out Rome wasn't built overnight either, so don't fret if the treatment isn't successful during the first few times.

Q: Can the plastic tile in my bathroom be painted successfully? From its present magenta color I'd like a sunflower yellow?

A: No problem at all. First clean the tile thoroughly of all traces of grease and soap. When dry, apply two or three thin coats of latex plastic paint.

Neenah-Menasha Juniors Hostess at District Woman's Club Convention

More than 150 members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, representing 34 clubs in five counties, met at the Club Terrace Tuesday for the Wisconsin Federation's Sixth District convention. During the all-day program delegates and visitors conducted the business of the district, listened to Mrs John E Krueger, Milwaukee, wife of a traffic court judge, speak on new safety laws and goals, and heard Mrs. Richard Hands, Neenah, 1965 Mrs. Wisconsin, tell of her year and of "Burning the Candle at Both Ends".

Mrs. Krueger spoke at the morning session. She pointed up some of the traffic fallacies and the need for cutting the state's traffic toll. Mrs. Richard Hands was speaker after the noon luncheon, telling of her eight-month reign as Mrs. Wisconsin. She entered the contest on an impulse, she said, after seeing the entry blank in a grocery store. Since winning the crown she has talked before men's and women's clubs, conventions, school groups and has participated in a telethon.

Important Causes

Mrs. Hands says she believes it important for women to use their energies for worthwhile causes, to make the world a better place for their children. She noted that a good family situation is important to anyone who took an interest outside the home, for husband and children must be happy while mom is giving her attention to other causes.

Mrs Hands' talk preceded the Neenah-Menasha Junior Woman's Club 'Our Heritage' style show The show included foreign fashions, taking note of the General Federation's interest in the People to People program, initiated by former president Dwight D. Eisenhower. Also shown were fashions worn by American women during the important years of women's club growth.

Mrs. Fred Krez, of the Plymouth club was elected District President during the afternoon voting. Serving with her for the coming year will be Mrs. James Stroub, Sheboygan Falls, first vice president; Mrs. C. V. Edwards, Fond du Lac, second vice president; Mrs E. Edward Kraus, Cedarburg, recording secretary; Mrs. Albert Gensman, West Bend, treasurer; Mrs. Gilbert Sutherland, Neenah, junior director; Mrs. E. J. Marshall, West Bend, auditor, and Mrs. John J. Sandberg, Fond du Lac, district director and member of the state nominating committee.

Mrs. C. J. Weber, Sheboygan, state president, installed the new officers.

Awards, presented during the afternoon program went to the Neenah - Menasha Juniors for press book in a city over 20,000, and to Dorothy Crockett, a student at St. Margaret Mary School, Neenah, a Helen Mears Art Award.

Press book judges were Max Tungate and Calvin Zernicke, Neenah, and Miss Arlisle Wolf, a Menasha teacher.

The diamond jubilee award, presented in observance of the 75th anniversary of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs, was given to Mrs. Conrad Testwide, who has belonged to a Wisconsin Sixth District Club for the longest period of time.

Other art winners are Christy White, Class A, of St. Patrick Catholic School, Ripon, first place; Doreen Tuttel, Kohler Public Schools, third place; Kay Kuehn, Ripon Junior High, fourth place, and Jay Frederickson, Cedarburg Public Schools, fifth place. Class B art winners were Deborah Dudley, Sacred Heart School, Fond du Lac, first; June Duenkel, St. Mary Catholic School, West Bend, second, and Kay Van Vreede, St. John Catholic School, Menasha, third.

Press Books Always Draw a share of attention at convention time. Looking at the display above are Mrs. Robert Hands, Neenah, Mrs. Wisconsin of 1965, who was luncheon speaker; Mrs. Clarence J. Weber, Sheboygan, state president; Mrs. James Zander, Shawano, state junior director; Mrs. Kenneth L. Reed, Kenosha, state first vice president; and Mrs. Harland Ziemke, Neenah. The Neenah-Menasha Junior Woman's Club was hostess to the district convention. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Evidence Indicates Ways To Avoid Heart Disease

Heart disease is a broad term that covers many different types of disorders.

Heart and blood vessel ailments are the leading cause of death in the United States. Millions of people are walking around with some sort of heart or circulatory problem.

No one can tell you positively that a given pattern of life will prevent a heart attack. There are still many unknowns. But there is enough evidence on the causes of heart attacks to suggest a few fundamentals.

Offer Advice

The magazine of the American Medical Association, offers some suggestions.

Worry about "symptoms" that may or may not be heart disease is futile. Clear away the doubt by consulting your physician. A regular checkup will enable him to discover many budding heart problems early.

Regular, moderate exercise to keep physically fit is advised by most health experts. However, the term "moderate" is important, and plenty of rest to ease the work load on the heart is equally vital.

Avoid Overweight

Keep your weight down. It isn't too difficult to devise a diet that will provide proper nourishment without adding surplus pounds. Ask your doctor what you should weigh and how to reduce if you're overweight.

Tensions and anxieties aren't easy to reduce or eliminate from your life. But it's wise to try. Adequate vacations each year are important. A relaxing change of pace on weekends helps.

Research studies have analyzed the possible roles of tobacco, dietary fats and other elements in heart disorders. Extensive studies are still under way. If there are doubts in your mind regarding personal habits, consult your doctor for suggestions on new patterns.

Most people who have heart attacks recover and can go back to work. High blood pressure usually can be controlled. Recurrent attacks of rheumatic fever, forerunner of rheumatic heart disease, can be prevented. Strokes aren't necessarily hopeless, and invalidism can often be reduced or prevented. Heart defects often can be repaired and sections of diseased arteries often can be replaced through surgery Many patients with circulatory disorders affecting their legs and arms are helped by treatment

You cannot be certain of preventing heart disease But you can control or lessen some of the factors that often are associated with a tendency toward heart troubles. Your best course is to talk it over with your doctor and follow his counsel.

Law Forbids Drugging Opponents

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

It's against federal law to drug your opponents, but nobody has pointed this out to Dan Morse, Houston pharmacist and bridge expert. If you promise not to tell the Feds you can see how he put an opponent to sleep during the recent Open Pair Championship in Louisville.

slam. Morse took the ace of hearts and cashed the top diamonds to discard dummy's losing heart.

It was at this stage that Morse must have sprayed the sleeping powder in the air. He led the ten of spades in the hope of persuading a gullible West to play low.

West fell for his ancient wheeze. He played his low trump, apparently hoping that his partner would turn up with a high trump of some description. Just between us, if East had held the queen or jack of trumps South would have known enough to enter dummy and try a trump finesse.

Home

After West had played his low trump South was home. Morse led a club to the ace and returned the queen from dummy.

East played low since he could not gain by putting up the king of clubs. South discarded a heart, and West ruffed with the ace of trumps. West now had to return a red card, permitting dummy to ruff.

Morse next led the jack of clubs through East. When East produced the king South ruffed and ruffed his last red card in dummy. The rest was easy.

West could defeat the slam by taking the first trump and returning a diamond to make dummy ruff. South would have to draw another round of trumps before he could touch the clubs, and then there would be no way to bring dummy's clubs in.

Daily Question

Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold: S 9 6, H 8 7, D Q J 6 4, C K 8 7 5 4. What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass. You have no reason to worry about one notrump since your side holds 22 to 24 points in high cards. Since this is not enough for game, you have no reason to bid. Sit tight and take a small profit.

Rhubarb a Welcome Sign of Spring

One welcome sign of spring is the sight of satiny pink stalks of rhubarb, now temptingly displayed in food markets. Good news for calorie-counting cooks is that both oven-baked rhubarb treats today are deliciously sweet recipes, yet completely sugar-free. Normally, of course, this tangy fruit requires a lot of sugar for sweetening; that means a lot of unwanted extra calories. In these recipes, however, modern, calorie-free sweetener in liquid form is used to make the desserts pleasurably sweet yet low enough in calories so most weight watchers can enjoy them with a clear conscience.

Both recipes use two teaspoons of solution (the calorie-free sweetening equivalent of one-third cup sugar) for every cup of rhubarb. With this amount of sweetening, the rhubarb seems pleasantly sweet but still tangy. For those with an extremely sweet tooth, the amount of sweetening can be increased, as desired.

Here are recipes for an all-time favorite, deep-dish rhubarb pie, and a delightful crisp which combines orange juice and rind, plus a touch of lemon rind with the rhubarb.

RHUBARB-ORANGE CRISP

- 4 cups diced rhubarb
- 8 teaspoons calorie-free sweetener solution (equal to 1 1/3 cups sugar)
- 16 small graham crackers, crushed
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- ¼ cup melted butter
- ½ cup orange juice

Sprinkle rhubarb with sweetener; set aside. Combine graham cracker crumbs, orange and lemon rinds and butter, blending well. In a shallow 1-quart casserole, alternate layers of rhubarb and crumbs, ending with crumbs. Pour orange juice over top. Bake in a preheated, 350-degree oven 40 to 50 minutes, or until rhubarb is tender.

Recipe makes six servings, each 125 calories; 1.5 grams protein; 8.5 grams fat; 12.5 grams carbohydrate.

DEEP DISH RHUBARB PIE

- 6 eggs, well beaten
- 5⅓ tablespoons sweetener solution (equal to 2⅔ cups sugar)
- ⅓ cup flour
- 1½ teaspoons nutmeg
- 8 cups diced rhubarb
- ½ recipe for pastry shell

Combine eggs, sweetener, flour and nutmeg; blend well. Add to rhubarb, mixing well. Pour into a 1½-quart shallow baking dish. Roll out pastry, cut into lattice strips, and arrange over rhubarb mixture. Bake in a preheated, 400-degree oven for 50 minutes.

Recipe makes nine servings, each 119 calories; 5.5 grams protein; 6 grams fat; 11.5 grams carbohydrate.

Parents' World

Nervous Child Is Probably Fearful

BY DR. EVE JONES

DEAR DR. JONES: We have an only son, five years old, who seems to be a very nervous child. He is afraid of dogs and is not aggressive enough with playmates.

I realize that a lot of this is my fault because I am not aggressive either and I have let him get by with too much, but I hate to spank him because he sometimes vomits when I do. He doesn't do that when my husband spanks him. I find myself getting very nervous around my boy because I know he won't mind when his father isn't around to control him. Is there a solution to this problem? MRS. R. R.

Your son will probably stop being fearful when he no longer resents being treated unfairly by you and his father. You and your husband can help your son if you will follow through on three different steps:

1. Stop all physical punishment.

2. Make certain you don't interfere in his right to decide for himself about eating, using the toilet, and playing with his toys and friends, and don't ask him to do anything other than to straighten his own messes and wash and dress himself.

3. Keep other children from bullying him by telling them they may argue if they want, but they may not hit each other.

DEAR DR. JONES: My two-year-old boy will only have a bowel movement when he is in bed asleep. I have tried keeping him up through his naps and past his bedtime late at night, putting him on his potty, but that doesn't do any good. Even when I use a suppository, he waits until he's asleep. He knows he's naughty, even when I don't spank him, because he says, "Bad boy, poopy." But he doesn't seem to know what to do. He lets me know when he has to urinate, and there isn't any trouble about that. Please help. MRS. D. D.

You're creating a problem for your son by fussing over his bowel movements. Stop! He's barely old enough to have the inner controls needed to be independent about using the toilet, and it may take several more months before he decides to use the toilet when he's awake. Never use suppositories or enamas unless you child is sick and your physician has specifically ordered their use.

Promises Exchanged

KIMBERLY — Miss Patricia A. Lemmers and Keith B. Buchberger exchanged marriage vows at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at Holy Name of Jesus Catholic Church. The Rev. Joseph Kools officiated at the double ring nuptial high mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick M. Lemmers, 416 W. Kimberly Ave. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Buchberger, 239 S. Lincoln St.

Mrs. Buchberger chose Miss Patricia A. Oudenhoven to serve as maid of honor. Miss Jill A. Austin was the bridesmaid.

Gregory G. Lemmers acted as best man for his brother-in-law. Groomsman was Dennis Kroner. Jamie Van Dalen and Mark Seidel ushered.

The couple was honored at a reception held at Hammen's Bar, Little Chute.

The bride is employed by Miller Electric Mfg. Co., Appleton. Mr. Buchberger is a student at the University of Wisconsin.

The couple will reside at 1032 E. Kimberly Ave.

Soft-twisting is the secret
Sof-twist

1 Two pieces of enriched dough are shaped into long soft delicate rolls.

2 They're twisted gently, reducing air pockets and giving finer texture.

3 Twisted dough is placed in pans for slow rising—tightening the twist. This seals in freshness and flavor.

4 Slice at left made of twisted dough completely seals texture cells... retaining flavor and freshness.
Ordinary slice on right permits drying air to pass through unsealed texture cells.

Your Money's Worth

Population Projection Altered by Few Births

BY SYLVIA PORTER

By 1970, the U. S may "lose" 1.7 million people. By 1975, our population "loss" could mount to 4.7 million and by 1985 the loss may soar to 8,200,000, according to a major revision of population estimates by the U. S. Census Bureau

Until now, the U. S. population was expected to cross the magic 200,000,000 line next February. But new projections, to be published in detail this summer, indicate we may not cross that line until February 1968.

Behind these dramatic "reductions" is the fact that our birth rate has been in a steady decline since the postwar peak year of 1957 when 4,300,000 babies were born and our birth rate soared to 122.7 (babies born per 1,000 women of child-bearing age)

In contrast, in 1965, preliminary studies suggest only 3,700,000 babies were born and the birth rate dropped to 97.8, lowest in two decades. Last year also, there were only 4 per cent more marriages than in 1964, despite the fact that the number of teen-agers moving into the highly marriageable 18-year-old range swelled to 1,000,000.

What accounts for the decline in our birth rate? Is this a threat to our expanding economy?

Educational Needs

A key factor holding down the new marriage rate is the rising educational - training requirement for jobs, and postponement of marriage and children. The longer young women wait to marry and to have children, and the more education they get, the greater likelihood that they will have fewer children. Another factor is the draft, which is postponing marriages in the younger age groups. A third force is our lopsided "sex ratio": this year, for every 10 young women now 18 to 23, the favorite marrying ages today, there are only 9 young men in the 2-years-older range.

Finally, contributing to the declining birth rate is the fact that, with the growth of family planning knowledge and devices, family size is coming closer to the number of children young couples actually want. Recent studies by private and government groups indicate that the average family today wants three children, about the number the average family is actually having.

Of course this doesn't mean that our population is entering a phase of stagnation! Far from it. Despite the falling birth rate, today's "average" 30 children per 10 families is five children more than the number which would represent a stable population: 2.5 per family.

In the year beginning next July, the prospect is our population will grow by more than 2,000,000, the equivalent of the combined populations of North Dakota, Delaware, Wyoming, Nevada and Alaska. By 1975, there will probably be about 22,000,000 more Americans than there are today, the equivalent of twice the combined population of the nation's six New England states By 1985, a total of 55,000,000 will be added to the census count, the equivalent of three times the entire population of Canada.

What's more, today's population projections assume only a two-year hike in life expectancy by 2,000, an assumption which could easily be toppled by a major breakthrough in the control of heart disease.

Would an even more stable population be a threat to the U. S. economy?

There is no reason whatsoever to believe this. There is every reason to believe that an even slower rate of population growth than we now have would be a "plus" for American business.

The U. S economy has been surging upward throughout the recent years in which our birth rate has been declining. With a steadier population growth rate, we could concentrate more on upgrading our standards of living, particularly among the tens of millions in low income groups and particularly in the fields of education, health, housing, and transportation.

Exercise Helps Young, Elderly Keep Healthy

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any medication for muscular weakness in an elderly person? Is it better to keep going and exercise, or to rest as much as possible? — Mrs. H.A.

Muscle weakness can result from the aging process, or it can develop for want of exercise. If you have ever been bedfast for any length of time — a week or two, or longer you know how rapidly even a young person will lose muscle strength. Exercise is important!

In the elderly person, exercise may be limited because of joint stiffness, faulty balance, poor vision, heart or lung trouble, and so on. Within such limitations, remain as active as you reasonably can. Exercise doesn't have to be strenuous to be helpful. Just moving about, doing ordinary chores, will help stall off abnormal muscular weakness. No, do not rest "as much as possible," although it is only good sense to rest periodically thoughout the day when you feel tired.

Walking, simple calisthenics, isometric exercises if you wish, all are good for keeping muscles in tone. Remember that the heart also benefits from such activity.

Regularity of exercise is important. A little exercise every day is much more useful to you than a lot of it once a week.

There is no medication which will strengthen muscles in all cases. In certain instances hormones may help, provided some of the weakness is due to a lack of them. The so-called sex hormones, estrogen and androgen, can help if the patient's own glandular production of them has declined too much. In other cases, the anabolic hormones help. These are hormones of a type which preserve nitrogen and help build tissue. Any of these hormones, of course, must be prescribed by your physician.

Dear Dr. Molner: X-rays show that I have minimal emphysema. Can it be cured or is it like cancer of a vital organ? Should I "put my affairs in order"? If there is no cure how long does it take to cause death? — G.N.

Let's not be so pessimistic! True, emphysema (loss of elasticity of the lungs) cannot be cured, but it isn't at all like cancer. Minimal emphysema means you have discovered it in a very early stage, and your problem is how to keep it from getting worse.

A great deal can be done for you, and there are other things you can do for yourself. If you smoke, stop. Proper breathing, to make the most use of your lung capacity, is very important. If your breathing passages are clogged, medication can help clear them.

While emphysema does, indeed, claim many lives, many of them could have been saved if proper care had begun when the cases were, like yours, minimal.

Since you are puzzled over just what emphysema is, by all means send for a copy of my booklet, "How to Control Emphysema." To receive a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent.

Note to Miss G.G.: These brown spots have been called "liver spots" for generations, but they actually have nothing to do with the liver. It is the appearance of pigment in the skin which occurs in varying degree as the years pass.

Frinzi Offered Convention Time

National Democratic Committeeman David Carley has offered Dominic Frinzi, a gubernatorial candidate, the opportunity to speak at the June Democratic State Convention provided Frinzi promises in advance to support the party's choice for governor.

Carley offered Frinzi some of his own time for speaking. Recent reports have stated that Frinzi is indignant that he has not been asked to speak at the convention.

Carley said that Frinzi's support of the party's gubernatorial candidate "is an important question of party responsibility."

Frinzi lost to former Gov. John Reynolds in the Democratic primary in 1964.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

Right. "The image of the 'typical woman' which comes to us in films and television and fiction is a reflection of only a small percentage of women in the United States. It is the image of a beautiful, young wife in her immaculate new home. While waiting for her successful, young husband to come home for dinner, she discusses the merits of detergents and hairsprays with her equally affluent young neighbors. This is . . . not a reflection of the life most women lead in this country," says Mrs. Esther Peterson, director of the Women's Bureau.

Do we know why people succeed or fail?

Yes — No —

We don't know everything about it, but we do know a great deal. People usually fail because they spend too much of their time, energies and thoughts in feeling sorry for themselves, getting mad, blaming others, "crying in their beer," or condemning something, like the government or economic system. As a result, they're too weak to move anything. The secret of success is to spend your thoughts upon understanding what to do, and your feelings and time on effective action. Successes and failures meet the same difficulties and obstacles. The difference is in the ways you respond to them.

Facts alone make us sure of ourselves.

Right — Wrong —

Wrong. This is partly so because we don't have the facts about so many important matters. We can know that the world is round, that two and two make four, and how far it is to the sun. But when it comes to other matters, such as which political party is best, what ought to be done about this and that, what is the best way to bring about world peace, or to reduce juvenile delinquency, either all the facts do not yet exist or people don't know what they are. They often depend instead, says Psychologist Stanley Schacter, on strong group opinions. Even when facts do exist, it's easier to follow the crowd. This is one reason why we get into so much trouble.

Fifth Anniversary of 1961 Abortive Invasion

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Paratroops will jump, jet-fighter planes will zoom, tanks will fire at targets and torpedo boats will maneuver to commemorate the fifth anniversary of the abortive 1961 invasion of Cuba by exiles.

Havana radio said the April 17 display will take place on Havana's waterfront.

Chaos in Airwaves

800,000 Flood Citizen Air Bands

By STEPHEN M. AUG

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Citizens Radio Service is a giant party line for 800,000 Americans. It is also chaos on the kilocycles to the Federal Communications Commission.

Consider the problems that would result if a city of 800,000 persons — about the size of Washington or St. Louis — had only 23 party lines for all its telephone calls Then you've got some idea of the problems the FCC faces in trying to control the Citizen's Band — CB as it's called

The problems began in 1958 when there were about 40,000 CB stations, mostly business firms, all using the sparsely populated ultra high frequencies Equipment was too expensive for the average person.

In 1958 the FCC gave the service 23 channels in a wavelength for which equipment could be manufactured at relatively little expense.

More Applications

The change was almost immediate and far beyond the expectations of FCC officials Today there are 800,000 licensees and the commission receives more than 20,000 applications a month — at $8 apiece — for new licenses.

And it's big business The average CB licensee has three units costing $100 to $150 apiece. Some sources say CB means more than $50 million yearly to the electronics industry.

The reasons for the popularity are the low cost of equipment and the ease of getting a license You can get into CB activities for as little as $59 for a one-channel build-it-yourself kit.

And any citizen, 18 or older, can get a license by filing an application and paying the fee

This is different from amateur radio operators who must pass examinations in Morse code, electronics and FCC regulations Amateurs are hobbyists and experimenters — CB operators are supposed to be neither, but often are both

Hobbyists Problem

"Our biggest problem has been with people who use it just for the sake of talking to somebody else by radio — the hobbyists" an FCC spokesman says They clutter the channels and jam legitimate communications

The Citizens Radio Service, he says, "is a communications tool to carry out some business or personal activity of the licensee" This means brief transmissions between a garage and a tow truck, a farmer's wife and her husband in the fields, a businessman and his office.

"It does not mean one licensee gassing with another," he says

The problem of the talkers is difficult to solve With only 18 listening stations and 24 field offices, the FCC believes, "there's obviously a problem of enforcement," even though about 600 violation notices are

Ignore Regulations

issued each month

Since 1958 the FCC has revised its CB regulations twice — in 1960 and 1965 — both times to eliminate the talkers by declaring idle chatter illegal. But officials say many CB operators don't know the regulations and don't even bother to purchase copies — even though they are required to have them.

The FCC depends largely on voluntary compliance for enforcement of its rules. But, in the case of CB, as one official said, "I don't think we've gotten the degree of voluntary compliance we'd want"

The FCC has even considered eliminating the service. "to the extent that enforcement problems become the most important aspect of a radio service, the basic utility of the service becomes questionable," one commission report said It added that if the most recent rule changes do not clear up the chaos "the fundamental question as to whether the public convenience, interest, or necessity warrants the continuance of the service will be again considered."

FCC Optimistic

But the FCC remains optimistic It tries to supply speakers for CB clubs — despite the obvious hobby atmosphere of such organizations — on the basis that perhaps the clubs will help enforce the rules. Estimates of the number of CB clubs run as high as 1,500.

But, despite the headaches CB has caused, the FCC wants to keep the service. It is a big money-maker, supplying about $2 million a year in fees.

Also it has value in emergencies. An estimated 500 areas have CB stations manned 24 hours a day to help stranded motorists The commission reports increasing activity by CB clubs in organizing search and rescue parties, assisting police and operating in Civil Defense activities

A CB radio recently helped save the lives of a Brooklyn, N Y., family, four of whose six members are blind

Mrs Andrew Logue, who is blind, issued a distress call on her husband's transmitter when fire broke out at their home March 26 The call was picked up by Logue, also blind, who was serving his regular tour of duty with the Emergency Association Radio Service, an organization which monitors the air waves for distress calls

Logue quickly called police and fire units who helped save his wife and his four children, two of whom are blind.

Decline in Milk Supply Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Milk production continued its decline from a year earlier during March to add to concern over possible tight supplies of dairy products later in the year.

March production was down 5 per cent from March 1965, an Agriculture Department report showed today.

Milk output has been 5 per cent or more below a year earlier for each of the last four months.

The government recently increased price supports for milk for manufacturing purposes from $3 26 to $3 50 a hundred pounds in an move to encourage increased production. This price boost probably has not yet had time to have much effect.

States in which March production was below a year earlier were New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, California and Texas.

Communist Might Seek Governorship

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Wisconsin Communist Party may run a candidate for governor this fall for the first time in 20 years, its chairman said Monday

Fred Bassett Blair, a Milwaukee book store operator, said the Communst Party will conduct a state convention in June The convention, Blair said, will be closed to the press because delegates might lose their jobs if identified publicly as Communists

He said the party's candidate would run for governor as an independent because of a 1941 Wisconsin law against recognition of parties affiliated with the U S Communist Party

Braves Succumb to Pirates in Atlanta Debut, 3-2, in 13th

Cloninger Goes Route in Taking Loss; Torre Socks Two Homers

By RON SPEER

ATLANTA (AP) — Baseball's Mason-Dixon barrier has been breached, but the South still has some scores to settle with those pesky Northerners.

The invading Pittsburgh Pirates ruined a perfect day for the South by nipping Atlanta's newly adopted Braves 3-2 in 13 innings Tuesday night.

The Braves lost despite the backing of a crowd of 50,671, biggest home turnout ever for the club which started in Boston, moved to Milwaukee and then swept into Dixie.

"The South shall rise again," the electric scoreboard repeated — and repeated and repeated — as the game dragged into extra innings and thousands of fans headed for home.

Torre Did His Best

Joe Torre, the Brave with the Brooklyn accent, did his best to help Atlanta live up to the slogan, but his two home runs weren't enough to start successfully the South's romance with big league baseball.

"That was a damn tough way to lose a ball game, especially after the wonderful reception we have gotten here," said Manager Bobby Bragan, who said he had no second thoughts about leaving Tony Cloninger on the mound all the way in the National League opener for both teams.

Cloninger, a 24-game winner for the Braves in Milwaukee last year, struck out 12 and yielded only one run — an eighth inning homer by Jim Pagliaroni — before a fatal toss that spoiled what had been a perfect day.

With Roberto Clemente on first base, Cloninger tossed a high curve to Willie Stargell in the top of the 13th, and the Pittsburgh outfielder rapped it over the right field barrier.

Torre, who belted a pitch into the stands in the fifth, did it again in the bottom of the 13th

Prize Rookies of Packers Join Up With Oshkosh Unit

OSHKOSH — The two prized football rookies of the Green Bay Packers are rookies on another Wisconsin team.

Garry D. (Donny) Anderson, sensational Texas Tech halfback, and James S. Grabowski, All-America fullback from the University of Illinois, have enlisted in the 32nd Red Arrow Division of the Wisconsin Army National Guard.

Both men chose Oshkosh guard units in which to complete their military obligation.

Drill Monthly

They will drill monthly with their units and will participate in the Red Arrow Division's annual field training in June at Camp McCoy.

Anderson and Grabowski will take their required six months active duty for training in the Army as soon as there are openings in the program.

Anderson, 22, is enrolled at Texas Tech and Grabowski, 21, is at the University of Illinois. Both will finish their school year about the first of June.

Anderson will attend his first drill on April 23 and 24 and Grabowski with Company C on April 30 and May 1.

Baseball Games Draw 272,844

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Atlanta Braves drew an opening day high of 50,671 for their Dixie debut Tuesday, pushing major league baseball's opening day attendance to a total of 272,844.

The attendance figured to be higher but was held down by rain that forced the postponement of two National League openers, New York at Cincinnati and Philadelphia at St. Louis.

With the Braves showing the way, three National League openers attracted 126,151. Both the Cleveland at Washington and Detroit at New York openers drew more than 40,000, giving the American League a total of 146,693 for five games.

McCraw Makes Stanky's Chisox Debut Successful

Tom's Hit Tips Angels In the 14th

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Eddie Stanky's American League managerial debut was hectic, lengthy, victorious. And the little guy who says he'll never second-guess himself heaved a sigh of relief because of a major decision.

When Stanky named his starting line-up, he had Tom McCraw at first base. Stanky justified the choice by saying, "I wouldn't be able to sleep nights if I didn't start McCraw at first base."

McCraw not only lashed out three hits but drove in the winning run in the 14th inning of a 3-2 victory over the California Angels.

In choosing McCraw, Stanky was forced to bench Bill Skowron, a pro who had never missed the starting line-up on opening day since first joining the New York Yankees in 1954.

Stanky knew that McCraw, who batted .393 during the spring games, deserved the starting shot over Skowron who had a .205 average.

"I'm sure," said Stanky, "that Skowron has more respect for me for naming McCraw to start because Skowron is a real professional."

Stanky also made that statement before the opening game.

Stanky On Spot

In a way, the decision put Stanky on the spot. Nobody could fault him if he had started Skowron, whose World Series and All-Star exploits are legend, over McCraw who in three seasons in the majors has failed to hit better than .261.

But after the victory, Stanky said, "Now I can sleep and be happy about it."

Then in retrospect, he added, "I'd sure have loved to see Moose win the game for me. He gave it a good lick when he got his chance."

Skowron went up as a pinch batter in the 11th inning and smashed one deep to left center but the wind kept his drive from going out and winning the ball game.

McCraw, who looked like a guy going places in 1964 when he batted .261, slumped to .238 last season.

"I went to spring training with a different attitude and a different stance," said McCraw. "I guess both helped. I get the bat around a lot quicker now. I've been given a chance as a

Durocher's Old Fire Erupts After Giants Win, 9-1, in Opener

Juan Marichal's 3-Hitter Spoils Managerial Debut

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Leo Durocher found baseball the same game on his return to the managerial scene for the first time since 1955, and he managed to explode like Leo the Lion of yore.

After his Chicago Cubs dropped a 9-1 decision to the San Francisco Giants in Tuesday's National League opener, Durocher sat quietly and commented, "We didn't get many hits and you can't win without hits and runs. It's as simple as that."

But when somebody questioned a purported Durocher spring quote that "Willie Mays had better stay loose," the fire in Leo erupted.

"No, I didn't say it," Durocher exclaimed. "Anybody who says so is a liar."

2-Run Homer

The question came about after Mays, who hit a two-run homer in the fourth inning, hit the dirt in the seventh to avoid a Bill Faul pitch immediately after Len Gabrielson had sent Faul's previous pitch over the right field fence.

After his explosion in the clubhouse, the nattily dressed Durocher marched out without answering further questions.

He managed his Cubs strictly from the bench and even had coach Whitey Lockman walk to the mound when starter Larry Jackson ran out of gas and needed relief in the fourth.

That's not a set pattern, however, and could have been occa-

Sandy Valdespino Paces Twins' Win

Singles Home Both Runs in 2-1 Victory Over Athletics

By LEW FERGUSON

ST. PAUL-Minneapolis (AP) — Sandy Valdespino stands 5-foot-8, if they stretch the tape measure.

The happy little Cuban was the Minnesota Twins' rookie of the year in 1965 after eight years of floating around the minor leagues. But his accomplishments, including a .261 batting average, got lost in the Twins' American League pennant drive which had heroes named Jim Grant, Zoilo Versalles and Tony Oliva.

Tuesday, Valdespino stood taller than any of the Twins' illustrious sluggers. He drove in both Minnesota runs with a pair of singles in a 2-1 season-opening victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

He had two strikes on him in the last of the ninth when he singled for the winning run.

Has Infectious Smile

Valdespino prefers to let his infectious smile and carefree countenance do his talking. But he speaks comparatively good English — compared to Versalles and Oliva, for example.

Tabbed by Manager Sam Mele as his opening-day left fielder when incumbent Bob Allison couldn't get started this spring, Valdespino responded just like Mele figured he would.

"He's tough, that little rascal," said Mele afte rthe Twins had pushed across the run in the last of the ninth inning for a successful debut in defense of their A.L. pennant.

"He hits left-handed pitching pretty good, too," Mele said of the 27-year-old outfielder. "I haven't hesitated to pinch hit him against the lefties. He could win the left field job full-time."

Valdespino, like all major league players, would like to play regularly, but quickly added:

"I don't give any thought to that. I just want to help the team to win."

"He's going to take the title away from me," teased Oliva, two-time league batting champion.

Mudcat Grant, the Twins' 21-game winner of 1965 who reported for spring training 17 days late, shared the spotlight with Valdespino.

Grant bested Jim (Catfish) Hunter in a surprisingly good early-season mound duel. Grant gave up only six hits, Hunter four. Each walked only two men as both went the distance.

"I never tired," Grant said. "My theory is that you've got to throw your hardest all the way, no matter what the circumstances. I didn't surprise myself. If I hadn't been ready, I wouldn't have pitched."

Hunter blamed himself for his downfall. He walked Versalles on four pitches to open the ninth inning, wild pitched him to second and then fired a fastball down the middle which Valdespino drilled into right field to score the winning run.

Nothing Like 'Gone With the Wind'

Braves Fail to Set Atlanta on Fire In Official Pre-Game Parade

ATLANTA (AP)—At the head of the parade welcoming the Braves to Atlanta rode a white-haired clown dressed in baseball uniform and smoking an oversize cigar.

"Who's that?" asked a man looking on.

"I think it's the Braves manager," said the girl with him.

"What's his name?" asked the man.

"Search me," said the girl.

It could be said that the enthusiasm for the Braves' official arrival was greater than that shown for Gen. William T. Sherman's arrival 102 years ago.

But it must also be said that the hoopla fell far short even of Atlanta's outpouring for the movie reenactment of Sherman's burning of the city.

"It's nothing like the excitement over 'Gone with the Wind' in 1939," said Eugene Wilburn, 65, a porter. "People were standing on each other's shoulders then because there was no room on the sidewalks."

The Braves, in short, failed to set the city on fire in the official pregame parade down Peachtree Street. Police gave a crowd estimate of 250,000 to Northern newsmen, 50,000 to Southern reporters.

The most inflamatory thing, as the Braves rode by in game uniform, were the bathing beauties.

"Who cares about those guys? Did you get a load of that Miss Fireball in that red bathing suit?" said one fan.

Bernice Colquitt, a blonde secretary said, "I just came to see the parade. I don't know or care anything about baseball."

Not Very Excited

A middle-aged man, straining to catch a glimpse at one of the beauty queens, grumbled that he couldn't get very excited about the former Milwaukee Braves,

"They had to go north and import a bunch of damn Yankees from Milwaukee," he said. "We ought to have our own ball club."

Most of the crowd consisted of school children, given a holiday, or workers whose offices were closed by official proclamation of the mayor.

Taxi drivers and people on street corners talked little baseball. Hawkers of Braves' souvenir pennants worried.

"I ain't doing any business at all—"I'm gonna get me some Confederate flags," moaned Claudy Anthony.

Confederate flags were outselling baseball pennants 10 to 1.

At the hotel where the Braves are staying, players lounged in the lobby and ate in the coffee shop alone and almost unnoticed.

"Maybe it'll pick up when the season starts," veteran star Eddie Mathews said hopefully.

Celtics Win Eastern Playoff Crown

Russell Stars as Boston Chalks Up 120-112 Verdict Over 76ers

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — To hear Coach Red Auerbach and Big Bill Russell tell it, the Boston Celtics won the National Basketball Association's Eastern playoff finals over the Philadelphia 76ers because the 76ers talk too much.

Auerbach, smoking his famed victory cigar, and Russell, spoke after Boston beat Philadelphia 120-112 Tuesday night to close out the best four-of-seven game Eastern series 4-1, and on the loser's home court.

Taken Too Lightly

Auerbach, who admitted he never expected to win in five games, said "I don't want to rub it in but I seem to recall that Irv Kosloff (owner of the 76ers) said his team would win the entire playoffs in eight games. Now he can't win anything."

Russell, the Celtics 6-foot-9 star, said he and his teammates felt the 76ers took them too lightly because Philadelphia won the regular season Eastern title by a game over Boston and held a 6-4 edge in the season play.

"We didn't have any newspapers in Boston because of the strike," said Russell "So, we read New York and Philadelphia papers. We got the impression from these papers that the 76ers were adding up the money, figuring us as dead. This helped get us up for the series."

Russell, who scored 18 points and took down 31 rebounds in the latest Boston victory, said the 76ers didn't wake up until after Boston had a 2-0 lead. He said Philadelphia "came out like tigers in the third game, and even though the 76ers won, the fact that we cut 23 points off a 24 point lead, helped us. This was the pivotal game."

Few Visible Braves Tributes

Milwaukee Hotel Alters Liquor Samples

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Once again, as it had done for a dozen years, a downtown hotel passed out free miniature bottles of bourbon and scotch on the Braves' opening day.

This time each bottle wore a black band.

The Braves were opening in Atlanta.

In a once baseball-mad city where 19.5 million fans streamed through the turnstiles to watch the Braves for 13 seasons, the wake was one of the few visible tributes of memory to the "Miracle of Milwaukee" of the past.

Baseball caps were replaced in downtown stores' displays by green berets.

At the Milwaukee County Courthouse, a judge and his staff were laboring to produce a verdict in Wisconsin's antitrust challenge to baseball. But in the bars and on the streets, little was heard of Aaron, Mathews or Bartholomay.

Mecca for Fans

Near the County Stadium, Ray Jackson's bar, once a mecca for baseball fans, is now a discotheque. On the walls where a year ago were hung the photographs of Braves' players are now displayed the paintings of half-nude girls.

At the stadium the big scoreboard in right field showed Pittsburgh vs. Milwaukee. The Pirates were playing the Braves, but in Atlanta.

Mrs. Florence M. Murray, 62, who had never missed a Braves' home opener, came anyway.

Mrs. Murray, a fan of the Braves and their minor league predecessors, the Brewers, for a quarter of a century, took her regular seat in Box 11, Tier 21. She carried with her scorecards spanning 13 seasons.

"It was lonely," she said.

Recruiting Vigorous

Bruhn Anxious to Get Spring Football Drills Started at Wisconsin

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin football coach Milt Bruhn greets spring with the hope and determination of a suitor given a second chance.

"I'm awfully anxious to get into spring practice and forget about some of what has happened in the past," Bruhn told a meeting of Madison sportswriters and sportscasters Tuesday.

In Bruhn's immediate past is the dismal season record that almost cost him his job. The 1965 Badgers won only two of their 10 games and the humiliation was compounded with defeats of 50-14 by Michigan, 45-7 by Purdue and 51-0 by Illinois.

The Wisconsin Athletic Board recommended Bruhn's dismissal but the Board of Regents chose to retain the 53-year-old coach another season.

Eleventh Season

Wisconsin begins spring football practice Monday and the date officially opens Bruhn's eleventh season as head coach. Unofficially, Bruhn has been working all winter to enhance his own and his team's fortunes.

About 45 to 50 football candidates have participated in an off - season program of weight lifting, wind sprints and agility drills. "It's been a vigorous training program but I think it has paid off in the best conditioned squad ever at Wisconsin," Bruhn said.

About a half dozen players had to miss the training sessions because of impending academic trouble "They put in about an extra hour a day in study hall, cracking books," Bruhn said.

The recruitment also has been vigorous, Bruhn said. "We've issued 30 of our 31 aid tenders and 22 or 23 players have been signed," he said.

The new crop includes two junior college transfers from California and Bruhn hopes to land a third. Junior college players are immediately available for varsity competition and that's what Wisconsin needs—immediate help.

Bruhn said he wouldn't identify the transfers "until they're here" because Western schools do not abide by the player consent rules that bind Big Ten competitors.

To show the extent to which Wisconsin is reaching out for football talent, Bruhn said 11 of the scholarship tenders had been distributed in Illinois, four in Texas, three in Pennsylvania, two in New York, and one in West Virginia.

Only three tenders went to Wisconsin - bred prospects, Bruhn said, but the limited number was due in part to good catches getting away.

Expects 95 to 98

Bruhn said he expects 95 to 98 candidates at the opening of spring drills Monday. The practice sessions will continue five days a week for four weeks, and wind up with an intrasquad game May 14.

"Our running game is our first concern, and we'll be working generally on bringing a new look to our offense," the burly head coach said.

Bruhn predicted that Wisconsin halfbacks would be a much busier lot this fall. "They are going to carry the ball more and we're going to use them more on pass receiving," he said. "It's the type of change agreed on and open to us."

The squad includes 21 returning lettermen and six candidates who won junior varsity letters last season. Included are experienced carriers Gale Bucciarelli, Tom Jankowski, Tom Schinke and Kim Wood. Schinke and Wood will miss heavy spring drills because of slow mending injuries.

Newcomers Mentioned

The newcomers mentioned by Bruhn included running backs Lynn Buss of Wausau; George Koch of Wonder Lake, Ill., and Bill Yanakos of Pittsburgh, Pa., and flanker backs Tom McCauley of Superior and Gary Swalve of Freeport, Ill.

Bruhn said he expects John Ryan, a 6-foot, 182-pound candidate from Wauwatosa, to give veteran quarterback Chuck Burt a "good run for the money," and predicted that sophomore Wallace Schoessow of Mequon would develop into one of Wisconsin's best centers.

Fairly, Osteen Lead Dodgers To 3-2 Victory

ders, another baseball fan, took his seat in Aisle 340, Row 23, waving his can of beer and howling as the Braves made their debut in the Deep South.

There was plenty going on.

But Landers was getting lonely.

"Too many ties here for these people to be real baseball fans," said Landers, who watched the crowd begin to sift out of the new $18 million dollar arena when the game went into extra innings.

And by the time Willie Stargell slugged a two-run homer in the 13th inning, giving Pittsburgh a 3-2 victory and ruining the Braves' Dixie debut, half of the crowd of 50,671 had left.

Leo Durocher's debut as manager of the Chicago Cubs also was ruined with Willie Mays spoiling his former boss' return with a 415-foot homer that propelled San Francisco to a 9-1 victory.

In the only other National League game played, Ron Fairly drove in all three runs as the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Houston 3-2. The New York-Cincinnati and Philadelphia-St. Louis games were rained out.

Fairly twice singled home Maury Wills and broke open a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning when he drove in Wes Parker with a sacrifice fly. Parker had walked, moved to second on a bunt and reached third on a passed ball by catcher John Bateman.

Claude Osteen checked the Astros on six hits for the victory while veteran Robin Roberts, marking his 11th opening-game assignment, took the loss.

Chicago Trips Red Wings, 2-1

Black Hawks Take 2-1 Edge in Cup Playoff Series

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings continue to dominate the battle of the bruises in their Stanley Cup semifinal playoff series with Chicago, but the Black Hawks have the edge in the more important category — games won.

Chico Maki and Eric Nesterenko scored in the second period to lead the Black Hawks to a 2-1 victory in the third game of the best-of-seven series Tuesday night. The Black Hawks have a 2-1 edge in the series.

Maki and Chicago defenseman Elmer Vasko were forced to leave the game, but Detroit Manager-Coach Sid Abel reported his charges were in good physical shape.

Maki suffered a sprained right knee and possible torn ligaments after colliding with Detroit defenseman Bill Gadsby near the Chicago bench in the third period. He was not expected to play Thursday but was to undergo examination today.

Vasko's injury — an eight-inch cut on the back of his right thigh — was his own doing He was cut while stopping Norm Ullman's breakaway attempt in the first period.

The two teams play here again Thursday, then move to Chicago for the fifth game Sunday.

Tigers Edge Yankees in Opener, 2-1

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Downright embarrassing. That's what it was.

The Chairman of the Board had just got the proceedings underway when this little guy interrupts and points fingers and brings in some other guys in blue suits and right in front of 40,006 people makes the Chairman of the Board get rid of his hip flask.

"He irritated me," Whitey Ford said in a pronounced understatement after Detroit Tiger Manager Charley Dressen had rung in the umpires and forced the Yankee left-hander to discard a hand-warmer he was carrying in his hip pocket.

Ford, dubbed The Chairman of the Board by his Yankee teammates, grudgingly gave up the bottle of hot water he was using to warm his hands. That happened in the first inning.

Single in Ninth

He also gave up — even more grudgingly — a run-scoring single to Norm Cash in the ninth that sent the Tigers to an opening day 2-1 victory Tuesday before the largest Yankee Stadium first day crowd in 14 years.

Chicago struggled through 14 innings before subduing California 3-2. Baltimore eked out a 5-4 decision in 13 innings at Boston and Minnesota's Twins edged Kansas City 2-1 in the other American League openers. The four games drew a total of 102,225, all in cool weather.

Cleveland and Washington, who played the traditional presidential opener Monday — with Vice President Humphrey substituting for President Johnson — were not scheduled Tuesday.

"There is something about him (Dressen) that aggravates people and makes them try a little harder," Ford said after the hot water bottle incident.

More Effective

Ford, the Yanks' 37-year-old ace, has a circulatory problem in his left arm and is more effective in warm weather But he was just aggravated enough, perhaps heatedly so, to toss a six-hitter.

But it wasn't good enough. Detroit's Mickey Lolich matched the effort, struck out 10 and was damaged only by Joe Pepitone's fifth inning homer.

Detroit, however, came right back with one in the sixth on a double by Mickey Stanley and Don Wert's single. Wert was on third in the ninth and cruised home with the winner when Cash lined Ford's first pitch to him into center field.

The Twins opened defense of their league title with a squeaker They managed only four hits off loser Jim (Catfish) Hunter, but two of them were run-scoring singles by Sandy Valdespino, the last a tie-breaker in the ninth.

Went The Distance

Jim (Mudcat) Grant, a 21-game winner last season, gave up six hits and went the distance for the victory Hunter retired 16 batters in order over one stretch

Tom McCraw's bases-loaded single off the first baseman's glove broke up the 14-inning, four-hour 23-minute affair at Chicago White Sox rookie Tommy Agee sent it into extra innings with a two-run homer in the seventh Joe Adcock had a homer for the Angeles, who haven't won in Chicago since July 22, 1964.

Jim Lonborg's bases-loaded, two-out balk allowed Bob Johnson to stroll home with Baltimore's winning run in the 13th at Boston. Lonborg had pitched three perfect innings of relief before Johnson singled and moved to third on a sacrifice and fly ball.

Frank Robinson, the former National Leaguer, had a homer and a single, while Brooks Robinson drove in three runs on a homer and two singles, one of them a bases-loaded, two-out drive to left that scored pinch runner Russ Snyder with the run that tied it 4-4 in the ninth and forced it into extra innings

Tony Kubek Will be Commentator on TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Tony Kubek, former New York Yankee shortstop, has been signed as a baseball commentator by the National Broadcasting Co, it was announced Tuesday.

Kubeck will do the color commentary on some of the games to be televised by NBC. He retired from baseball during the winter because of a back ailment after nine seasons with the Yankees.

Banquet Set June 7

1,000-Yard Club Again Will Honor Outstanding Blocker

The outstanding blocker in the National Football League will be honored again this year at the annual banquet of the 1,000-Yard Club in Menasha Tuesday, June 7.

Ballots have gone out to 48 electors representing press, radio and TV in the 14 league cities. Tabulation of the voting will be completed in time for an announcement of the winner in mid-May.

Jim Parker, of the Baltimore Colts, was the first to receive the Outstanding Blocker Award last year. The club was formed in 1964 to honor the backfield men in the NFL who have gained more than 1,000 yards in one league season, but since that time no new names have been added to the original list of 11 ground gaining stars.

Through its membership of some 150 professional football fans and its annual banquets the Foundation has raised over $20,000 for scholarships and other youth projects.

Pete Schmidt Rips 675 Pin Series

Treichel Has 280 at Little Chute; Biese Hits 610 in Kimberly Loop

Pete Schmidt cracked games of 235 and 247 for a 675 series to pace the Tri-City League at the Little Chute Recreation Lanes Tuesday night.

In the same circuit, Carl "T-Bone" Treichel filled in for a team that was short-handed, bowled against his own teammates and came up with a 280 singleton. He had a 7-pin tap in the second frame. Al Fuhs also filled in for another squad and had a 592 series.

Mel Biese rolled a 610 series in the American League at Jerry's Lanes, Kimberly, to lead the way. Bob Breier was runnerup with a 605 series.

Gene Peerenboom's 588 series was high in the Continental League at Jerry's Lanes, Kimberly, last night. Wally Rutten was second with a 585 set.

Manawa '9' Cops Opener From Pacelli

STEVENS POINT — Manawa High School launched its 1966 baseball campaign here on a successful note, outlasting Stevens Point Pacelli, 8-5, in a non-conference tilt.

Dennis Nelson, who relieved starter Greg Rohde on the mound with no outs in the fourth inning, picked up the mound victory by hurling no-hit ball for the last four innings and striking out eight.

Al Sabrowsky led the Manawa plate attack with three singles in four trips. Nelson aided his own cause by driving in three runs. The only extra-base hit was delivered by Jeff Schefelker, a double.

The line score:

Manawa	040 202 0—8	8 2
Pacelli	100 400 0—5	6 6

Joan Kolosso Hits 538 Set

Includes 223 in Top Series of American League

Joan Kolosso socked a 223 singleton on the way to a 538 threesome to set the pace in the American League at the 41 Bowl Tuesday night.

Runnerup laurels for the night went to Norma Luecke, of the Women's National League at 41 Bowl, with marks of 204 and 528. Other National loop honor tallies were Mary Grishaber's 522, Mary Weiss' 511 and Shirley Seehawer's 193.

Ace Floors (57½-32½) annexed the National League crown by 3½-games over runnerup Water Right.

Other honor scores in the American circuit were Sophie Martin's 199 and 524, Bonnie Brietzke's 201 and 517, Deanna Bauman's 207 and 523 and Carole Cowan's 191 and 506.

Jackie Froehlich rolled a 506 series for the only honor score in the Tag-a-Long League at 41 Bowl. WAPL Radio (63½-26½) won the league title by 9½-games over runnerup Pitz and Treiber Jewelers.

Badger '9' Drops Fifth Straight To Arizona State

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP)— Reggie Jackson slugged two homers for the second straight day as Arizona State University pounded Wisconsin for the fifth straight game 11-3 Tuesday.

Jackson's homers raised his total to 12 for the Sun Devils, defending NCAA baseball champions, and broke the school record of 11 set last year by Rick Monday. Monday was signed later for a sizable bonus by Kansas City.

The loss dropped Wisconsin's record to 0-5, with all the defeats inflicted by Arizona State, which is now 29-6.

Roller Still Struggling With Verdict

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A Milwaukee judge who missed his opening day deadline for a verdict in Wisconsin's antitrust battle against baseball struggled again today to complete the decision.

It appeared unlikely that an announcement of the ruling would come before late morning

Half of the bulky decision, said to cover more than 200 pages, was in the hands of the county printers at 8 a.m.

Gambling Raid Staged at Tavern Run by 2 Packers

MANITOWOC (AP) — Four men forfeited bond and two others pleaded innocent Monday to charges stemming from a raid on a tavern-restaurant operated by Max McGee and Fred (Fuzzy) Thurston of the Green Bay Packers.

The six had been charged with violating the city's gambling ordinance after police raided the Left End Steak House last Wednesday.

McGee and Thurston veteran lineman for National Football League Champion's, are partners in the corporation that owns the establishment.

Pleading innocent were Edward Schrantz, the bartender, who was charged with permitting gambling, and Richard Brunner of Manitowoc, charged with being an inmate of a gambling place.

Also charged as being inmates of a gambling place were Kelley C. Clark, 34, Fond du Lac; Ralph Lulloff, 48, Manitowoc, Eugene Anderson, 37, Whiting, Ind., and Garfield L. Crawford, 52, Manitowoc.

Brunner's and Schrantz's case were continued for trial. The others forfeited $28 bail.

Trucker Track Unit Fortified By 9 Lettermen

Opens Campaign Tuesday Against New London

CLINTONVILLE — The Clintonville High School track team opens its season next Tuesday as host to New London.

Nine athletes — approximately one-fifth of the squad — who have been working out under the direction of Coach Walter Rohm are lettermen. Rohm, who is starting his 23rd season as Trucker track coach, has a large group of sophomores. No time trials have been conducted since practically all of the work has been indoors to date.

Lettermen include Tom Werner, a quarter-miler and sprinter; Bob Stichman, a hurdler; Mike Kujawski, quarter-miler and half-miler; Tom Richardson, dashman and relay runner; Jim Seaman, high jumper and quarter-miler; Jim Gehling, miler; Don Kirchner, high jumper and discus thrower; and Jim Blum and Jim Anderson, pole vaulters.

The team's strongest events loom as the pole vault, the distances and the hurdles.

Last year, the Truckers finished sixth in the Mid-Eastern Conference, after having been third in 1964.

The schedule:

April 19—New London
April 22—Triangular at Kaukauna (including Kimberly)
April 26—Waupaca.
April 29—Shawano.
May 4—CW relays at Stevens Point
May 6—at Menasha.
May 13—M-E meet
May 17—M-E—relays.

Giants Wallop Cubs in Opener

sioned because the manager suffered from a virus in this first league game of his three-year contract.

Mays, who broke in under Durocher with the New York Giants in 1951 as the Say Hey Kid, this time broke up a scoreless pitching duel in the fourth with his 415-foot homer over the center field fence,

Great Game

Juan Marichal went on to hurl a three-hitter and Durocher commented, "He pitched a great game against us."

When somebody wanted to know if Leo considered the Dominican right-hander one of the great hurlers in baseball, Durocher's slow burn began.

"He pitched great against us, period," the peppery skipper retorted. "If you want more praise, go ask Mr. Franks."

Leo referred, naturally to Herman Franks, the San Francisco manager who coached under Durocher at Brooklyn and New York

When the Cubs' pilot left Candlestick Park, he had problems other than those posed by writers. Will he change his line-up for tonight's second game against the Giants?

"I may change If I do, I'll decide tonight, but I have nothing definite in mind right at the moment"

Leo Durocher has returned to a rugged job at the age of 59, but he wouldn't have taken it if he didn't want it.

Non-Loop Season Opener

Marion '9' Trounces Clintonville, 12-2

CLINTONVILLE — Marion High School, defending Central Wisconsin Conference baseball champion, served notice that it will be another tough contender this season as the Mustangs trimmed Clintonville, 12-2, Tuesday afternoon.

Ken Frailing and Dick Suehring, of Marion, held the Truckers to five hits in the non-loop opener for both clubs.

Marion jumped off to a lead by scoring four runs in the first inning and added three more in the third, two in the fourth and three in the fifth. The game was limited to six innings because of darkness.

Frailing worked four innings, struck out 10, walked two and gave up three hits. Suehring finished up, walking two, fanning one and allowing two hits.

Lee Raddatz went the distance for Clintonville and struck out four while issuing nine bases on balls. Marion had 11 hits with Allen Kristof leading the way with 3-for-3 including a double and triple and four runs batted in. Frailing had three hits in four trips.

Jack Bennett had a double and single for two of Clintonville's five hits. Mike Paasch and Pete Korb also doubled for the losers.

but the bases were empty both times.

"Blew Chance to Win"

Bragan found little to be happy about "because we blew a chance to win it three times" but he was pleased with the execution of his new bunting tactics.

"Torre laid down a perfect bunt in the 11th that moved our guys to second and third, but we just couldn't get them in," Bragan said.

Part of the Braves' problems were caused by fastballing Bob Veale, who limited Atlanta to only five hits before he tired in the ninth and walked the bases full. ElRoy Face came in and got the Pirates out of that jam, and then Don Schwall limited the Braves to only three hits in the extra innings and was given the victory.

"Ya'all come back, heah now!" the scoreboard said, reminding Southerners that the Braves will try again tonight.

regular and I intend to keep the job. I know it's up to me."

McCraw wasn't the only player to lift the hopes of Stanky, who had to juggle his way through 18 players to finally score the victory.

Tommie Agee, the spring training sensation, kept the Sox in the game with a two-run homer in the seventh inning off Dean Chance to tie the score.

In the fifth inning, Agee ran into trouble with the wind, the fence and sun and Paul Schaal's deep fly dropped for a triple. With a pulled-in infield, Bob Rodgers singled home the first run of the game.

"Something like that could hurt a youngster," said Stanky, "but Agee kept fighting. And remember, he hit the homer with two strikes on him"

Stanky, who hasn't managed since he left the St Louis Cardinals more than a decade ago, said, "It's tougher to run a club in the American League.

"Over there it would take 11 innings to win or lose the game Over here it looks as if we'll have a lot of 17 inning games.

"Take a look at that scoreboard, nobody in thuls league won by more than one run today."

Montreal Tips Toronto for Third Victory

TORONTO (AP) — Montreal's defending Stanley Cup champions are a step away from sweeping the Toronto Maple Leafs out of the National Hockey league playoffs.

But neither Toe Blake, the crafty Canadiens' coach, nor Gump Worsley, the Vezina Trophy-winning goaltender, are counting the Leafs out before they fall all the way.

"It still takes four to win it," Blake said after the Canadiens stormed from behind Tuesday night and flattened the Leafs 5-2 for their third straight victory in the best-of-seven semifinal series.

"I'm not making any predictions," cracked Worsley, who stymied Toronto after yielding two first period goals. "I want to win one of the next four games, That'll suit me."

Not since 1942, when the Leafs dropped three in a row to Detroit in the final and then came on to take four straight, has a team been able to overcome a 3-0 deficit in postseason play.

The Canadiens, who ousted Toronto in six games in last year's semifinal series before beating Chicago in seven games for the Cup, turned the tide in the second period Tuesday night with a three-goal barrage in just over three minutes.

Lawrence E. Harty, 64, Democratic Chairman Of 6th District, Dies

WEST BEND (AP)—Sixth District Democratic Chairman Lawrence E. Harty of West Bend died Tuesday at 64.

Harty, a retired bookkeeper, was elected district chairman last year. He was former Washington County Democratic chairman and was elected to his second term as a county supervisor one week before his death.

Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Harty was a native of Bath, Minn. He is survived by his widow, Agnes, and a daughter, Mrs. Hugh R. Hughes, Rockford, Ill.

Funeral services will be Friday.

Anti-War Leaflets Tossed Onto Floor Of Stock Exchange

NEW YORK (AP) — Leaflets tossed by anti-Viet Nam war demonstrators onto the floor of the New York Stock Exchange suspended trading for a brief time.

Some 2,500 brokers and exchange employes were on the ground floor 30 feet below the balcony from which the green and white leaflets were tossed Tuesday.

The demonstrators said they belonged to Youth Against War and Fascism, a college group.

Within a few minutes, 11 young demonstrators were taken from the balcony by exchange security police. There were no arrests.

Felled by Bat, Romano Not Hurt Seriously

CHICAGO (AP) — Johnny Romano, Chicago White Sox catcher who was knocked out by a swinging bat in Chicago's baseball opener Tuesday, is expected to be back in action this week.

Romano was felled and carried off the field in the fifth inning in the game with the California Angels.

Jose Cardenal, Angels' center fielder, swung and missed a pitch and the backlash of his swing struck Romano on the left side of his head.

Romano crumbled to the ground, rolled onto his stomach and lost consciousness. After treatment on the field, Romano was carried off in a stretcher.

The 30-year-old catcher was taken to Mercy Hospital and X-rays were negative.

The White Sox, who defeated the Angels 3-2 in 14 innings, are idle today.

Drive a Peugeot mile

And No Other Compact Will Ever Feel the Same

5280 feet of uninterrupted luxury. Holes fill in and bumps dissolve under the Peugeot-patented ride. (Strut-type shocks combine with extra long coil springs for the most comfortable suspension on earth.) Peugeot's stabilizer bar uncurves curves. And right down where Peugeot meets the road, there's unmatched roadability in "Super Premium" Michelin X tires. (Three layers of steel cord . . . standard Peugeot equipment.) But all this smooth talk means nothing until you actually drive a Peugeot mile. (At your Peugeot dealer's naturally.)

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

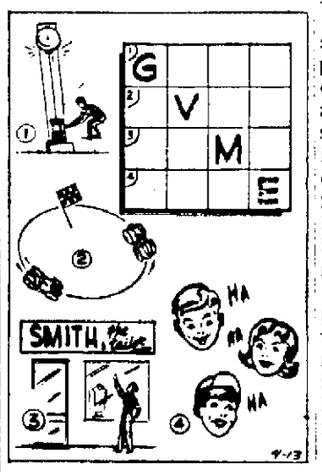
Solve the Word Square Puzzle And Try for Main Award

BY CAPPY DICK

For solving the word square puzzle in the adjoining picture and sending in an exceptionally neat and original entry, five boys and girls who read this column in the cities where it is published are going to become winners of a national prize, as well as a local qualifying prize.



Print the letters in the square. Clip out the picture, paste it on paper or a postal card, print your name, age, address and the name of your school beneath it and decorate it in any neat, original way with crayons, paints, cutouts or other means. Address it to Cappy Dick's Midweek Contest at the Post-Crescent and mail it before midnight of Friday, April 15.

Names of the winners will be published here and their prizes will be sent to their homes by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned.

The grand prizes are big sets of model construction machines manufactured by Tonka Toys. There are four working machines in the set. One is a model cement mixer that has a revolving drum just like a life-size cement mixer. Another is a sand loader that has a crank, an endless belt and a hopper, all of which move. The third vehicle is a trencher complete with operating scoop and back hoe, and the fourth is a dump truck with a movable tail gate.

The local qualifying prizes in this contest are leathercraft kits for making Cowboy Boot key cases. Everything needed is included in each kit. Five will be awarded to boys and girls of the Appleton area. For the 5 neatest correct entries that are the most original in appearance. Entries winning these kits will be considered in the judging to find the winners of the five sets of Tonka construction vehicles.

The puzzle requires contestants to fill the blanks in the Words Often Misused: Do not say, "I value your friendship above any I have made." Say, "I value your friendship more than any other I have made."

Often Mispronounced: Hypothetical. Pronounce high-po-thet-i-kal, principal accent on third syllable.

Often Misspelled: Recourse (a resort to help). Resource (an asset, help, or aid)

Synonyms: Straightforward, direct, unreserved, honest, sincere, artless, unsophisticated, undeviating.

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's Word: Traducement; slander; defamation. "The politician's traducement of his opponents disgusted his listeners."

Jingo's '20 Questions' Poll Gets Underway

Early Birds' Returns Indicate That Readers Able to Answer 75 Per Cent

BY JINGO

First returns in Jingo's popular music poll (see The Post-Crescent, Saturday, April 9, Page A-3) indicate that readers, at least the few who have replied, were able to answer about 75 per cent of the questions. If you haven't seen the poll, look it up and try your hand at answering the 20 questions about the early "history" of rock and roll.

Jingo

Send answers on a blank sheet of paper to Jingo, in care of The Post-Crescent, Appleton. Name is not necessary, but please list your age. Deadline for entries is Saturday, with results to be posted one week from Thursday.

Speaking of polls, Jingo is contemplating a similar poll concerning popular music today. A survey such as this would give the teens, who may have found some of Saturday's questions too tough, a chance to shine.

Jingo has a disease. You do, too, if you happen to like "Batman," according to Edmund Hartman, former national chairman of the Writers' Guild of America. Hartman says "Batman" is "one of the symptoms of a new disease in which people look for the sadistic thrill of feeling superior to 'stumblebumery.'" He continued, "I believe 'Batman' is a symptom of something deep and disturbing. Together with like systems they form a syndrome indicating a disease. Other symptoms include the New York Mets, Op art, underground movies, or you name it."

He goes on to say that science has introduced many words into the language which are meaningless to most men. "Frustrated and bewildered, the viewer turns to something he can understand and feel superior to: a baseball team of failures and losers; a TV show made to be mocked." All right, all you "frustrated and bewildered" viewers, join Jingo Wednesday and Thursday in rooting the Dynamic Duo to victory. And we may as well pull for the Mets, too, now that the Braves are gone.

Michael Dunn may be the busiest dwarf on television, but he's not the most frequently "seen." The last word is in quotes because in a technical sense, he is not seen. He is Felix Stilla, 29, who stands 3-10 and plays the role of Cousin Itt on "The Addams Family." The hair is a wig.

A milestone, of sorts, in television history will take place in September when ABC presents "Bridge on the River Kwai," one of the motion picture industry's greatest entertainment and financial successes of all time and winner of seven Academy Awards. One major automobile producer has taken advantage of the attraction to buy full sponsorship and introduce its 1967 line.

Private Script Is Trouble For Van Dyke

BY TV SCOUT

8:30-9 — Channels 2-7-12 — The Dick Van Dyke Show has another fast-paced comedy gem. Rob, Laura, Buddy and Sally are at the office preparing for an evening at the theater, with tickets given them by their nasty boss Alan Brady (who had previously offered them to the night watchman), when they realize that a private script for next week's show had been delivered to Alan. This is the script in which they take out their hostilities by writing stage directions like "Alan Brady, the obnoxious, offensive egomaniac makes his entrance and destroys our brilliant monologue." So they set out to steal back the script from the locked desk in Alan's locked office. Van Dyke as a "second-story man" is hysterical to watch, and the dialogue is great.

6:30-7 — Channels 11-6-9 — Holy It's About Time, Batman has a new villain in the very large person of Victor Buono, as King Tut, once a Yale professor and now the self-proclaimed reincarnation of Egyptian royalty. And my, does he have a plot, amid talking sphinxes and living mummies! He kidnaps "rich millionaire" Bruce Wayne (Adam West), and holds him for a large ransom. Holy What'll I Do Now, does that put the Boy Wonder on a spot when Commissioner Gordon calls for Batman's help! (Color)

* * *

6:30-8 — Channel 5 — The Virginian has "A Bald-Faced Boy," an episode begun on March 16 and preempted by the coverage of the abortive Gemini 8 splashdown. It's a feudin', fightin', fussin' and some kissin' outing which introduces Randy's rough and tumble family. (Color)

* * *

8-8:30 — Channels 2-7-12 — Green Acres is pretty silly, but it does have some genuine laughs in its silliness as the generator at the Oliver Wendell Douglas mansion breaks down. (Color)

* * *

8-9 — Channels 11-6-9 — Tom Tryon comes to The Big Valley as a charming, but ruthless financier just as the farmers face financial difficulties because of a severe drought. (Color)

8-9 — Channels 4-5 — The Bob Hope Comedy Special was also preempted on March 16. Some of its funnier moments feature Jonathan Winters as Rock Surly, an Oscar nominee accused of murdering all his competition. Hope and noisy Phyllis Diller present a Japanese soap opera, Pagoda Place, and Lee Marvin spoofs Western movies, and his own performance in "Cat Ballou." Clarinetist Pete Fountain is also on hand. (Color)

9-10 — Channels 4-5 — I Spy has a dandy adventure, with overtones of the brainwashing scene in "The Ipcress File." Robert Culp is kidnapped and brainwashed ("Brainwashed? Sorry, but I always send mine out to be done, he says at first) into believing Bill Cosby is a traitor. (Color)

9-10 — Channels 11-6-9 — The Long, Hot Summer slushes through another bit of turmoil, prompted by a face from the past (and another March 16 preemption). At first you have pity for Ricardo Montalban, a crippled farm foreman. He is back to woo Ruth Roman and start his life anew.

9-10 — Channels 2-7-12 — And still another March 16 preemption, this time The Danny Kaye Show with Fred Gwynne as Chet Munster and Danny as David Dracula ribbing news shows; Edie Adams joining the boys in a song about parents watching a Little League baseball game; and fine singer Glenn Yarbrough singing "Baby, the Rain Must Fall" and "Walk On, Little Boy." (Color)

The Johnny Cash Show is coming to the Bay Theater in Green Bay Thursday, April 21, with an imposing array of headliners. The stars include June Carter, shown with Cash, from Grand Ole Opry, the Tennessee Three, Statler Brothers Quartet and Bobby Smith. Tickets for the two performances at 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. currently are on sale at Newman's in Appleton.

Spring Quarter Looks Good for Businessmen

Even Feared Boosts In Tax, Shortages Can't Slow Growth

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Rarely has a spring quarter looked better for businessmen and their employes than the one starting today. Even the possibilities they fear most — such as higher taxes or shortages of materials and of skilled labor or presidential pleas to cut back on spending — are unlikely to develop fast enough to affect business results in the next three months.

The momentum of the 62-month-old economic upswing is carrying over in most fields. Some of the upward shove is due to the very things that hold the most threats of trouble later. These include the growing spending by government, consumers and business itself, and maybe a bit too much confidence in the future.

Effect of Boom

But right now the effects of the spending boom are greater output of goods and services, higher incomes, record profits. The chief drawback now is rising prices.

Some time ahead is the day of a real reckoning, if the boom should overheat the economy, cause greater inflation, overexpansion of production facilities, and a splurge of speculation that could lead to a bust.

The administration points to some successes in persuading particular industries or companies to hold down or roll back price increases.

And there are already some brakes on the economy which the business world will feel during the April-June quarter. These include higher tax collections in both personal and corporate fields, higher interest rates all up and down the line, and growing competition of civilian and defense projects for some materials, some workmen

Slowdown in Future

Performance of these brakes so far leads most businessmen to feel that any real slowdown is weeks or months away.

For example, the higher interest rate hasn't as yet led to any letdown in the demand for loans, with the possible exception of home mortgages

For another example, retail sales have risen in volume despite the bite of higher Social Security withholding rates.

For still another, corporations have been pushing ahead with their plans to build new plants or additions and to buy new equipment Neither higher interest rates, nor speedier tax collections have had any visible effect as yet. And if business heeds President Johnson's plea to cut back on these plans, it is doubted if actual spending could be trimmed before summer

Some community projects have been postponed because of the rising cost of borrowing money, but the total still remains large.

Total Skill

Consumers complain increasingly about the rising prices. But merchants so far have sighted no cutbacks in buying. One reason may be that in many instances wage scales have gone up this year, as provided in labor contracts reached a year or two ago.

Another may be that many stockholders have been getting larger dividend payments this year.

A third could be that those with savings to deposit or invest have been getting higher interest or yields on them.

Good times are still riding high as the quarter starts. The problems and threats to all this euphoria may well grow in the next three months — but hardly in time to put much of a crimp in today's style of prosperity before the quarter ends.

End adv Fri Pms April 1

Three Kimberly Students Earn Straight A Marks

KIMBERLY — Three Kimberly High School students managed straight A or 4.0 averages for the third quarter of the school year while 10 earned an average of 3.75 or higher, according to Darrell Larson, principal.

Students with perfect grade points were Pat Van Himbergen, senior; Janet Jonen, junior, and Carol Lenz, sophomore

Kimberly Nets $1,095 For March of Dimes

KIMBERLY — Final tabulation of money collected for the March of Dimes showed $1,095 collected in the village compared to $1,016 realized in the 1965 effort, according to George Anderson and Giles Mennen, co-chairmen for the affair.

Broken down the collection shows $657 in the house-to-house collection, $375 in the toll bridge campaign, $36 from coin containers in business places and $26 from bowling leagues at Jerry's Lanes.

Suits Filed to Force Restaurant Integration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has filed suit in Montgomery, Ala. to force desegregation of five eating establishments in Prattville, Ala.

The action charged that Negroes were not served on the same basis as whites.

IMMEDIATE OPPORTUNITIES

Appleton Plant of Allis-Chalmers is in the midst of an extensive modernization & expansion program. A longer work week was scheduled to meet the increasing demands of this program. In spite of these efforts, we still need help. Immediate vacancies exist in a variety of skills that provide excellent advancement opportunities. These include:

* Cyl. Grinder Operator
* Turret Lathe Operator
* Engine Lathe Operators
* Boring Bar Operators
* Planer Operators
* Boring Mill Operators
* Sheet Metal Workers
* Welders-Fitters
* Assemblers
* Mechanics

In addition we need Designer Draftsmen, Layout Draftsmen & Design Engineers.

Although the nature of this work restricts actual placement of only qualified men in some of these positions, Appleton Plant offers a complete training program to applicants with sufficient aptitude to qualify for the many vacancies that presently exist.

Wages or hourly rates are consistent with comparable classifications within the area & our employee benefit program is equally progressive.

A&P what is Coffee Mill Flavor?

It's fresh-ground flavor you can't get in a can.
Fresh-ground flavor you do get in A&P's whole-bean Eight O'Clock, Red Circle and Bokar Coffees.
You see, once the coffee bean is ground, the flavor begins to fade.
That's why, when we at A&P buy the finest coffees we can find, we bring them to you still in the bean.
And we custom-grind them exactly right for your coffeemaker...
Takes a little extra work, but we're happy to do it.
That way we can be sure you'll enjoy the full, fresh taste of A&P's Coffee Mill Flavor.

Are A&P Coffees a good reason for shopping A&P?
They're one of many.

May Have Strayed

Communist Chinese Claim U. S. Warplane Downed on Mainland

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China said today its air force shot down a U.S. warplane over the Red mainland. The U.S. Defense Department admitted a Navy tanker plane is missing, and Pentagon sources said it could have strayed over Chinese territory.

Peking radio claimed Chinese fighters downed an A3B heavy attack plane Tuesday on the Luichow Peninsula of Kwangtung Province, which faces North Viet Nam across the Gulf of Tonkin.

The Pentagon announcement said a Navy KA3B, tanker version of the A3B, was overdue on a ferry flight from the Philippines to the carrier Kitty Hawk stationed off Viet Nam. It made no mention of the Chinese claim.

Carries 3 Men

Peking Radio said nothing about the American plane crew. The KA3B normally carries three men.

The Chinese broadcast said the American plane was downed after it penetrated China's "territorial air space" and ignored repeated warnings from Red Chinese warplanes.

Peking claimed the plane came from southeast of China's Hainan Island and "flew in deep over Luichow Peninsula, engaging in military provocation."

"The sending of the heavy attack plane by U.S. imperialism deep into the air space over China's mainland was an open violation of China's sovereign rights," Peking radio said.

Informants at the Pentagon said the plane could have veered over Red China because of a faulty compass, navigation error or confusion. They said they did not know what happened to the twin-engine jet, which was out of radio contact since shortly after its takeoff from a naval air station in the Philippines late Monday.

The Kitty Hawk was reported cruising just outside the Gulf of Tonkin, within aircraft range of targets in North Viet Nam.

The normal flight course for the tanker plane should have carried it on a northwesterly line. To reach the area where the Chinese claim it was shot

Union Officials Label Miners 'Belligerent'

Disappointed at Not Having Contract, UMW Chief Says

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some striking coal miners were described by union officials today as angry and belligerent as about 58,000 miners continued a walkout in defiance of union orders.

"They're sort of belligerent. They're disappointed in the fact that they don't have a contract," said Joseph Yablonski, United Mineworkers director at Uniontown, Pa.

Harvey Yonker, UMW director at Johnstown, Pa., said: "We're telling the men that it is our very honest desire and urgent request that they return to work immediately."

Early Compliance

Yonker said some locals have given indication of early compliance with the back-to-work directive, "but others are angry and in no mood to work without a contract."

Contract negotiations between the union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association were scheduled to resume today in Washington.

One western Pennsylvania mine owner said he is not going to enter into negotiations as long as the strike continues. Another threatened court action.

"We still have a contract that's in force, and while the men are out on strike, that's negotiating under duress," said an operator who asked not to be identified.

Another said, "This is strictly

Seven U. S. Servicemen Killed in Attack; B52 Bombing Called Success

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Air Force reported today that the first B52 raid on North Viet Nam set off huge landslides which sealed the strategic Mu Gia Pass through which the Communists funnel men and supplies to the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

The report of the B52 success came on the heels of a Viet Cong mortar attack early today on Saigon's huge military and civilian airport which killed seven U.S. servicemen and a Vietnamese civilian, wounded 106 American military men, one American civilian and 19 Vietnamese, destroyed four planes and set a 400,000-gallon fuel tank ablaze.

The airport attack demonstrated once more the power of the Viet Cong to strike at will in the Saigon area with harassing tactics. But operations at the huge installation were not disrupted.

Tuesday Bombing

The fleet of high-level B52s from Guam dropped nearly 1.4 million pounds of explosives Tuesday on the tortuous mountain pass on the Laotian border, 230 miles south of Hanoi, through which men and arms feed into the Ho Chi Minh Trail. It was probably the heaviest bomb load of the war.

An Air Force spokesman said aerial reconnaissance showed the pass was "definitely closed by huge landslides touched off by the thunderous explosions."

As the air war against the north continued today, a U.S. Navy Skyraider jet from the carrier Ticonderoga was knocked down by an antiaircraft missile 33 miles south of Vinh. The pilot was listed as missing.

No missiles were sent up against the B52s Tuesday, the spokesman said.

The mortar attack failed to disrupt operations at Tan Son Nhut airport, nerve center of allied air operations and one of the busiest airfields in the world.

The mortars destroyed two U.S. C123 transport planes and two Vietnamese C47 cargo planes and damaged several helicopters, an F100 Super Sabre Jet fighter and one of the two four-engine Constellations used as relay stations for the U.S.-Vietnamese television system.

Other planes were saved by newly built concrete barriers.

Armed U.S. helicopters took off within minutes after an estimated 25 to 30 Viet Cong began laying down their barrage with two to four mortars at 12:30 a.m.

Mortars Hit

The helicopter gunners thought they hit some of the mortar positions as flares virtually turned the darkness into day.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who also commands the Vietnamese air Force, went aloft in his own helicopter to join the aerial hunt for the raiders. He lives at the heavily guarded installation, and some of the mortar shells

Government In Greece Is Badly Shaken

2 Cabinet Members Resign Positions in 6-Month-Old Rule

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Greece's six-month-old government was left badly shaken today following the resignations of two Cabinet members. But Premier Stephanos Stephanopoulos said he was confident it would survive.

Within 24 hours Stephanopoulos saw his foreign and social welfare ministers quit in a bitter dispute over the government's Cyprus policy, and his slim parliamentary majority swept away.

After a conference with King Constantine Tuesday night the premier said he felt sure the government would win a confidence vote in Parliament if opposition forces asked for one.

3-Seat Edge

Parliament is scheduled to convene April 19. Stephanopoulos' three-party coalition held a majority of three seats in the 300-member House before the crisis erupted over who would control Cyprus' national guard.

Today the government held only 150 seats, but there were unconfirmed reports that at least three deputies from the opposition Center Union party would back Stephanopoulos in a showdown.

Maryland Prison Security Tight

BREATHEDSVILLE, Md. (AP) — A tight security lid was clamped on the Maryland Correctional Institution today as officials sought the cause of rioting in which three prisoners, four guards and two state troopers were injured.

Commissioner of Correction Vernon L. Pepersack said work details and recreation breaks were curtailed in the medium security prison raked Tuesday by gunfire and violence.

Inmates, apparently still smoldering from two Monday night incidents in which guards were attacked, rioted in the dining hall during the breakfast period Tuesday.

Guards and state police — using tear gas, riot guns and sidearms — put down the disturbance in less than two hours.

They estimated about 100 or fewer of the 700 prisoners in the south wing of the Western Maryland prison were involved in the rioting.

Strike Continued by Roadway Workmen

CHICAGO (AP) — A strike of 4,500 heavy equipment operators moved through its third day Wednesday, a walkout which has halted $1 billion in road, bridge and sewer projects in 12 northeastern Illinois counties.

Negotiations were to resume between a contractors association and the Operating Engineers Union. Talks broke off Friday.

tions in South Viet Nam. Demonstrators hung an effigy of President Johnson.

VDC leaders strung a banner across an apartment building that read: "Withdraw U.S. troops."

Officers tried to enter the building from which an amplifier was used. Demonstrators started throwing punches at police elbowing through. Police used riot sticks. After about five minutes police got into the building and confiscated the equipment.

After the Telegraph Avenue rhubarb demonstrators marched 10 blocks to the Berkeley City Hall for a rally.

Refused Chance

Some demonstrators tried to enter the building to attend a City Council meeting then in session. About 30 Berkeley police barred their way and prevented all but officials and newsmen from going in. Baker said the VDC had been offered the chance to send a committee in to the council but had refused.

Another police-demonstrator scuffle started after 10 p.m. when the rally, at which VDC leaders spoke from a sound truck, started breaking up.

A crowd of a few hundred moved next door to the lawn in front of the Berkeley - Albany municipal building. With some demonstrators screaming "fascist" and "police state tactics" at the officers, a squad of Alameda County sheriff's deputies moved in and shoved some of the crowd away.

Berkeley for some time has been a center for unrest against U.S. policy in South Viet Nam. The VDC, which has some fulltime personnel and often uses the 27,500-student University of California Berkeley campus as a forum, sponsored massive marches against U.S. policy last year, including unsuccessful tries at marching on the Oakland Army Base to air their views.

Waukesha Man Killed in Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Waukesha, Wis., Marine has been wounded fatally in action in Viet Nam, the Defense Department said Tuesday.

Pfc. James P. Harteau, 21, died last Wednesday only five days before he was scheduled to be transferred to Okinawa.

The private had served in Viet Nam for 11 months. He was wounded fatally in the battle of Phu Bai.

Harteau, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Harteau of Waukesha, was a Waukesha High School graduate and a former University of Wisconsin student.

Italian Luxury Liner

Three Persons Die as Huge Waves Hit Ship

NEW YORK (AP)—A mountainous wave that crashed over the Italian luxury liner Michelangelo in a violent storm Tuesday claimed three lives, including an American, a company spokesman said today. Eleven other persons were injured.

The ship is expected to arrive in New York Friday, one day late.

Five men also were lost in the same Atlantic storm from a British freighter 600 miles off Newfoundland.

A spokesman for the Italian Line, the government company which owns the Michelangelo, said at Genoa that the victims were an American and German passenger and a crewman. The dead passengers were John Steinbach, 58, a Chicago insurance executive; and Werner Berndt of Hamburg.

130-Foot Wave

Umberto Nordi, a line director, said the captain told him the wave was more than 130 feet high and caused considerable damage to deck areas and cabins when it washed over the liner. The report on the size of the wave arrived in a radio message from the ship.

The master of the 44,000-ton queen of Italy's passenger fleet, Capt. Giuseppe Saletti, said in a radiotelephone interview Tuesday night that the wave struck the liner about 10:20 a.m. (8:20 a.m. EST) Tuesday as "a fierce wind of about 70 knots was blowing."

At that time Saletti was quoted as saying the wave was 33 feet high. But Nordi said Saletti estimated to him the wave was four times higher than that.

Saletti said he was on the bridge when the wave hit.

Head Injuries

Saletti said Steinbach and Berndt were in their first-class cabins when the giant wave struck. Both men died of head injuries, the company said.

In Chicago, friends of Steinbach said he had been on a business trip in Europe and they had heard from him several days ago from Germany. A native of Chicago, he was a widower and had three children, they said.

The company said four passengers and seven crewmen suffered bruises but were not in serious condition. In addition to Mrs. Berndt, the injured passengers were identified as Joseph Badger, Silvia Borini and Fritz Glauner. Their nationalities were not given.

cesses, representing the states, were clad in identical plastic raincoats. Their mascara ran and hairdos collapsed.

Japan's cherry blossom queen, Hisako Nakahara of Tokyo, held a hurriedly purchased $3.98 drugstore umbrella. The wife of Japanese Ambassador Ryuji Takeuchi wrapped her kimono around her legs to keep warm.

The festival commemorates a 1912 gift of cherry trees to the city from Japan. Since 1954, a Japanese stone lantern has been lit to open the ceremonies. There were speeches.

Drowned Out

William P. Bundy, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, got up to talk and the microphone drowned out. Another was held in reserve in a plastic vegetable sack.

The saxophone player in the Air Force Band got water in his pipes and the band director stood in mud.

Humphrey, hatless and tiny rivulets of water running down his trenchcoat, noted that President Johnson was in Texas where "it's dry and sunny and he left his vice president in Washington where it's cold and wet."

Humphrey called upon the scattered few present to thank Japan for "relieving us of a drought. We're doubly blessed.

"It rained last year too."

Award Contract For 'Alice' Decorations

New London Group Sends Letters to Girls; Seek Bands

NEW LONDON — A Fond du Lac firm has been awarded the contract to sell store and street decorations for the Region 7 "Alice-in-Dairyland" contest here May 14.

The "Alice" contest executive committee Monday awarded M and M Display Service the contract for decorations. The firm will contact all stores in the city.

Committee members inspected a number of hats to be sold in promotion of the contest. They will identify the city with the regional contest. No decision was made to purchase hats pending the receipt of other displays.

80 Letters

Harry S. Emans, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said more than 80 letters had been sent to possible candidates for the regional meet. Fourteen girls have submitted their names to Wisconsin State Department of Agriculture from the region contests, Emans said.

"We are asking the support of all dairy and cheese producing factories within the district in the promotion of dairy products," Emans said. More than 50 industries have been contacted for their support, he added.

Band entries for the parade are coming in slow, he said.

Chilton Delays Decision on Joining Vocational Program

Educators Still Interested in Brillion Plan but Await Costs

CHILTON — The school board Monday night ruled it could not commit itself to participation in the proposed cooperative vocational training program for high school juniors and seniors which may be established at Brillion until definite costs are established

A. W. Gordon, superintendent, said however, that the board was still interested in the program He added that James Skarda, guidance director; John Sandberg, high school principal, and himself, would attend a meeting April 21 at Brillion city hall to learn more about the program

Last week the Brillion school board learned it may be able to obtain state funds for the program.

Reports on Survey

Gordon reported that a survey of high school sophomores and juniors here showed that 43 students were interested in auto mechanics, nine in auto body repair, six in metal fabrication, three in foundry operations and two in printing.

He indicated the administration was disappointed that only 11 students were interested in phases of vocational training other than auto mechanics and repair.

A primary purpose of the proposed program is to train students for local industry and it was felt there is little need for skilled auto workers in the immediate area.

Authorize Pact Signing

Sandberg was authorized to sign contracts with schools regarding athletic contests and contracts for hiring officials for the contests. The contracts would be co-signed by the superintendent.

The board authorized the purchase of 30 additional commencement robes at a cost of $17.70 each for a total cost of $531 The purchase will be financed by the Math Klinkner Memorial Fund.

There are 128 students in the graduating class, and the school had 98 robes.

Sandberg reported on the North Central Association convention he attended in Chicago last month.

The new mathematical program scope and sequence for the elementary school was presented by George Herrmann, elementary school principal.

He said the new curriculum guide, prepared by the teachers, will aid new teachers in knowing what is expected of the pupils at their particular grade level and what the pupils covered the preceding year.

Pastor Hurt In Fall From Horse

WAUPACA — Rev. A. S. Petersen, 58, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, suffered a skull fracture and concussion late Sunday afternoon when he fell from a horse near his rural Waupaca home.

Pastor Petersen was taken to the Riverside Memorial Hospital by ambulance where he is reported in fair condition.

The mishap occurred when the saddle cinch broke and Pastor Peterson was thrown to the ground, landing on his head. The pastor and his son were riding near their home when the mishap occurred.

Canadian Firm Shows New Jet Prop Aircraft

Air Wisconsin Officials Given Sneak Preview of Plane Expected in Fall

A development version of Air Wisconsin's new jet prop was shown today to Appleton and Outagamie County residents. A group from deHavilland Aircraft, of Canada, Ltd., flew to Appleton late Monday, to show the plane for the first time in the United States.

Two of these planes have been ordered by Air Wisconsin to beef up the Appleton - based airline's schedules between Outagamie County Airport and Chicago's O'Hare Field. One of the planes is expected to be delivered this fall and the other in March, 1967.

The development version of the plane, which was in Appleton today, was used to demonstrate its performance to the directors of Air Wisconsin. It came with a plain interior, no sound proofing, or paint job and other niceties that will be installed for commercial use, including a large passenger door.

Jet Props

When in operation, Air Wisconsin's new jet props will carry nearly the same number of passengers as two "Doves," the plane now used exclusively by the airline. The new plane can fly to an altitude of 27,000 feet and has a crusing speed of nearly 200 miles per hour.

The jet-prop 600 will cost more than $300,000. It will carry substantial airfreight as well as 17 passengers, and weigh 5½ tons when loaded. It is powered by two Pratt and Whitney jet turbine engines.

DeHavilland of Canada is the world's leading manufacturer of short take-off and landing aircraft. The new plane is ideally suited for an operation such as Air Wisconsin, and although the short take-off will not be utilized, it will provide a tremendous margin of safety for the airline.

Show at Chicago

Arriving with the plane were five members of the Canadian firm and Joseph Murphy of Air Transport World. A showing and demonstration of the Canadian plane will be given to the aviation trade press in Chicago Wednesday.

Air Wisconsin began operations late in August with two deHavilland "Doves," offering four daily non-stop flights each way between Appleton and Chicago. It recently added a third and fourth "Dove" to its fleet and increased the flights by 50 per cent, due to passenger demands of the area.

This new equipment was purchased with the proceeds from the additional stock offer in January. A limited amount of this stock is still available.

Brillion Parish Picks Building Committee

BRILLION Orlo Koerth was appointed chairman of the building committee for the new St. Bartholomew Lutheran Church.

Other committee members appointed by William Drumm, congregation president, are Melvin Buboltz, finance; Lloyd Kalies and Mrs. Lloyd Zeamer, public relations; Dewaine Borchardt, pictures; Earl Pitzner and Allan Belinke, construction; and Norman Krahn, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Krueger and Mrs. Lawrence Tschantz.

Several architects will be interviewed by the committee Thursday night.

The new church will be built on a 4-acre tract at the south end of Main Street and will replace the present church at Kasson.

Acre of Grassland Burns at New London

NEW LONDON — About an acre of grassland burned over at 2:45 p.m. Tuesday before city firemen extinguished the blaze on property owned by Clifford Fuerst, Montgomery Street.

Cause of the fire was not determined. The city dump, which is being burned daily, is just north of the Fuerst property.

New Site Chosen for Club's Spring Roundup

AMHERST — The Tomorrow River Conservation Club's spring round-up will be May 8 at Wildwood Gardens east of Stevens Point, this year instead of in the Community Hall here, the setting in previous years.

First Phase of Park Plan

Work Starts on Manawa Beach

MANAWA — Development of a swimming area, the first step in a three-part program for a city park presented to the council for approval Monday, will begin this week

The development will include a swimming beach, picnic area, and boating and trailer parking area. The total land area of the development is aproximately one-half acre.

Grading the beach area will be the first step in the development. Plans call for a bath house and life guard tower. The beach will have a blanket of sand about one foot deep, and gradually slope to the water's edge. The lake bottom in the swimming area will also be sloped with a six to eight inch sand covering.

Safety Measure

A rope will be placed across the area at the 4½ foot depth mark as a safety measure. Two floating docks will be placed in the swimming area. One will be equipped with a sliding board for the youngsters and the other will be anchored in eight to 10 feet of water and be equipped with diving boards. Sizes of the docks will be determined after a study is completed determining needs.

Trees will be planted in the picnic area to give shade and add variety to the park. Tables and trash barrels will be furnished, according to the plan. A proposed parking area will have facilities for 30 cars with room to expand to the east if it becomes necessary. Traffic will be one-way throughout the parking lot.

Boat moorings will be constructed in the present lagoon along with a surfaced boat launching ramp. The area will also include a parking area for cars and trailers.

The Soil Conservation Service (SCS) prepared the plans for the site and has offered to work with the city in developing the area. The park is scheduled for completion this year.

Farmington Will Not Cancel Engineering Firm's Contract

Voters Turn Down Proposals To Keep 1960 Ordinance and To Appoint Fact Finding Group

WAUPACA — Town of Farmington voters crossed another hurdle in their zoning battles Tuesday night when they voted against terminating a contract with the Green Engineering Co., a firm preparing a comprehensive zoning plan for the town.

Only eight days before, more than 250 residents at a special town meeting had voted to keep the present zoning regulations until the engineering firm's proposals could be studied.

At the earlier meeting Ray Hemingson had presented a resolution to terminate the engineering firm's contract and to keep the 1960 zoning ordinance. Ruled out of order, the resolution was held over until Tuesday's annual town meeting.

Long Discussion

After more than two hours of discussion Tuesday, a vote was taken on the Hemingson resolution. It was defeated 57 to 38. More than 125 people attended the meeting, but only qualified voters could cast ballots.

Hemingson and Everett Anderson contended that the Green Engineering Zoning Ordinance would hurt the farmers in the town. They felt the present ordinance should be retained and a seven-man fact-finding committee appointed to recommend annual changes.

Town Chairman L. E. Nelson, who opposed the Hemingson resolution, said that he and Richard E. Peterson, town attorneyl, have ruled that a fact-finding committee is contrary to state statutes.

Contrary to Statutes

"There is nothing in the statues stating that such a fact-finding committee can be appointed — either by the town board or anyone else," Nelson said. "The town board was elected by the people who should have trust in them. Now you are trying to take town board business out of the hands of the board."

The town does, however, have the authority to name a five-man zoning committee which it has done, Nelson said.

Hemingson said his resolution was legal. He stated he had checked with Laurie Anderson and Richard E. Johnson, Waupaca lawyers.

Both Nelson and Harold Cripe, former chairman of the zoning committee, said there are sections of the proposed ordinance they also disagree with. But the ordinance is still in the planning stages and it must be studied and revised.

Public Hearings

The crowd was told that before any ordinance is adopted there will be several planning meetings plus public hearings.

Anderson argued that zoning laws should be tailored to the needs of an area and that they should be drawn up by local people, not by outsiders like Green Engineering Co.

Nelson said, "It's about time Farmington stops haggling about its zoning problems and sits down to do some serious studying on the Green proposals — such as the Town of Dayton is doing."

The towns of Dayton, Waupaca and Farmington form a three-town complex for which the Green Engineering Co. has prepared plans. All of the plans have now been completed. Final adoption of the zoning ordinances is pending. Dayton is nearing completion of its proposed zoning ordinance and Farmington has not even started, Nelson said.

Calumet Hunters Favor Any Sex Deer Season

Sportsmen Approved a State Proposed One-Week Teal Hunt in Early September

CHILTON — A two-day "any sex" deer season followed by a seven-day buck season was favored by the Calumet County sportsmen.

The recommendation to the state proposed nine-day season was made at the annual spring fish and game hearing Monday.

This proposal would apply only to the eastern agricultural zone of which Calumet County is a part.

Keith Reichenbach, state conservation warden, said most proposals of the state have been accepted favorably.

Season Favored

The deer season proposal was favored 17 to 13 without floor discussion. Last year the two day any sex season was rejected.

Reichenbach said apparently the increasing number of deer seen in the county has convinced the sportsmen that the Calumet deer herd is plentiful and could not be harmed by two days of hunting bucks and does.

Teal Season

Also favored was the proposed experimental early teal season. If passed by the Conservation Commission, hunters could hunt teal during the first week in September.

Some have expressed fears that local duck populations might be frightened away by the early shooting.

However, the proposal received local approval by a 16-1 vote.

Delegates elected to attend the state conservation congress, May 20 and 21, in Madison are Ed Hillmann, chairman; Eben Phillips, vice-chairman, and James Hale. Ray Ecker was named alternate.

Clintonville Hospital Unit Elects Officers

Auxiliary Names Mrs. Lowell Velte New President

CLINTONVILLE — A president and vice president were elected to two-year terms Monday night at the annual meeting of the Community Hospital Auxiliary.

Mrs. Lowell Velte won the top post and Mrs. W. D. Horton is vice president. They succeed Mrs. Roger Davis and Mrs. Dale Leander, both of whom have moved from the city. Continuing in office for another year are Mrs. Frank McIntyre, secretary, and Mrs. D. M. Russell, treasurer.

The auxiliary voted to pay $130 on the whirlpool purchased for the hospital, leaving a balance of $125.

Application has been made for membership in the Wisconsin State Women's Hospital Auxiliaries. It was reported that a complete listing of the unit's activities for the year was presented at the annual meeting of the hospital group.

Bloodmobile Report

Mrs. Clifford Rafoth reported on the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Monday afternoon at which 96 pints of blood were collected.

The annual party for the five-year-old children was discussed. Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Reuben Lendved will be in charge of invitations and registration. The balance of the committees will be named at the next meeting.

An invitation was received to an auxiliary "Gift Shop" meeting April 26 at Green Bay. The meeting will feature several speakers as well as many displays and ideas for hospital auxiliary gift shops.

Mrs. Milford Etheridge reported that the sewing committee had finished 12 pairs of leggings, 52 wrappers and 12 covers.

Brillion Firemen Fight Fire in Tire Shop Wall

BRILLION — A fire in wall insulation of the tire room at Rent-A-Truck, Inc. was extinguished by Brillion volunteer firemen Tuesday afternoon.

No estimate of damage was given by officials of the company which is located on U.S. 10.

Firemen put out a chimney fire at the Nick Binsfeld residence, route 1, Monday.

Amherst High Choosing Cast for Class Play

AMHERST — You can't Take It With You" is the play selected by the Amherst High School senior class to be presented late in May.

Tryouts for the cast are in progress. Mrs. Rachel Blake of the high school faculty is directing the production.

Shiocton Boy To Have Heart Surgery Friday

SHIOCTON—Open heart surgery is scheduled Friday morning at Madison by University Hospital physicians for Brian Brownson, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brownson.

He will leave for Madison today for tests and preparations for the operation. Mrs. Brownson said Brian was born with an opening in his heart. It will be closed by surgery.

Brian is the oldest of the three Brownson children. His grandfather is Clarence Brownson, Outagamie County Highway Commissioner.

Deadline on Feed Grain Is Friday

Farmers who wish to sign up for the 1966 feed grain program are reminded that Friday is the final day for filing applications at county offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Regular office hours are scheduled in Outagamie County, manager Joe Rickert said.

He explained that current talk about world food shortages has "nothing to do with feed grain acreage being shifted from production to conserving use.

"Feed grain stocks are still more than adequate so there is a continued need for full participation in the program. The shortage of soybeans, wheat and milk are not covered in the shift. Rather," he said, "we are encouraging farmers to plant soybeans instead of corn on corn permitted acres because of the national shortage in this commodity."

Foster School Vandals Placed on Supervision

Court Orders Two 10-Year-Olds Sent To State Diagnostic Center at Madison

Two 10-year-old Appleton boys who caused a reported $3,200 damage March 20 at Foster School, have been ordered sent to the State Diagnostic Center at Madison.

The youths also were placed on supervision, in their homes, to the State Department of Public Welfare. The pair appeared in Calumet County Juvenile Court.

The supervision status reportedly will continue until further order by the court.

Awaiting Report

Recovery for damage done to the Appleton school reportedly would have to be determined by a civil suit. Public school officials said today they have not received a report from the insurance carrier on how much of the damage is covered by insurance.

It has been determined that damage done in forcibly entering the school is covered. About 40 windows, many of them large and of plate glass, were damaged with BB guns. The pair also ransacked several rooms in the school.

The same youths, on a weekend vandalism spree, also took a considerable amount of merchandise, much of it consisting of sporting goods, from the Gamble Store in Valley Fair Shoping Center after hiding in the store when it was closed.

Most of the stolen items were recovered. The boys were apprehended in Winnebago County, jumped from a squad car in Appleton and were caught by an off-duty Appleton police captain and his son following a neighborhood chase.

N. District Roundtable Tonight at Shawano

SHAWANO — The North District Valley Council Boy Scouts of America will hold its April roundtable tonight at the St. James Lutheran Church.

Displays for the theme will be given by the den mothers of Pack 34 and a discussion on the summer program and pack activities to help pack committees and cubmasters will be led by William C. Ruechel.

Guardsmen From Waupaca End 6-Month Training

WAUPACA—Pvts. LeRoy Beyer, Manawa, and Kenneth Cebula, and Peter Rombilski, Mosinee, recently returned from six months of active duty training to their home National Guard Unit, Battery C, 2nd Battalion 120th Artillery, Waupaca.

After receiving their initial basic training, the men were sent from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., to Ft. Sill, Okla., where they participated in artillery school courses. Also returning to their home unit were Pvts. Fredrick Wilke Jr., Waupaca, and Allen Wegener, Manawa. The two guardsmen received mechanic's training at Ft. Leonard Wood.

Pvt. Ronald Stearns, Waupaca, left last Sunday, and Pvt. Dale Trinrud, Waupaca will leave this Sunday, for Ft. Jackson, S. C., where they will receive their basic training. The two men are also members of the Waupaca unit.

51 Years as President of BABA

Baseball Was 'Cow Pasture Sport' When A. N. Brunner Headed Loop

MARION — When A. N. Brenner first called a baseball league meeting to order, diamonds were cow pastures and general "cleanup" was usually in order before the Sunday encounters.

Brunner, Leopolis realtor and President of the East-West Division of the Badger Amateur

A. N. Brunner

Baseball Association, has been in baseball for more than a half century.

The first group he headed was the Shawano County League, organized in the spring of 1925. The league operated the first year with six teams playing a 20-game schedule. Teams were Leopolis, Tilleda, Neopit, Embarrass, Galesburg (now Navarino), and Zachow. Bear Creek had made application but could not meet the requirements.

Officers were elected and Brunner received six votes of six ballots cast for president, a post he has held continuously since.

Studied Rules

The board of directors included Frank Much, Embarrass, Albert Radtke, Zachow, and Brunner. In 1926 Zachow and Galesburg dropped out but Bonduel and Mattoon got franchises. Caroline and Tigerton joined in 1927.

Meetings were held to learn the rules of the game and to study and interpret the bylaws. Emphasis was put on using hometown boys.

That first year, Brunner recalls, it seemed as though every other game was protested. No permanent diamonds were available and games were usually played in fields. It was the duty of the home team manager to "clean up" the field. In 1930 Leopolis developed a permanent diamond and other towns followed suit.

League Disbands

Meanwhile, the Wolf River Valley League, which had organized about 1920 with teams from Marion, Iola, Tigerton, New London, Bear Creek, Rosholt, to name a few, had disbanded.

Bill Wulk, Marion, came to see Brunner about joining their Shawano league, but there were too many teams involved.

As a result the Badger Amateur Baseball Association was organized in the spring of 1946. The first meeting was held at the city hall in Clintonville. It was decided to function as an association and divisions were formed, East, West, South, and later North and Central. Brunner was elected commissioner—another post he has held continuously—and Melvin Lemke was named secretary-treasurer, a post he held until the time of his death three years ago.

The BABA has operated continuously. Thirty-two teams hold franchises and last year 24 were active in league play in four divisions, East-West, North, South, and Central.

24 Active

Brunner, now 71, played shortstop and right field for Leopolis for 23 years.

Urge Boarding Houses For Mentally Retarded

Director of New Hope Center Tells Calumet, Forest Junction Group of European Visit

FOREST JUNCTION — Mrs. Viola Eigendorf, director of the New Hope Center for mentally retarded, Chilton, discussed her visits to institutions for retardates in Europe, at a joint meeting of the Calumet County Association for Retarded Children and Parent-Teacher Association here Monday.

Mrs. Eigendorf recommended adapting boarding houses for retardates similar to those she saw in Amsterdam, The Hague and London. She said retarded persons were housed in what they called hostels during the week and allowed to go home weekends and special occasions. This allowed some freedom, especially for elderly parents and provided independence and social life for the retardates. Mrs. Eigendorf noted. She intends to promote similar arrangements in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Eigendorf visited the institutions while attending the International Congress in Paris, France.

A movie, "Selling One Guy Called Larry," dealing with the hiring of handicapped persons by local industry, was shown and explained by the speaker.

Mrs. Marvin Wiegert spoke on the Central Wisconsin Sunday School convention she attended recently in Oshkosh. Mrs. Wiegert explained the recommended way to teach religion to retardates.

A report on the nine-county meeting of associations for retarded children conducted Friday in Green Bay was given by Mrs. Armin Schwalenberg. She explained that a federal grant was available for the proposed new Brown County Community Center and additional funds would be requested from counties it would service, including Calumet.

The group decided to ask Robert J. Allan, executive director of the Brown County Association to explain the matter further at its May 9 meeting at Twain School, east of Stockbridge. Also scheduled to speak is Miss Hilda Cavanough, Calumet County's special education supervisor. A president and treasurer will be elected at the meeting.

Marion Girl State Delegate To National 4-H Conference

MARION — Dianne Kraeger, 18, Garfield Avenue, has been selected as one of four 4-H Club members to represent Wisconsin at the week-long National 4-H Club Conference in Washington, D.C., starting Saturday.

Miss Kraeger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kraeger, is attending Wisconsin State University-River Falls and majoring in elementary education.

She has been an active member of the Shawano County Tilleda 4-H Club for the past nine years. When she and her parents moved from the Tilleda area last year Miss Kraeger remained in the club.

Shawano Queen

Her major club projects have been clothing, home furnishings and conservation. During her 4-H club career she has been a delegate to 4-H Club Week at Madison; a member of the state 4-H chorus; earned her Wisconsin 4-H Key award, and was Shawano County 4-H Queen last year.

Don Schoedel, Shawano County 4-H Agent, said Miss Kraeger also directed the music program at the county 4-H summer camp last year.

She and the other state delegates were selected from 12 state honor achievement members who were recently interviewed at Madison.

The delegates, accompanied by a state 4-H club leader, will leave Madison Saturday to fly to Washington for the conference.

Marion Okays Contracts for Five Teachers

School Board Hires 3 Instructors for Remedial Reading

MARION — The school board Monday night approved contracts for five teachers, three of whom will teach courses under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The board hired Lee Kersten, Marion, to teach physics, science and chemistry, and Arthur Fuchs, Chilton, to teach mathematics and bookkeeping.

Hired under Title I of the education act were Miss Beverly Smith, Gresham, who will teach remedial reading next fall, and Mrs. Josephine Bigler and Mrs. Marion Carew, Marion, who will teach remedial reading for the balance of this school year.

The remedial reading program began last week. Special classes have been established consisting of two to seven pupils. Pupils will attend these classes rather than their regular reading classes at Big Falls, Lake Michael, Maple Valley, Marion, Caroline and Leopolis. The program will continue during the summer, running for four weeks of half-day sessions.

Seek Co-Ordinator

The board has asked Cooperative Educational Service Agency No. 7 to provide a psychology therapist and a coordinator for federal projects.

Marvin Hintz, board president, appointed a committee consisting of Mrs. Mary McInnis, chairman, Frank Buss and James Rogers, to prepare a program for the dedication of the new elementary school here.

The board approved the contract of Casper Co., Milwaukee, to install kitchen equipment at the new Elementary school.

In other action, the board instructed the transportation committee and superintendent to establish specifications for two new school buses.

Heart Fund Hits $2,351

Calumet Chairman Gives Breakdown of Community Totals

Rev. Marvin Schilling, Appleton, To be Milwaukee Superintendent

The Rev. Marvin Schilling, pastor of First Methodist Church, has been appointed superintendent of the Milwaukee District of the Methodist Church, effective June 1, the Rev. Ralph T. Alton, bishop of The Methodist Church in Wisconsin, announced today.

He succeeds the Rev. Lee D. Smith, who has served in that capacity since 1962.

Pastor of First Methodist since 1960, the Rev. Mr. Schilling entered the ministry in 1940. He has served pastorates in Plover, Oconto Falls, Beaver Dam and Wausau and taught in a mission school in Pyeng Yang, Korea.

Rev. Marvin Schilling

District Official

He was appointed superintendent of the Watertown district in 1957, where he served before coming to Appleton.

In 1963 the pastor was elected as one of three ministerial delegates from the East Wisconsin Conference to the General Conference of The Methodist Church, and one of seven ministerial delegates to the North Central Jurisdictional Conference.

At the latter he was elected to the Regional Council that serves between the quadrennial sessions of the Jurisdictional Conference as an executive committee.

Served on Boards

The Rev. Mr. Schilling has also served on many of the boards and committees of the East Wisconsin Conference. Currently he is chairman of the Committee on Higher Education, a member of the board of education, the board of trustees, the board of ministerial training and qualifications and of the board of directors of the Milwaukee Deaconess Foundation.

He is also a member of the Fox Valley Human Rights Council, the Fox Valley and Appleton Ministerial Associations, the Appleton Council of Churches, the local chapter of the Academy of Religion and Mental Health and a member of the board of directors of the Kiwanis Club.

Sheila Sebora Wins Chilton Essay Contest

CHILTON — Sheila Sebora, seventh grader at St. Augustine School, won first place in the American Legion Auxiliary sponsored essay contest, "The Dangers of A Complacent America."

She will receive a $10 prize. The traveling trophy will be placed in her school for one year.

Other winners, announced by contest chairman Mrs. Al Brandes, are Guy Roewer, seventh grade, Chilton Public School, second place, and Linda Haltiner and Debbie Ware, eighth graders at the public school, and Rodney Gasch, eighth grade, St. Mary School, all tied for third place.

Second prize will be $5 while each third prize winner will receive $3.

Cash prizes were donated by Mrs. James Knauf. Contestants also will receive a certificate of merit from the American Legion. There were 41 entries.

Promising Premiere

Fox Valley Orchestra Plays Well in Its First Concert

BY ROBERT BELOW
Of Lawrence University

The very first concert of a brand new symphony orchestra is exciting news at any time. A first concert as fine as the Fox Valley Symphony Orchestra's premiere Monday night is more than that.

An audience of 600 heard a musical event that was deeply impressive, not only because it promises much for the future but because it was good in itself. That this could be accomplished in only a dozen rehearsals over a three month period is a tribute to Conductor Karlos Moser, to the many outstanding musicians in the orchestra, and to those responsible for organizing it.

Playing was not tentative but positive. From the beginning of the Beethoven "Lenore Overture No. 2", attacks were precise, rhythm was accurate and alive, intonation was remarkably good, sounds were rich, and the music was arresting and communicative. The program was anything but easy; it was highly demanding in every respect.

Precision, Balance

The Beethoven "Overture" requires precision, accuracy, and balance; it received these qualities and was dramatically powerful as well. Delius' "Walk Through the Paradise Garden" calls for delicacy, color, and roundness, and these were more in evidence than one might have expected.

Villa Lobos' "Bachianas Brasileiras No. 5" for soprano and celli featured the orchestra's large cello section in support of Nida Fonseca, soprano. She sang the colorful work with a voice that is warm, flexible and accurate. The great Sibelius "First Symphony" calls for just about everything — including big brass chords, first-class woodwinds, and lush string sonorities.

The orchestra needs more strings for proper balance: at many times the strings were overpowered. The string musicians present performed admirably, however, and at times realized a surprisingly large and rich sound.

One would like to name the many musicians who gave outstanding solos during the evening. Let's sum it up by saying that though many splendid individual contributions were heard, the group plays like an orchestra. A lot of refinement is needed, but the ensemble is there.

Positive Leader

Karlos Moser is a clear and positive leader, modest in his motions, and never distracting. Congratulations are due him for the music selected. It avoided the commonplace and provided varied musical fare. His conducting showed intelligence, warmth, and conviction. Lawrence University's renovated chapel provided a lovely setting for the concert and its acoustics contributed to the vibrant orchestral sounds.

The Fox Valley area has benefitted from many outstanding and devoted musicians who have given much to its musical life. The symphony is an important further step in the area's musical development. Professionals, students, and devoted amateurs from the Fox Valley communities performed with and organized the orchestra. Its potential contribution is great. It has proved that it deserves the area's support. It is good to know that it is off to such a fine start.

Physics Parley Slated April 30 At Bonduel High

BONDUEL — Teachers at schools within a 50-mile-radius of Bonduel who are using the physics program developed by the Physical Science Study Committee will meet at the high school April 30.

Meeting chairman is Charles Weber, a high school physics teacher. Prof. Merlin Passow of Wisconsin State University, Oshkosh, will speak on "Use of the Overhead Projector in Physics Instruction." Prof. Passow is a former PSSC teacher and is well acquainted with the program. The schedule for the day also includes the screening of PSSC films, and a discussion of the use of the program. About 50 teachers are expected to attend.

Bonduel is one of 60 centers in the United States where meetings are held twice a year for physics teachers using the new course materials. The meetings provide opportunities for physics teachers to share ideas, to hear an outstanding lecture on a topic closely related to physics teaching, and to contribute to the improvement of physics instruction.

Slander Suit Filed Against TV Station

Oconto Candidate Seeks $83,000 From WBAY, Green Bay

GREEN BAY — An unsuccessful Oconto mayoral candidate has filed an $83,000 slander suit in Circuit Court against a local television station for alleged defamatory statements made in two televised newscasts the day before the election.

Patrick A. Bake, an Oconto insurance and real estate agent, brought the suit against WBAY-TV, Don Love, the station's news director, and the Norbertine Fathers as owners of the station.

The suit charges that the station, in its 6 p.m. and 10 p.m. newscasts of April 4, made statements creating the impression that Oconto was "hopelessly deficient, economically, socially, politically and educationally."

The suit further contends that the newscasts falsely implicated Bake as the initiator of these statements, and that the reaction of the viewing public in Oconto was violent and created general contempt toward the city and the plaintiff.

Bake further claimed that as a result of the newscasts, he suffered in his quest for public office in the election which commenced less than 12 hours after the last newscast.

(In the April 5 election, Bake was defeated in the mayoral race by Ernest Sucharda, 673 to 418, with four other candidates finishing behind Bake.)

In a break down of damages being sought, the plaintiff is seeking $30,000 for damage to his insurance and real estate business, $3,000 for loss of salary from the mayor position, and $50,000 in punitive damages for loss of reputation and character.

A hearing will be held Monday morning before Judge Raymond Rahr in Circuit Court Branch 2 on motions by the plaintiff that WBAY produce all the film used in the newscasts in question, and that the defendants show cause why a public retraction of the alleged defamatory statements should not be made.

The suit was filed late last week, and formal service of the charges was completed against all the named defendants Monday.

Oshkosh Scores 3-2 Baseball Victory Over Neenah Rockets

NEENAH — Overtime game ills, which plagued the Neenah High School basketball team last season, carried over to the baseball campaign Tuesday afternoon as Oshkosh posted a 3-2 victory in eight innings over Coach Joe Braun's Rockets.

The Indians tallied the winning run with two out in the top of the extra frame. Scott Schermetzler singled, advanced to second on a wild pitch and tallied on a triple by reserve outfielder Dick Achterberg.

Centerfielder Mike Milliken might have had a shot at a catch but slipped while the ball was in the air.

Neenah had a chance to tie the game in the last of the eighth when Gary Platt, the last of three Rocket hurlers, doubled and went to third on an infield out but was nipped at the plate while trying to score on a short passed ball.

The Rockets took a 2-0 lead in the second inning when Jim Bellin gained life on an error and Milliken put one of Tom Bartelt's slants over the right field fence for a homer.

OHS Ties Score

The hosts maintained that lead until the fifth when three errors, a hit, a walk, a squeeze bunt and a wild pitch produced two Oshkosh runs.

Neenah had several chances to decide the issue but stranded 10 baserunners, including two in the first, fourth, fifth and seventh innings.

Clintonville Man, William Bohlig, Was 95 Tuesday

CLINTONVILLE — William Bohlig, who lives with his daughter, Mrs. Herbert Kratzke, 135 Auto St., observed his 95th birthday Tuesday.

He was born April 12, 1871, at Sabula, Iowa, and came here from North Dakota about 18 years ago. He is in fair health and able to be up and around part of each day.

In addition to his daughter, he has four grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Bear Creek Seniors To Sponsor Talent Show of Area Acts

BEAR CREEK — Final preparations are being made for the first talent show which will be sponsored by the high school senior class at 8 p.m. Thursday in the school auditorium.

Percy Mitchell of Marion will be emcee. Entries are expected from Marion, Clintonville and Bear Creek. Talent acts will include dancing, singing, and instrumental performances.

Proceeds will be used for the senior class trip and graduation expenses. Tickets may be purchased in advance from any senior or at the door.

Find Neenah Woman Dead In Fox River

NEENAH — Mrs. Peter Koleski, 65, 210 Webster St., the object of an intensive search by police and the Appleton unit of the Civil Air Patrol, was found dead at 9:50 a.m. Monday.

Her body was discovered floating in the Fox River, about 25 feet from shore near Clark and Second streets by Donald Ralph and Russell Hockenfus who were searching the area in a small police boat.

County Coroner Art Miller was called to the scene, but the official cause of death was not known at noon today.

Koteski called police at 12:43 a.m. today to report his wife had been missing from the home since 11 p.m. Monday. He said she was wearing a housedress and slippers. He said his wife had felt depressed in recent months.

Police searched the area during the early morning hours but could not find the woman. Police Chief Lawrence Malouf called in the Civil Air Patrol this morning to assist in the search.

The body was released to the Kessler Funeral Home, where arrangements are incomplete.

Where Is Social Security Heading?

Hardly had the first Social Security tax payments been made under the accelerated rate schedule than President Johnson was announcing that he would ask Congress to increase benefits for all recipients and inject the Social Security program into a number of new welfare fields.

He said he wanted insurance benefits increased across the board for 21 million present beneficiaries, improved insurance protection for widows and orphans and the provision of additional incentives for individuals on welfare to find work.

Then referring to the bill he had just signed to extend the sign-up period for medicare, he said the idea of the federal government helping with health costs should not be confined only to those citizens 65 and older. "That's just where we started," he commented. The next group to be helped, he suggested, should be children under 6, and he has asked Welfare Secretary Gardner to draft plans for financing dental services for children.

The President said he had no idea what all these additional benefits would cost, and of course he didn't make any mention at all of the additional taxes which will be needed to pay for them. Social Security taxes are currently scheduled to increase periodically for the next five years just to pay for the present schedule of benefits, including medicare. But these are painless taxes. How many realized, for instance, that the rate went up Jan. 1?

For many people the government soon will extract more from Social Security taxes than it does from the levy upon their incomes, and on Social Security levies there are no deductions or exemptions.

The original intent of Social Security was to provide a means by which working people could help provide themselves with pensions upon retirement. But when Congress decided to make health benefits for the aged a part of the Social Security system this was the first step in making a retirement plan over into a welfare program.

It is obvious now that President Johnson sees in the Social Security system further opportunity for extending government welfare programs and taxing the working man to pay for them without the working man realizing he is footing the bill.

A program of dental care for children whose parents cannot afford it may be a popular proposal in an election year. But such a program has no relationship whatsoever with Social Security.

Fire at Sea

The orderly procedures and courage of the crew of the Viking Princess, Caribbean cruise ship which caught fire near Haiti, was in marked contrast to the reported hysteria and confusion when the Yarmouth Castle burned and sank last December. In that tragedy, 89 people lost their lives. The three deaths on the Viking Princess were due to heart attacks and not negligence of any kind.

Nevertheless the episode once more points up the need for stricter regulations concerning such ships.

The Viking Princess was only sixteen years old but had been the subject of criticism in the past. Passengers protested that the air conditioning didn't work, the plumbing backed up, there was no hot water but lots of roaches. In 1964 the ship's certificate of examination was lifted because it did not have the required watertight doors, fire doors and a fire main in satisfactory condition. The ship also was involved in a collision with a United States radar ship in Miami Harbor. Certainly, with all the flaws listed, there must have been some amount of poor construction which conceivably could have led to the fire which so rapidly engulfed the ship.

Ships flying under the American flag are subject to strict safety regulations. According to Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, they are "the highest in the world." But ships of other nations or flying other flags do not have to meet the stricter requirements or the frequent inspections. The cruise business in the Caribbean is a lucrative one and most of the passengers are Americans. It hardly seems enough protection merely that the customer must beware if he ships aboard a craft not flying the American flag particularly when the business is highly competitive Certainly the United States can tighten safety procedures for ships which pick up passengers at American ports even though the inspection costs will probably be high.

U.N. Action on Rhodesia

The British action in requesting United Nations Security Council approval of its wish to use force in halting tankers allegedly carrying oil to Rhodesia is unprecedented in history. But in some ways the action was obscured by the fighting among African nations over exactly what should be done to topple the all-white government of Ian Smith in rebellious Rhodesia.

When the British asked for an emergency meeting of the Security Council late last week, the acting president of the Council, Moussa Keita of Mali, stalled. African delegates obviously wanted to get instructions from their home governments. Keita unfortunately placed the wishes of other black African national leaders as paramount to the sound and consistent operation of the United Nations.

The vote to authorize the British to use force to halt shipments of oil was 10 to 0 but with some notable abstentions. The three African representatives on the Security Council, from Nigeria, Mali and Uganda, did not vote. Neither did the delegates from the Soviet Union and Bulgaria. Their reluctance was based, not on any sort of backing for Rhodesia, but rather that they want the British to go much further in trying to get rid of Ian Smith.

Troops from Great Britain have now halted and boarded a freighter allegedly heading for the port of Beira in Portuguese Mozambique, where a pipeline to Rhodesia exists. Portugal of course is sympathetic to Rhodesia's plight because it also feels its colony of Angola is isolated and endangered by black African nations. But the Portuguese government has been circumspect. Spokesmen claim that England could have halted the tankers long before the request was made to the Security Council and also that some other problems of ownership of the tankers, financing and banking are involved. Portugal implies that Great Britain wanted more authority or at least more backing before it offended some other Europeans.

The British action reflects in great part Prime Minister Wilson's considerable victory in the recent national elections. But the controversy within Great Britain will continue to revolve around two matters: how to make Ian Smith's government fall and whether requesting United Nations approval is more a blow to England's national sovereignty than it is an aid to strengthening international law and cooperation. It can be argued convincingly that there is something quite empty in getting permission from an international organization which has demonstrated so thoroughly its own lack of power and cohesion

But the move does take away from some of the new nations with their almost entirely parochial attitude toward world affairs the opportunity to charge England with acting unilaterally. In fact the black nations are in the unusual position of wanting a power they have long charged with colonialism to use its own military force to maintain that colonialism. That's one reason why the African delegates on the Security Council were so confused about the emergency meeting and what they should do.

Most State Officials Today Are Concerned With U. S. Handouts

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — One of the reasons why the politician in America has never attained the professional stature that he believes he deserves is the suspicion that he is too often willing to sacrifice consistency for party or personal advantage. While the criticisms of the politicians by the people he represents and serves are often unfair and thoughtless, there are enough peculiarities about the breed to make any ordinary persons skeptical.

Wyngaard

Thus President Johnson in Washington lately has been lecturing mayors of cities, face to face in a convention, and the housewives of his constituency by way of a press conference, about the perils of inflation and what they can do about it.

Mayors at a Washington conference were urged to reduce and defer expenditures that are less than pressing. Mrs. America was asked to shop more carefully, to make substitutions in her grocery list, and to resist the inflationary tendencies of the food market in the interest of national economic health.

But Mr. Johnson's government, for all of these helpful little lectures, continues to pour money out of the federal treasury at a rate that keeps some of the prospective recipients in state and local government hopping in their anxiety lest they miss a handout. Never before has there been quite such a diversity and liberality in the "Federal aid" programs.

HANDS OUT FOR HANDOUTS

Every major state agency officer today is preoccupied with federal aid possibilities, including some of those who never before had any notion that they had any resources except those that the state legislature in its judgment might allow to them.

Some chief state officers have become the best customers of the Madison airport, as they commute to Washington agencies in their exigent campaigns for ever more federal money to expand services that the legislature is unwilling or unable to enlarge. In the State Department of Administration today there is an officer whose sole function is to keep posted on the flurry of new aid legislation enacted by the Congress and to ascertain that Wisconsin is pursuing all of the avenues available to it in the complex national establishment. Periodically there is talk of naming an agent in Washington, as a kind of diplomatic representative in dealing with the men who control the rising flow of federal money into the provinces.

The literal-minded might deduce that there would be somewhat less anxiety in the state government today about federal largesse, because the state administration of Gov. Warren P. Knowles wears a Republican label. The Republican campaign posture for years has been one of criticism of national government profligacy. Occasionally the Republican governor in a kind of reflex reverts to the old attitudes, as when he recently described the endless federal aid list as a "can of worms."

NO DISTINCTION

Yet it is difficult for the naked eye of the beholder to discern any difference in the attitude of Republicans and Democrats who have alternated control of the state government, with respect to their eagerness to latch onto the "free" federal millions.

If there is a difference, it is because Knowles is holding office behind a couple of Democratic governors, the national government's generosity in federal subsidies continues to grow, there are more opportunities for aid grants, and the state is filing more applications.

An example of the bipartisan practice—whatever the public posture and past declaration—is an appeal for about $3,400 million in federal funds for the construction of a new state school for delinquent boys. If the state government concedes that a state institution is not a direct responsibility of the state, it is evident that there can be no "state" services exempt from Washington financing under Washington conditions.

Taylor Writes

Average Man Toils 2 Hrs., 19 Min. Every Day Just to Pay His Taxes

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

Politicians rely on the public's short memory. Fool them this November. Remember tax day — April 15. What's wrong with having some faith in things and teaching them a lesson?

You'll be working 144 days before they ask for your votes again. As the average wage earner you'll be working two hours 19 minutes every — every — working-day just to pay your taxes — federal, state, local.

Taylor

As this column has stated before, if you quit at 5 p.m. you've been working since 2:41 to pay your taxes. If you start at 9 a.m. you could have filled in the morning — every morning — doing nothing until 11:19 and then begin to work, except for your taxes.

IT'S BIG BITE

When you talk about the high cost of living you're talking mostly about taxes — $851 a year for every man, woman and child in the United States. Nothing compares with their bite out of your workday. No expense for your food, housing, clothing, transportation, or anything, compares with your visible and invisible tax payments. And although a workingman may never see a tax bill he pays it just the same.

You'll be working eight hours a day between now and the November elections for more than 47 days only to pay your taxes. Remember that when you hear the politicians say, "We're friends" — whatever that means in their language. And keep on remembering it when you hear the cheery sound of your tax money clinking, clanking down the drain.

For that's the scandal of it. We're the patsies for all the waste, failures in foreign policy, boobland decisions here at home, and the cover-ups. These are the largest factors in the tax load.

The Internal Revenue Service is now equivalent to an enterprise with 64,000 employees and 900 branch offices. It is a vast bureaucracy that inevitably contains political overtones. The IRS makes a more conscientious effort to police itself than the public knows or appreciates. Swindlers, some very entrenched, make the tax collector's life a nightmare.

FEAR OF RETALIATION

But the IRS is also the greatest invisible power in our government. It needs policing by newspapers and citizens alike more than any other single agency. Yet because of its great power for intimidation or punishment the IRS is notoriously free from public opposition for fear of retaliation.

In contrast, witness the unsung heroism of Sen. Edward V. Long (D-Mo.), who has been conducting a largely thwarted investigation of the Internal Revenue Service. I don't know Senator Long, but I'd like to tip my hat to him.

He states: "In spite of my investigation the IRS refuses to close down its school instructing agents in everything from the use of wire tapping to burglar tools." He documents his charges that some agents threaten our constitutional liberties — and how! He urges all citizens "to help stop the growth of any police-state mind and morality in the Internal Revenue Service by refusing to give revenue agents information they have no right to demand."

Moreover, Senator Long reveals a shocking change today as the government goes on spreading its bureaucracy across the land in the name of the Great Society.

RIGHT OF PRIVACY?

The Senate investigators discovered that 23 federal agencies now have direct access to our citizens' tax returns for an official total of 109 different reasons.

So many agencies invade this basic right of privacy on behalf of Big Brother and for reasons so general that it makes a mockery of that supposed right. Our private affairs are laid open to the politicians and bureaucrats alike who can then proceed to perform as they like. That's what is happening behind the scenes, but do our citizens know it?

The responsibility of good citizenship is clear. This responsibility demands that you pay your taxes honestly and fully on April 15, right down to the last penny, and then follow Senator Long's advice. For if we ever reach the point where the citizens fear the tax collector too much, and keep quiet or cave in for that reason, we'd better give the country back to the Indians. It's our country, after all, you know. It doesn't belong entirely to the insiders and the spenders.

Declaration Omitted Ban on Slavery

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Schoolchildren who are taken on visits to Washington generally tour the Library of Congress. There, in a glass cage, they can see a copy of the Declaration of Independence. But this is not a copy of the original Declaration as written by Thomas Jefferson.

Harris

The original sheets, which have been seen only by officials and scholars, are kept in a safe, and they contain a clause which was omitted from all later copies. No reference is ever made to it in history classes.

In this clause, Jefferson denounces King George and the British Government for acquiescing in slavery and the slave trade. The clause was knocked out by pressure groups from the South, who agreed to accept other parts of the Declaration only if this part were deleted.

Nobody knows, of course, what history "might have been," but it seems reasonable to assume that the whole social pattern of our country would have been different if the clause against the slave trade had remained in the Declaration, putting the new nation on record as favoring its abolition, along with the other civilized nations of the time.

We would have abolished slavery when it was comparatively easy to do so, and the whole tragic and inconclusive episode of the Civil War would have been averted — an episode for which America is still paying a heavy price today, nearly 200 years later.

This is the terrible paradox of politics — that, by its very nature, it is incapable of solving basic political problems. For the essence of politics is compromise, and Jefferson was forced to compromise his ideals and his good sense in order to obtain the requisite signatures on the Declaration.

But political compromise usually defers, rather than resolves. It closes its eyes to the deeper causes of a problem, in order to treat its symptoms — and, meanwhile, since the causes go unchecked, the disease breaks out in more virulent form in the future

The delegates from South Carolina and Georgia, who pressured Jefferson to delete the slavery clause, were also politicians fighting for what they thought were their regional advantages. But slavery actually dragged down the South in the long run, and the Civil War engendered only bitterness and revenge. Slavery deformed the Negro, denigrated the South, and dragged its evil consequences into the 20th century.

All political issues, if they are fundamental, are at bottom moral issues. They cannot be settled at the political level, and certainly not at the military level. Yet we cannot work out our moral problems outside the political process, outside the give-and-take of practical compromise. This is why genuine progress is so slow as a man, Jefferson knew slavery was wrong; as a politician, he had to condone it. And we pay the price.

Something New in Hoop Skirts

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for April 5, 1866.

Theodore W. Briggs of this City is agent for the "Silver Skirt" in Appleton.

The hoops are wound with a very fine silver-plated wire, instead of being covered with cotton. This Skirt has taken the highest premium ever given to a hoop skirt, being a Silver Medal, and was awarded by the "Great Institute Fair" held in New York City, October, 1965.

These skirts are elegant articles of ladies' attire, and the price is only a very little higher than that asked for the other varieties.

Britain and her Greek and Yugoslav allies that day lost the last of their major defenses in the Balkans to the Nazis. Salonika, great fortress of the Aegean, was taken by the Germans and Greece's eastern army, estimated at 300,000 before hostilities began, surrendered en masse. The German blitzkrieg armies were reported within 15 miles of Italian forces in Alania.

An Appleton native was a rising figure in the literary world. He was Walter E. Havighurst, associate professor of English at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. His latest and fifth novel about the sea was "No Homeward Course." He was the son of Dr. Freeman A. Havighurst, professor of history at Lawrence College from 1897 to 1905 and from 1907 to 1909. Medical School Rise Anticipated by 1970

CHICAGO (AP) —By 1970, there will be a big rise in medical schools.

The American Medical Association says that 4 new schools are scheduled to be in full operation, bringing the U.S. total to 101.

The new schools will provide for 800 to 1,000 new medical school freshmen. Eight will have four-year programs leading to the MD degree.

Johnson Keeps Out of Fights, Lets Them Die

Answering Fulbright, Morse Would Have Aided Their Cause

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has a simple technique for staying out of a shouting match.

He stays out, unless getting in is necessary. Otherwise, he keeps uiet until the noise goes away or has someone else, with his blessing, do the talking.

He has demonstrated the technique on some very crucial problems.

Earlier this year when Sens. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and others rather loudly assailed Johnson's Viet Nam policy, the President played mum.

The storm blew harder. He let it blow, confident he had the support of most Americans. In time the storm pretty well blew itself out. But if Johnson had gone after Morse and Fulbright they would have obtained far more publicity for their views than they could hope to get by themselves.

Held Policy

Meanwhile, he kept right on with his Viet Nam policy.

He did the same thing last September when Fulbright made a Senate speech attacking the extent of Johnson's use of troops in the Dominican Republic when he, the President, considered Communists there a danger.

Johnson kept quiet and Fulbright's attack was a one-day wonder, soon forgotten.

Johnson ran into a different problem with French President Charles de Gaulle who had been a pain to other presidents with his arrogance and his endless theme of French nationalism and independence.

NATO, the Western military alliance set up in 1949, has 15 members, including the United States and France. It was the great shield which stopped Stalin's Soviet Union from any ideas it might have had about taking over Europe.

Last September De Gaulle first hinted he didn't see much reason for NATO any more. At that time, faced with the fear that French withdrawal from NATO might wreck it, Johnson made a mild speech about the need for it.

He couldn't have said less, since the NATO members look to this country for leadership, which is one of the facts irking De Gaulle. Last March De Gaulle made good on his September hint.

He said France was withdrawing its remaining forces from NATO's command — he suggested that to be under NATO command was like being a vassal — and warned NATO bases and forces in France, mostly American, must be withdrawn no later than April 1, 1967.

But, just as in September, Johnson avoided a head-on clash with the Frenchman. He hardly said more than that the United States and the other NATO allies were determined to keep the organization alive.

State Department

Tuesday the United States finally rammed headon into De Gaulle but Johnson still stayed in the background, letting Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the State Department do the talking.

Said Rusk: "Fourteen nations, comprising 450 million people and possessing massive military power, will not be paralyzed by the attitude of France."

And the American government rejected De Gaulle's April 1, 1967 deadline for getting U.S. NATO forces out of France. It set a two-year time for the pullout.

Further, this country warned France that French NATO units in West Germany stood to lose quickly their access to American nuclear arms. This was about the toughest treatment De Gaulle ever got from this country.

Still, Johnson himself was nowhere to be seen although De Gaulle knew that what Rusk and the State Department said had to be cleared with Johnson and could never have been said without his approval.

This has been the Johnson style for years.

GOP Worried About Nixon Tour of South

Possible Candidate Could Needlessly Tie to Segregation

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Prominent national Republican leaders are worried about the fact that Richard M. Nixon has offered to go anywhere in the South to help his party raise campaign funds

Novak

What troubles these party leaders is not so much that he will soft-pedal civil rights, but that he will needlessly associate himself with right wing segregationist Republicans like Rep Prentiss Walker of Mississippi, who is running against Sen. James O. Eastland this fall.

Even Nixon's old friends are bothered that he has agreed to be the main speaker at a self-styled "Conservative Unity" Republican rally in Jackson, Miss., on May 19. The ostensible purpose of the dinner is to entice right wing Democrats into the Republican Party, on the grounds that their old home — the Democratic Party — is moving too far to the left.

Walker is attempting the political acrobatic trick of running a Republican campaign as a racial segregationist and economic conservative to the right of Jim Eastland. Walker's introduction of Nixon at the May 19 rally in the state capital will inevitably associate Nixon with a party trend that is anathema to the party nationally.

Token Support

Evidence of how unhappy the national leadership is about the segregationist Southern Republican party is found in the fact that the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee won't give Walker anything more than the merest token of support for his campaign against Eastland.

Another Nixon stop this spring will be Birmingham, where he will be the main speaker at an Alabama party fund-raising dinner intended to help Rep. James Martin's campaign for governor

Like Walker in Mississippi, Martin worries Republican leaders by campaigning as though 220,000 Alabama Negro voters, more than one-quarter of the state's total electorate, did not exist

For example, Martin went to New Orleans for a speech last week and attacked the 1965 Voting Rights Act as "the most dangerous thing that could happen to the South" He singled out Rep Hale Boggs, of New Orleans, the House Democratic Whip, as one of the bill's prime architects

Quite aside from the impropriety of criticizing Boggs in his own district, Martin's attack on the voting rights bill won't help him with Alabama's Negro voters

Negro Democrats

Moreover, his attack on the bill in Louisiana is filled with irony As we reported recently, at least 49,000 new Negro voters in Louisiana registered as Democrats in 1965 but only 1,155 as Republicans

Thus, Nixon will be toeing a delicate line when he goes South this spring As a national Republican who is running hard for his party's Presidential nomination in 1968, he cannot afford to take the Walker line or the Martin line on civil rights without alienating millions of Republicans in the North. He will insist that the Jackson and Birmingham meetings be open to Negroes and surely will drop a remark or two for civil rights

On the other hand, Nixon can't embarrass his principal beneficiarıees — Walker and Martin — by making any overt bid for the swelling Negro vote. Republican leaders here think he will tailor his speeches to economic and foreign policy issues, and soft-pedal the race question.

These party leaders are skeptical about the motives for Nixon's forthcoming Southern excursions. He's going South, they believe, not to elect Walker and Martin, but to round up the support of Southern convention delegates for 1968.

There is one way Nixon can give the lie to such harsh appraisals: by returning to his strong civil right stance as vice president with an unequivocal bid for Negro votes in the South — no matter how much he may distress Prentiss Walker and Jim Martin

National Republican politicians have too long pussy-footed about civil rights south of the Mason-Dixon Line. Charles H. Percy, Republican candidate for the Senate from Illinois, pointed out the correct path to the future in his Feb. 17 speech to the Mississippi Council on Human Relations in Jackson.

"As much as any Republican, I am anxious to see the South in the Republican column on Election Day, but not for the reasons that it was there on Election Day 1964," said Percy. Dick Nixon would make his fellow Republicans feel better about his Southern exposure if he talked like that.

Rifle Bullet Hits Dwelling At Readfield

WAUPACA — Sheriff authorities are attempting to determine who fired a rifle bullet Sunday night that crashed through a wall of the Orwald Tews home two miles south of Readfield on County Trunk W.

Undersheriff William Mork said the bullet, believed to be .30 caliber, went through an outside wall, pierced several packages of groceries in a kitchen cupboard and lodged in a package.

"It appeared the bullet was fired a considerable distance away from the home, because it was nearly spent when it crashed through the wall," Mork said.

Truckers Refuse To Join Union

MIAMI, Fla. (AP — Employes of a trucking company who listened to an unusual union-management debate have voted not to join the Teamsters Union.

More than 500 employes of the Alterman Transport Lines were brought to Miami for the debate Saturday. The union and the company split the costs.

They listened to company president Sidney Alterman tell them why they shouldn't vote for unionization. They heard Lawrence Steinberg, an aide to Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, outline union benefits.

Mediators announced Tuesday the final vote was 371-156 against the union.

Kaukauna JCs To be Disk Jockeys For Single Day

KAUKAUNA — The Kaukauna Jaycees will turn disk jockeys May 28 when they operate radio station WKAU, Kaukauna, from sign on at 6 a.m. to sign off at 8:15 p.m.

Known as "Jaycee Radio Day," the project will consist of regular broadcasting, news, sports, interviews and weather reports, prepared and reported by the Jaycees.

Proceeds from the project will be used for Jaycee-sponsored events.

The "Jaycee Radio Day" committee consists of Bruce Werschem, general chairman; Richard Berkers, co-chairman; Thomas Berg, Richard Mech, Stephen Brill and David Friebel. Marty Hoagmen of WKAU will advise the committee.

Plans call for the entire Jaycee membership to be involved in the project.

St. Paul Congregation Votes $41,820 Goal For Synod Expansion

A $41,820 goal for the Mission Dei offering for the Wisconsin Synod expansion program was adopted by the St. Paul Lutheran Church voter's assembly Monday.

The money which will be collected over a two-year period, will be used to expand educational facilities for pastors and teachers.

The four facilities involved include Northwestern College, Watertown; Milwaukee Lutheran Teachers College; the seminary in Mequon and Martin Luther College, New Ulm, Minn.

All 37 Wisconsin Synod churches in the Fox Valley Conference are participating in this program.

Harry Kositzke is the conference chairman; John Steudel, district enlistment chairman and William Zuehlke Jr., district chairman.

Organist Wins Contest; Plays At Milwaukee

Michie Kobayashi, a Lawrence Conservatory of Music senior from Tokyo, Japan, who recently won a student organ contest sponsored by the Milwaukee chapter of the American Guild of Organists will present a public recital May 1 in Emmaeus Lutheran Church in Milwaukee.

Miss Kobayashi is a student of LaVahn Maesch, dean of the conservatory and Charles S. Farrar-Laura Norcross Marrs, professor of fine arts.

She will compete in a contest sponsored by the Women Organists' Club of Chicago on May 14.

She came to Lawrence in 1964 from Milwaukee - Downer College, and has taken part in the women's chorus both in Milwaukee and Appleton. A member of the American Guild of Organists, she has appeared on student recitals for that group, as well as presenting junior and senior organ recitals in Memorial Chapel.

State Cheese Prices Hurt by Import Plan

3-Cent Per Pound Drop Noted at Green Bay Market

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Government proposals to increase import quotas on cheddar cheese have been blamed in part for the drastic 3-cents per pound drop at the Wisconsin Cheese exchange here last week.

The import factor has entered the market picture at a time when domestic production is increasing significantly after several months of decline, industry observers stated.

State brand cheddars in 40 and 60-pound blocks were quoted at 41½ cents per pound at Friday's trading session. Barrel cheese went for 39 cents.

The 3-cent drop could mean a decrease in retail prices. Roland Behle, Madison, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Cheesemakers Association, said he doubted that the entire cut would be passed on to the consumer.

"Watch next Friday's market at Green Bay," Behle said. "That will tell you exactly what is going to happen."

Would Affect Income

Further price drops would seriously affect the dairy farmer's income, it was pointed out by Truman Torgerson, Manitowoc, general manager of the Lake to Lake Dairy Cooperative.

"He (the dairy farmer) was finally in a position where he could make a little money," Torgerson said. "I think it is unfortunate that there is talk of raising import quotas at this time."

Eighth District Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Green Bay, was highly critical of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plan to increase the import figures. He noted that Secretary Orville Freeman is seeking an increase of 926,700 pounds for the remainder of the fiscal year.

In addition, Byrnes said, President Johnson has directed the tariff commission to study an increase of 5,560,200 pounds for next year and an additional 1,225,000-pound increase in aged cheddar for an indefinite period.

Prices Improving

"The dairy farmer has been low man on the economic totem pole for years and was only recently beginning to see the light. After going through the price wringer since 1961, his prices recently have risen modestly and were beginning to firm up in response to supply and demand in a relatively free market," Byrnes said.

Torgerson explained that cheddar cheese production is on the upswing. January production was 9 per cent below a year ago, but the February figure was down only 6 per cent. By mid-March, Torgerson noted, the gap had been narrowed to 2 per cent.

"By the end of March, production had caught up with last year, and last year we had a record production," he said.

In terms of actual sales, imports are relatively nominal. Cheddar and cheddar type production in the United States last year was approximately 1.2 billion pounds. But relatively small mounts of imports do affect market quotations, industry spokesmen contend.

"It is also a big threat for future import increases of cheese and other milk products," a spokesman for the Pure Milk Products Cooperative, Fond du Lac, declared.

Grades Can be Kept From Draft Board

MADISON (AP) — Draft officials can't look at a University of Wisconsin student's grades if he doesn't want them to.

A UW official said Monday that the records won't be shown to draft officials unless the student signs a permit to make them available.

"This is in keeping with a general policy on confidential records which was decided upon a year ago," said the dean of student affairs, Miss Martha Peterson.

Selective service officials have announced plans to use student's standing in their classes to determine whether they should receive scholastic deferments.

For instance, a freshman in the lower half of his class could be classified 1-A and be subject to the draft immediately.

However, a draft official in Milwaukee said students would not profit from shielding their grades.

The official said the burden was on the student to demonstrate that he qualified for the deferment. To do so, he needs to make his records available, the spokesman said.
